

Per Capita Debt Lower By About $3

City Issues Fewer New Bonds Than Ones Paid Off

Announcement was made this week of a further reduction in the net per capita debt of the city of at least three dollars this year, by Comptroller of Accounts Daniel A. White. This year the city has retired $640,000 in bonds while issuing but $420,000 in new funds of this type. At the end of 1941 the total net debt of the city was $5,791,000 and with a reduction of about $220,000 now stands at $5,571,000.

The per capita debt in 1939 was $94.44 and last year it dropped to $82.87. On the basis of present figures the net per capita debt is now a little more than $79, the lowest since 1925.

The current per capita debt is based upon the 1940 census figures of $69,873 persons while that in 1935 was based upon a population figure of 53,003 with a total net debt of $3,779,915.49. The per capita debt for that year was $71.31.

It is pointed out that the reduction of $11 in the per capita net debt in 1939 may have been partly due to an underestimate of the population prior to the U. S. decennial census. The continual reduction in the net debt of the city is due to the policy of the city government in refraining from large undertakings which entail large bond issues.

Umina Promoted To Police Force

John Umina, 35, of 46 James st., West Newton, was appointed a regular member of the Newton police department last Saturday by Chief Michael T. Hughes. Umina, a reserve officer since April 8th of this year, fills the vacancy caused by the resignation a month ago of Daniel Keating. He has been assigned to perform night relief duty.

Patrolman Umina is married and the father of four children. Until his appointment as a reserve officer he was employed as a landscape gardener. He went on duty as a reserve officer early in the summer when members of the reserve force were assigned to places of regular members on vacation.

The police department is awaiting results of the July 1st examination taken by 22 members of the regular force for promotion to the rank of sergeant. Two sergeants are to be appointed in accordance with authority granted by the Board of Aldermen when the day off in six plan was adopted.

School Committee To Consider Report of Teachers' Committee Which Made Survey And Analysis

Superintendent Warren's Report Covers Many Other Subjects

The adoption of a revised salary schedule for Newton teachers will be sought in the future according to an announcement last week by Superintendent of Schools Julius E. Warren in his annual report to the School Committee. The proposed revision is contained in a report of a committee of the Newton Teachers' Federation which made a detailed study of the subject during the past year and which report "will receive further consideration by the School Committee in the fall of 1941."

The teachers' committee, elected from the membership of the Teachers' Federation, held twenty-one meetings. In May the committee met in joint session with the School Committee to present and discuss their preliminary report, which includes a definite proposal for the revised salary schedule.

The teachers' committee considered various factors, collected and analyzed data in respect to (1) cost of living of Newton teachers; (2) teacher salary rate in comparable and competing communities; (3) comparative wage rates in other occupations; (4) the professional training status of Newton teachers; and (5) facts relating to school support in Newton and other communities.

Superintendent Warren in his report with reference to the salary study stated that on March 25, 1940, the school committee requested the Newton Teachers' Federation to elect a committee to make the detailed study. The participation of Newton in the national three-year study of the Teacher-Education Commission for the Improvement of Teaching presented an opportunity for Newton to seek the aid of the Commission in securing a nationally recognized expert in the field of school personnel problems. Accordingly the Commission assigned Dr. Willard S. Ellsbree, Professor of Education at Columbia University, as consultant. On April 23, 1940, the Teachers' Federation elected the committee to make the study.

The committee report, which has not been made public, is the result of the deliberations of the committee and the consultant during the past year.

Standardized Budget

In his report to the School Committee the Newton Superintendent stated that "for the first time the budget for the school year 1941 was prepared according to standard school budget classifications, with the School Committee acting as a 'finance committee of the whole' in the preparation of this basic document. The standard budget form is characterized as constituting a 'major improvement' (Continued on Page 6)

Gas Sales Are Normal Despite Ban

Some Stations Report Larger Sales

As was experienced in almost every other community of New England last Sunday evening when the seven o'clock closing order for gasoline stations became effective Newton dealers reported a busy week end, prior to the ban. In general the usual entire Sunday business was performed prior to the closing down of the stations. Those who had occasion to remain open at night for repair and other purposes reported numerous interesting experiences.

William Bolick, night man at Peck's Station at 361 Washington st., Newton, was compelled to refuse sale of gasoline to a car containing soldiers from Camp Edwards. When the soldier-driver appeared in the name of "National Defense" the station attendant replied that "it is for the sake of national defense that we are closing at 7 o'clock." It has not been learned whether the soldiers got back to Camp Sunday night or not. Bolick stated that he refused about a dozen drivers.

Dana B. Clark of Newtonville reported more than normal sale during the day, prior to the closing hour. Edward Vedecio of Watertown st., Nonantum, reported about a normal day.

Henry Dath of 1545 Washington st., West Newton, found his business cut in half and expressed the belief that the early closing time would have the desired effect in conserving gas consumption. He stated that all gas station owners favored the early closing.

Newton Youth Zamzam Survivor Returns To N. Y.

John J. Ryan, one of two Massachusetts men survivors of the steamer Zamzam which was sunk last April 17th arrived in New York last Thursday night on the transport USS West Point. Ryan was one of 19 American ambulance drivers who were on the ill-fated steamer. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Ryan of 133 Oakleigh rd. His father, a Boston newspaper columnist, went to New York to meet him.

The ambulance drivers were among 388 passengers, most of whom were diplomatic or consular representatives and employees ousted from Germany, Italy, and other axis-controlled countries. The other Massachusetts survivor was William A. Davidson of Worcester. Ryan interrupted his college career to enlist in the ambulance service the unit of which was bound for Africa when sunk.

Chief Hughes On Annual Vacation

Chief Michael T. Hughes of the Newton Police Department is on a vacation in York, Maine where he will spend two weeks. On his return he will attend the annual convention of the International Police Chiefs Association in Buffalo, N. Y. Captain Nicholas Vedecio will serve as acting chief during Chief Hughes' absence.

Sergeant-Mechanic Bartlett Cullen began his first regular two weeks vacation since 1938 this week. Cullen was reinstated in May after a long court fight that followed the attempted abolition of his job by the Newton Board of Aldermen in 1939.

Hoodlums Set Two Alarm Fire In West Newton

The work of hoodlums is believed to be responsible for a $5000 fire which damaged a two-story building at 15 Spencer st., West Newton on Tuesday afternoon. Five separate fires were discovered by firemen responding to an alarm at 4:05 and evidence that kerosene had been poured over rubbish to set the blazes. The State Fire Marshal's office is conducting an investigation.

The building, located in the rear of the West Newton Theatre is a two-story cement structure, owned by Edward F. O'Brien, a Worcester attorney. Persons attending a performance in the theatre were unaware of the excitement until after the show.

The firemen were occupied at the scene for more than an hour before the all out was sounded at 5:48. Following the telephoned alarm a few minutes after four an alarm from Box 31 was sounded. Engines 2, 4, 5 and 8, and Ladders 1 and 3 responded.

Aluminum Fills Five Large Trucks

The "parade of pots and pans" was the spectacle witnessed by Newton residents last week Thursday afternoon when a procession of five huge trucks left the city yards at Crafts st. for South Boston. The trucks were carrying Newton's contribution to the nation-wide aluminum drive which went over the top under the leadership of State Director Lee Witney. Newton's drive, which exceeded the local quota, was in charge of John M. Bierer, chairman of the Defense Committee of the Newton Public Safety Committee, and thirteen local village chairmen.

Total metal collected in the city weighed nearly seven tons. The exact weight was 13,805 pounds of aluminum. The loads were weighed before departing for the concentration point in the Storey Building at 3432 Farnsworth st., South Boston. The work of loading and unloading the trucks was carried on under the direction of Albert J. Stuart, traffic foreman of the Street Department. The trucks left in the afternoon but were forced to wait in line to unload at the warehouse and it was midnight before the men returned home.

Although the local drive was held on Thursday, July 24th contributions continued to pour into the Crafts st. yard. More than 400 volunteer workers took part in the house-to-house collection of the articles and about 100 cars were used, in addition to street department trucks. It was reported that with prohibition only a memory that several hip flasks had been contributed. Other odd contributions in the local collection were outboard motors and washing machines.

Attempt Made To Fire School

An apparent attempt to set fire to the Levi Warren Junior High school at West Newton was discovered last Friday when fire was discovered in a mailbox in the school. Letters in the mailbox were destroyed and the door badly damaged by the flames but the fire burned itself out without spreading. The fire occurred at the north entrance to the building.

Firemen were called out Saturday morning to extinguish a blaze in the cellar of the house owned by Jacob Pudis at 28 Algonquin rd., Chestnut Hill. The blaze was caused by an oil burner.

Two Sets Of Twins In July At Newton Hospital

The "double duty" stork has been kept busy in Newton during the month of July with the arrival at the Newton Hospital of a second set of twins. On July 28th twin girls were born to Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Pease who reside at 436 Parker st., Newton Centre. On July 18th the arrival of twins was the rejoicing event for Mr. and Mrs. John Bossert of 67 Ripley st., Newton Centre, a son and a daughter.

To Provide Blackout Handbooks

ARP Wardens To Make Survey Of Homes

Every Newton home will be provided with a copy of the "blackout handbook" in the near future according to plans of the local ARP School which held its final meeting of the course at the Newton High School auditorium last Monday evening. The classes in first aid which have been held in the various village school buildings end next Wednesday night. Graduation ceremonies of the local ARP School to be held next Monday evening at the Dickinson stadium, Newtonville, have been postponed.

District air raid wardens are instructed to deliver the handbooks to every house in the area of the district and to make a later visit, after opportunity has been given to study the manual, and make a co-operative survey of each home.

A lecture on blackouts was given Monday evening by Neil W. Rice, chairman of the Committee on Blackouts of the Protection Division of the Mass. Committee on Public Safety. Approximately 1000 city air wardens have been attending the course.

Mr. Neil defined the term blackout as a permanent condition under which normal outside lighting is shielded or eliminated and inside lights are obscured so that military objectives are difficult for enemy pilots to locate. He said it was a purely military measure rather than civilian defense. He continued, "During blackouts, vital activities must go on, others must stop, irrespective of cost or inconvenience. There must be restriction on the use of automobiles, slowing of trains and traffic, discontinuance of after-dark public gatherings. Such sacrifices are a military necessity as well as a public safeguard."

Blackout Safeguards

He stated that military authorities would impose blackouts when certain areas are affected upon the establishment by the enemy of bases close enough for effective (Continued on Page 6)

Alderman Lee Called Into Active Service

Major In Reserve Corps Goes To Fort Williams

The resignation of Alderman Richard H. Lee is forecast in the near future as the result of Presidential orders last week under which the Ward 1 alderman was called into active service of his country for a term of at least a year. Alderman Lee who has been a Major in the U. S. Reserve Corps of the Coast Artillery for a number of years, and was first ordered to Fort Williams, Maine, and transferred immediately to Ft. McKinley at Casco Bay.

Lee, a resident of Newton for the past eight years, entered the Maine National Guard service shortly after the first World War during which he was too young to see service. About fifteen years ago he joined the Reserve Corps and has served terms of duty which have resulted in his promotion to the rank of Major. He was elected to the Newton Board of Aldermen three years ago and is completing his second term of office during the current year.

Two other Newton men were called to active service last week among the group of reserve officers which were assigned to duty in the First Corps Area. Major William J. Reid of 603 California st., Newtonville, has been assigned to headquarters and Second Lieutenant George E. Duane of 216 River st., West Newton, was ordered to report to Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

Second Lieutenant Francis C. Donovan, Jr., of 67 Washington st., was ordered to extended active duty and has been assigned to Fort Bragg, North Carolina. Earl Davis Green of 29 Commonwealth ave., Chestnut Hill, has been ordered to extended duty at Fort Devens.

Newton Public Safety Committee Reports Thousands Are Available If Emergency Arises—5,000 Unable

To Demonstrate Incendiary Bombs

In connection with the "graduation" exercises of the Newton Air Raid Precaution School to be held at the Dickinson stadium in Newtonville it is announced that a demonstration of incendiary bombs will be given. The exercises were originally scheduled to be held on August 11th but have been postponed to Sept. 29th in order that the bombs may be available. After the bombs are ignited, instructors will demonstrate the most effective methods of extinguishing them.

Nearly 500 Nurses Names Are Listed

More than 20,000 Newton residents are willing to serve in whatever capacity may be deemed best suited to their talents in case of war invasion or other emergency, according to announcement of the Newton Public Safety Committee. The number of available workers was the result of the recent survey and distribution of questionnaires undertaken by the women's division of the local safety group. Plans for the organization of police and fire auxiliary departments for emergency service were also announced at a meeting of the Public Safety Committee which was held on Tuesday night at the Brae Burn Country Club.

State Rep. Douglass B. Francis, chairman of the subcommittee on police and fire auxiliaries, reported that members of these groups have been selected and will start training in the fall. The auxiliary forces will be subordinate to the police and fire chiefs.

Mrs. Paul M. Goddard, chairman of the women's division, reported the statistics on the questionnaires. Persons unable to serve because of incapacity numbered 5,000. Mrs. Goddard also stated that 450 nurses were available to serve in emergency and their names are on file at the Newton Hospital. A list of voluntary firemen has also been compiled.

The Public Safety Committee was addressed by Mayor Paul M. Goddard and Gen. Daniel A. Needham, chairman of the State Committee on Defense Provisions. The latter expressed satisfaction at the progress and co-operation being shown in Newton.

Per Pupil Cost Of Schools Is Lower Than 1939

A reduction of 72 cents in the per pupil cost of operating the Newton public schools was noted in the statistical tables accompanying the annual report of Superintendent of Schools Julius E. Warren. The per pupil cost reached a peak of $125.71 in 1939. The 1940 cost was $124.99. The tables also denote the amounts expended by the public buildings department for repairs and improvements to buildings and by the forestry and recreation departments for maintenance, and by the Board of Health for services, bringing the 1940 per pupil cost to $133.98, an increase of 85 cents.

Soldier Rescued From Drowning By W. Newton Youth

A near fatal tragedy occurred shortly before midnight Saturday when a canoe-tipover in the Charles River, near Islington rd., Auburndale, spilled a Fort Devens private and his two companions into the river. Private Frederick Kelly, 22, of Belmont, unable to swim was rescued by 17-year-old Charles Shirelli of 9 Cottage place, West Newton. The latter, hearing Kelly's cries for help, dove in, was pulled under by the struggling man but succeeded in keeping him afloat until picked up by a Norumbega Park swan boat.

In the meantime Kelly's companions, two other Belmont youths, Charles Linnehan, 18, and Edward Long, 19, who had been clinging to the overturned canoe were pulled into Shirelli's canoe by his companions, Leo McNeil, 17, of Pine st., West Newton; Irene Linke, 16, of Winter st., and Catherine Flynn of New London, Conn.

Metropolitan police of the Riverside station were notified by Lawrence E. Reichle of Islington rd. and a police boat transferred the victims to the station where they dried their clothing.

TELEPHONE COMPANIES IN

We call ourselves the New England Telephone Company. But there are 129 other telephone companies in the same territory. These other companies serve communities ranging from tiny hamlets to sizable towns. All are "telephone people," devoted to a common purpose—the best possible service for the lowest possible cost.

About twice a year representatives of these telephone companies in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Vermont, New Hampshire, and Maine get together for shop talk about new methods, new telephone techniques and apparatus... and afterwards a little sociability—town-meeting fashion.

Traveling or telephoning around New England, you'll find telephone people everywhere anxious to serve you. That's the way telephone people are.

At Upper Falls Playground "Boys Town" Plan

At the beginning of the playground season the boys and girls of the Upper Falls playground expressed a desire to have their playground operate along the same lines as the famous "Boys Town."

After a period of group discussion and observation, Louis Tarabelli was duly elected mayor, to be assisted by a secretary, Alyce Mahoney, who will act as mayor in his absence.

Both newly elected mayor and secretary and the instructors acting in an advisory capacity, decided that the following departments would be instituted:

Junior Police Department. This department will act in the following instances: (a) Children climbing trees on grounds. (b) Putting water in the sandbox. (c) See to proper use of the sandbox. (d) Children standing on the swings. (e) Proper conduct in swimming. (f) Settle disputes and mete out punishment, if necessary. (g) Bicycle riding on grounds.

Treasury Department: (a) To collect money for girl's handwork and for boy's woodwork. (b) To collect for any other activity which requires the handling of funds.

Maintenance and Equipment Department: (a) Keeping the grounds neat—pick up papers. (b) Proper use of equipment. (c) Proper use of tennis courts.

Safety Department: (a) Safe handling of all equipment, i. e., throwing of bat. (b) Keep children away from players' benches during baseball games. (c) See that youngsters go down the slide the right way.

The following children will represent these departments: Police Department—Walter Babbitt, Mildred Hurd, Jack Kerrigan, Anna Garofola, Peter Szylkonis, Dorothy Schiavone, Steven Gustowski.

Treasury Department—Lois Cedergren and Peter Szylkonis.

Equipment and Maintenance—Francis Manning, Ronald Murphy, Joseph Tarabelli, Katherine Covino, Carl Tarabelli.

Safety Department—Anna De Michele and Josephine Szylkonis.

Numerous Thefts Are Reported To Police

add Thief Steals SHRUBS ... Shrubbery and clippers were the objects of loot taken by thieves in Newton Centre and Newtonville last Friday night. George D. Hall of 106 Brookline st., Newton Centre, reported to police that sometime during the night hours someone had removed 32 shrubs growing in front of his house, while he slept. The shrubbery was carefully handled by the invader.

William Scott of 507 Lowell ave., Newtonville, reported to the police Saturday morning that someone had removed a pair of hedge clippers from his garage.

The first case of a trailer theft in Newton was reported to Newton police Saturday. Mrs. Charles Kurkjian of 18 Webster st., West Newton, complained that window screens were broken and the door lock picked on the trailer parked in her back yard.

H. L. Palmer of East Milton reported to police Saturday that while his car was parked in the parking area at Norumbega Park the front bumper of his machine was stolen.

Two bank books, a driver's license and a compact were the loot acquired by thieves who broke into a locked automobile near Norumbega Park last week Wednesday. Entrance was gained by breaking a window. The car and stolen articles were the property of Barbara Wood of Canton.

Some time while his car was parked in his yard at 1113 Washington st., West Newton, last week car thieves removed two hub caps from a machine owned by John Brady of that address.

Public Hearings On Zone Petitions

The claims and rules committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen will hold public hearings on various petitions for re-zoning of land and for variance of the requirements of the city ordinance governing the sizes of building lots on September 10th.

Among petitions to be heard is that of Henley H. Brown to make it possible to erect seven single dwellings at Franklin st. and Waverley ave. The location is that where it was recently sought to establish a private school for boys. The large brick residence was built about 30 years ago by the late Loren D. Towle and was magnificently fitted with expensive hardware and other similar accessories. The petition for the use of the building was rejected on the grounds of additional traffic hazards at a dangerous intersection.

The land is located in the single residence A district where the ordinance requires building lots to be at least 15,000 square feet in area and 100 feet in width.

A similar petition has been filed by Arnold Hartmann as trustee of the Oak Hill Trust, covering land on Meadowbrook rd., Oak Hill, seeking to subdivide an area into six house lots. The petition calls for a variance from the requirement of at least 10,000 square feet of land area and 80 feet width of each lot because the land is located in Single Residence B district. A hearing on this petition will be held on September 10.

Youths Testify In Illegal Sale Of Liquor Case

Two Waban youths were witnesses against a Boston cafe at a hearing before the Boston Licensing Board last week on charges that the establishment had sold liquor to minors. The local youths, in company with a third boy from Waban, said that they drove into Boston in quest of "excitement" on the night of July 12th. They became involved in an automobile accident after drinking "two or three" glasses of beer in a West end cafe and making a pick-up acquaintance with an 18-year-old Brookline girl.

The youths, aged 18 and 19, and the Brookline girl, were called by the board to testify at a hearing on a police complaint against the New Ritz Restaurant at 9 Bowdoin st., West End, alleging the sale of intoxicating drink to minors. The Brookline girl, who was present with her mother, collapsed during the hearing and was revived in the office of Miss Mary Driscoll, chairman of the Licensing Board. The Board reserved its decision following the hearing.

Camp Day News

Final Change of Camp Wednesday

Fifty boys left Camp Day on last Wednesday, and the same number replaced them as the camp observed its third and final change for the camping season. A farewell picture was given the boys who were leaving for home at the Assembly Hall on Tuesday night. Director C. Evan Johnson addressed the boys in a message which extolled the benefits brought the camp by the boys and the hope that they were returning home better off for their stay in Camp Day.

Senior boys who entered camp on Wednesday are: Dwight Carter, Needham; Richard Hartman, Newton; Carl Jones, Watertown; Merrill Nutting, Newton Centre; Travis Nutting, Newton Centre; Charles Reed, Reading; David Rundlett, Watertown; George Schweitzer, Watertown; Nelson Silk, Newton Centre; Douglas Smith, Summit, New Jersey; Roy Stewart, Brighton.

The Junior Camp welcomed for the first time this season: Norman Butta, Newton Highlands; Ronald Butta, Newton Highlands; Roger Burnham, Wellesley; William Carter, Needham; James Chandler, West Newton; Kent Collins, Newtonville; David Corliss, Needham; John Dirlam, Southbridge; Robert Gaynor, Melrose; Richard Gebhardt, Newtonville; Charles McNutt, Newton Centre; George Nash, Shrewsbury; John Nash, Weston; William Nichols, Weston; Robert Norcross, Waban; William Ottey, Framingham; M. Caldwell Perkins, Malden; John Pfeiffer, Auburndale; Theodore LeVan, Belmont; Richard Reed, Reading; Richard Rundlett, Watertown; Ronald Simpson, Bridgeport, Conn.; Richard Smith, Summit, New Jersey; Irving Stewart, Brighton; Marshall Murray, Wellesley; Rodney Reed, Waban.

The seventeen members of the Midget Camp who complete the enrollment of that camp are: James Ashworth, Charlton City; Harry Ballard, Auburndale; Thomas Burnham, Wellesley; David Calder, Lexington; Robert Drew, Newtonville; Charles Howell, Weston; Philip Plaisted, Wellesley; Edward White, Wellesley; Peter Shoup, Framingham; Robert Bergstrom, West Brookfield; Charles Johnson, Stoneham; James Rumrill, West Roxbury; Richard Hartman, Newton; William Wilson, Newton; and Richard Gifford, Newton Centre.

Heavy Entries Mark Second Swim Meet

The largest number of entries in any meet of the season made the second swim meet of the fast-dwindling Camp Day year an unqualified success. The weakening Red Sox of the Senior League left an easy prey to the well-balanced Yankees, even though Red Socker Ross Humphrey garnered the greatest number of individual points by winning the dash, distance swim and the dives.

The Junior Camp saw a tightly contested meet which ended with the Dodgers tied for first place with the Reds, so displacing the third-place Giants who had captured the first swim meet of the season held three weeks ago. The Midgets of the Midget Camp overwhelmed the Bears when Charles Donelan of the former team gained more points than the entire total of the losers.

Summary:
Senior Camp:
25-yard dash—1, Humphrey; 2, G. Tibolt; 3, Gleason.
50-yard dash—1, G. Tibolt; 2, Axelrod; 3, Malton.
Backstroke—1, Clark; 2, Malton; 3, Gleason.
Breaststroke—1, Hansen; 2, Bellefontaine; 3, Grant.
Distance Swim—1, Humphrey; 2, Grant; 3, Cashion.
Underwater Swim—1, Bellefontaine; 2, James; 3, Bronsdon.
Dives—1, Humphrey; 2, Cashion.
Junior Camp:
25-yard dash—1, Whitmore; 2, Kepner; 3, Turner.
Backstroke—1, Mordecai; 2, Feinberg; 3, Kepner.
Breaststroke—1, Chaffer; 2, Burns; 3, L. DiGregorio.
Distance Swim—1, Whitmore; 2, Furman; 3, Turner.
Underwater Swim—1, Seaver; 2, R. Cashion; 3, Cummings.
Dives—1, R. Cashion; 2, Rizzo; 3, Feinberg.

Midget Camp:
25-yard dash—1, Lipkin; 2, Donelan; 3, Karb.
Distance Swim—1, Abbot; 2, Feldman; 3, Lipkin.
Plunge—1, Bickford; 2, Donelan; 3, MacGillivray.
Dives—1, Donelan; 2, Lipkin; 3, Alcaide.
Outings for Campers Continue
Trips beyond the camp confines continue to thrill those who are fortunate enough to have passed the required tests for such trips. On Monday and Tuesday of the current week six tents led by their respective counselors canoe-hiked to Quabog, and remained overnight on campsites provided by friendly neighbors. The short trip to the next lake was not as tiring as earlier trips to distant Wickaboag, and the boys expressed themselves as anxious for the shorter trip.

Counselor Ed Parsons led his group from Tent Three consisting of James Hurst, Bob Owens, Anthony James, Neil Nix, Russell Cox and Ralph DiGregorio to a well-chosen spot on Pine Knoll. Other counselors who were leaders in favorable sections of Quabog were Bill Bucklin, Bob Black, Dave Clare, Bill Lucht and Gene Phenner.

The following boys were in the group which augmented Tent Three: Robert Carr, Robert Miller, Bob Connelly, Don Cashion, Ed Walton, George Grant, Dick Farnum, Rolfe Hayes, Pete Cummings, Russell Tupper, John Gerardi, Bill Powers, Lincoln Good, Ted Leonard, Godfrey Chaffer, Richard Whitcomb, Larry MacFaden, Doug Watson, Ray Huden, Dick Fraser, Larry Lynn, Gerry Groden, Arthur Dudley, Gerry Reed, Dave Seaver and James Butler.

Circus Proves Success

As the circus parade wound its way to the ball field from the main campus of Camp Day Saturday, July 26th, it was clearly evident from the campers' enthusiasm that the event would be a success. Led by the flag of the United States over one hundred participants dressed in novel costumes rendered their accompaniment in noisy manner to the blaring of the music of the camp band. From Ring Master Max Kraus who was first in line to the last acrobat in line it was a joyous throng.

One hundred and fifty guests were at the field to greet the parade and watch the various acts in the main ring. The Chamber of Horrors and the Side Show were the objects of the guests' visits before the Main Show had started, and the boys who directed that part of the circus were jubilant at the large number of tickets sold in their desire to be the return of the day.

The Midway was composed of all types of games to draw money from the unwary onlooker. Ring-toss games, penny-pitch, darts, throwing, several kinds of ball-tossing games contributed their share to the sum total of the day. The following games gained the highest awards of the day: baseball throw at dolls, presided over by James and William Burns and Bob Keith of the Ranger division; Dart game of Dick Simmons, Gene Groden, Dave Ellis, and John Coville of Tent Four; and in third place was Doug Burns and Bobby Ostreicher with another baseball throw game.

In the evening a moving picture with a circus tang, "Under the Big Top," was a big treat for the boys. Thursday night is the usual night of movies, so this was an extra treat. A Mickey Maguire short accompanied the main feature, and a swimming sequence completed the show. Complete announcement of the financial results of the circus place it in one of the best of circus days. Over one hundred dollars was the sum taken in, and the net profit although small, was enough to promise a real treat for the near future.

Thunderstorm Strikes Camp

The most terrific thunderstorm within the memory of the oldest camper to ever hit Camp Day struck on Friday, July 25, just as the last of the campers had answered the call of "Taps." Forked lightning and rumbling thunder combined to frighten even the most hardened of campers while the heavy downpour made the tents reverberate as though from the beat of drums.

One counselor was burned on the thumb as an electricity-laden draft entered an open window in one of the Midget cabins, and although knocked to the floor, he was without serious injury after examination by the camp doctor. The only other happening in the immediate camp occurred when a tree beside the lake was struck by a bolt, and the bark on one side was sheered off.

The entire staff was on duty in their respective tents, and late into the night the members of the camp staff were checking for any further damage within the grounds. A wire snapped on the road leading to the camp, but was soon repaired by representatives of the electric company. The remarkable morale of the boys prevented any danger of hysteria.

Rangers to Visit Treasure Valley Camp

In line with a policy of granting to the older boys a change from camp routine, Director Johnson made arrangements with the directors of the Worcester County Boy Scout Camp "Treasure Valley" to allow the Ranger division of Camp Day to tent on the property of Treasure Valley for three days this week.

Located in Paxton, about 20 miles from Camp Day, this Boy Scout camp possesses about 800 acres and is ideal for camping. There is a well-supervised beach for swimming, and many pleasant spots for cook-outs. Athletic competition between two teams of Camp Day and Treasure Valley was planned for recreation. The older tents of the Senior division will follow the same procedure next week.

Future Events

On Wednesday the final change of camp for the season took place. Fifty-four boys left camp and an equal number replaced them. Several of those boys scheduled to go home will remain for the final three weeks' period, because of the number of exciting events which occur in that stretch.

Events which are scheduled are: Final Track Meet—Saturday, August 16th.

Final Canoe Regatta—Sunday, August 17th.

Treasure Hunt—Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, August 19th through 21st.

Final Swim Meet—Saturday, August 23rd.

Minstrel Show—Saturday night, August 23rd.

Farwell Banquet—Monday, August 25th.

Closing of Camp—Wednesday, August 27th.

Director C. Evan Johnson announced on Thursday last the receipt of twenty-five dollars from Frank A. Day, president of the Newton Y. M. C. A., to be used for a camp birthday celebration. This is an annual custom on the part of Mr. Day.

Another baseball game was played on last night against the Brookfield Town team, and this time Camp Day turned the tables in a tightly contested game played on the former's ball field. Almost the entire camp was present to cheer the Camp Day team to its 8 to 7 victory.

Day Notes

Brookfield Town baseball team edged the Camp Day nine in a game played on the Brookfield diamond last Tuesday afternoon by a score of 6-5. Bill Hansen, Carl Needy, Ross Humphrey, Gil Tibolt and Counselors Don Chalmers and Dick Karb were featured for Day with Dwight Moody tripling in the last inning to almost catch Brookfield.

All campers are looking forward to the final canoe regatta to be held on Sunday, August 17th. The event is to be combined with a "Back to Day" celebration. Letters to parents will be sent out by the boys in the coming Sunday's mail giving details of the plans. The next issue of this paper will carry all information for those who have no boys at the camp this year, but who would like to be present for the day.

Professor Daye has inaugurated the popular evening star-gazing classes which meet on the baseball field. Powerful glasses and telescope combine to aid the class in searching out the many constellations and planets which always seem nearer when observed from the camp grounds. Lectures by Professor Daye and stories by Mr. Fleischer make the class educational and entertaining.

Smoke of Burning Chair Saves Family

Smoke from a fire that started in an upholstered chair in the living room of the home of Norman W. Davidson of 40 Columbus st., Newton Highlands, roused the occupants of the household early last Thursday morning. The blaze was discovered by Mrs. Davidson shortly before two o'clock. Waking other members of the family, the cushions of the burning chair were thrown into the bathtub and the fire was practically out when firemen from Engines 3 and 7 and Ladder 2 responded to an alarm at 1:51 a. m.

A fire in a rubbish barrel in the rear of the Dell Pharmacy on Washington st., Newton Centre, was extinguished by firemen of Engines 4 and 8 and Ladder 3 early the same morning.

Engine 1 was called to fight a brush fire at 2:07 a. m. Thursday morning on land at 885 Centre st., Newton, owned by Bertha L. Vaughan.

Governor Appoints Recreation Delegates

Governor Leverett Saltonstall this week named a large group of prominent Massachusetts citizens to be delegates to represent the Commonwealth at the 26th annual national recreation congress in Baltimore from Sept. 29th to Oct. 3. Among those appointed are Louis Fabian Bachrach of Temple st., West Newton and James E. Belcher of George st., Newton.

Discovers Fire On Return From Visit

Fire was discovered in her home by Mrs. Richard D. Kellegrew of 165 Woodcliff rd., Newton Highlands, late last Thursday afternoon as she was returning from a visit to a neighbor. Her husband and two children were in the home unaware of the blaze. Mrs. Kellegrew saw smoke issuing from a second-story window and hastened into the house to warn her husband who telephoned the fire department.

Engines 3 and 7 and Ladder 2 responded to the alarm at 5:08 p. m. The fire was found to have started in a closet in the children's room on the second floor. The children, aged seven and four, were in another room when the fire was discovered. Flames destroyed clothes and toys and damaged furniture but was confined to the room in which it started by the firemen.

Village Hall Players In "The Vinegar Tree"

The Village Hall Players in Framingham Centre are presenting for their eighth week the hilarious comedy, "The Vinegar Tree," the play in which Mary Boland made such a hit on Broadway. The play will open on Tuesday night, August 12th and will continue through Saturday night, August 16th.

It is the story of a rather scatter-brained woman who, when she hears that a rather famous artist is coming to visit them tells her family that he was her fiancé years before she married her present husband. In her usual way she confuses everything and calls him a famous musician. In the midst of her excitement her college age daughter arrives with the announcement that she has broken her engagement, and a minute later in walks her mother's sister, who unknown to the rest of the family, is really going to marry the artist. As might be expected confusion reigns but all ends well. It is a charming comedy guaranteed to provide a fun-filled evening.

Featured in the cast are Alan Downer, William Thayer, Florence Walsh and Harriet Bruce. The Playhouse is located just off the Worcester turnpike in Framingham Centre.

KENT—WILSON

Miss Joan Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wilson of Auburndale, was married last Saturday evening at eight o'clock to Mr. Edmund Hamilton Kent, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond W. Kent of Newton Highlands. The candlelight ceremony, attended only by relatives and close friends, was performed by the Rev. Ralph H. Rogers at the home of the bride's parents and a reception followed.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional ivory satin gown fashioned with a fitted bodice, long sleeves and a deep bertha of heirloom duchesse and rose point lace. Her three-quarter length veil was caught to a coronet of matching lace and she carried a bouquet of gardenias and white roses. Her only attendants were her twin sisters, the Misses Patricia and Nancy Wilson, who wore shell pink chiffon full-skirted gowns with long sleeves and carried arm bouquets of pink and blue garden flowers.

William A. Camp, Jr., of Laconia, N. H., was best man for Mr. Kent and the ushers were Raymond Wilson, Jr., brother of the bride, and Arnold C. Gay of Auburndale.

Mrs. Kent is a graduate of the Hickox Secretarial School. Mr. Kent graduated from Rhode Island State College in 1938 and is a member of Theta Chi. Mr. Kent and his bride will live in Braintree.

Two Newton Men Elected In Nat. Ass'n of Accountants

John W. Scarr, President of the Boston Chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants, has announced the election of Norman H. S. Vincent, of 489 Walnut st., Newtonville, as vice-president, and of Paul F. Swan-tee, of 16 Winnetaska rd., Waban, as Director of Membership for the coming year.

Mr. Vincent is a certified public accountant and a partner in the firm of Robert Douglas & Company. He graduated from the Manchester, New Hampshire, High School and holds a B.B.A. degree from the College of Business Administration of Boston University. During World War I he served in France and Belgium with the 75th Overseas Battalion of the Canadian Expeditionary Force.

An active member of the Boston Chapter of N. A. C. A. since 1925, Mr. Vincent held the offices of Secretary, Treasurer, Director of Membership and Director of Employment in former years. He is a member of the American Institute of Accountants, a Fellow of the Massachusetts Society of Certified Public Accountants, and a member of Alpha Kappa Psi, professional fraternity in commerce. He is also a member of Good Samaritan Lodge, A. F. & A. M.

Mr. Swantee is resident manager of the Boston office of Arthur Andersen & Company. Following his graduation in 1920 from the Bentley School of Accounting and Finance, he studied law for two years at Northeastern Law School. He commenced his public accounting career with Storer and Bishop and later joined the staff of Price, Waterhouse & Co., in Boston. Mr. Swantee has been associated with the firm of Arthur Andersen & Co., since 1925, with the exception of two years from 1930 to 1932, when he was treasurer of National Union Radio Corp. of New York. Before returning to Boston in 1939, he was resident manager of the Andersen company's Kansas City office.

Entire Keller Family In Active Service

H. Russell Keller, Jr., son of Lt. Commander and Mrs. Harold R. Keller of Newton last week Tuesday received his gold wings at the Miami, Florida, Air Station making him an ensign in the United States Naval Air Force. Ensign Keller graduated from Noble & Greenough and Williams College in 1939 where he was Varsity Hockey goalie and All-New England Lacrosse goalie two years in succession. He took his preliminary flight training at Squantum, six months at Jacksonville Air Station, and six weeks in "bombers" and "fighters" in Miami. Keller has already received orders to report to the Air-Craft Carrier "Ranger." His brother, J. Wilbur Keller, is a lead gun Air-craftsman, training in Canada with the Royal Air Force and his father is now stationed at the Boston Navy Yard in Charlestown. Mrs. Keller is also doing her share "for the duration" by serving as chairman of all Newton Activities for the Newton British War Relief Society, and assisting in the Blood Clinic at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital as a Red Cross Gray Lady Volunteer Worker.

Auto Damages Pole In Waban—Driver Flees

An unknown motorist disappeared after his car struck an electric light pole on Pickwick rd., Waban, last week Wednesday night and police are seeking the driver as a hit-and-run operator. Mrs. Carl W. Johnson of 75 Pickwick rd., attracted by the crash which damaged the pole, described the machine as a large black sedan. She was unable to supply the registration number. The accident took place about 9:15 p. m.

Seek Removal Of Old Barn On Waverley Ave.

In an executive communication to the Board of Aldermen, Mayor Paul M. Goddard has recommended the adoption of an order adjudging the barn on the property at 183 Waverley ave. to be in a dangerous condition and ordering its repair or demolition. The Aldermen will hold a hearing on the matter on August 18th. Action was recommended by Public Buildings Commissioner Arthur Campbell after an investigation of the property.

Rotary Club

Roland Hall Sharpe, Ph.D., Latin American specialist of the Christian Science Monitor, was the speaker at the weekly meeting of the Newton Rotary Club held on Monday at the Brae Burn Country Club. He spoke on the topic "Our Latin American Neighbors," a subject in which Dr. Sharpe is well versed. He has made several trips to South America, the most recent being in March and April of this year. He believes that the South American situation as its effects this country is now about eighty-five per cent encouraging as against fifty per cent three months ago. The governments and peoples of those countries are at last beginning to recognize and deal with the menace of Nazi infiltration in their homelands.

A year ago at the Havana conference most of the South American countries held back on cooperating with the United States because they could not see how things were eventually going to end in Europe. They were necessarily cautious because their livelihood depends entirely on export trade and the largest part of this trade was with Europe. There were scattered groups, such as "Alerta Argentina," which recognized the dangers but were unable to arouse the politicians and the general public to action until very recently.

According to Dr. Sharpe all Nazi subversive activities in South America are part of carefully laid plans for world domination. The recent stirring up of border trouble between Peru and Bolivia was part of this program. Through governmental seizures in Bolivia and Argentina many details of this subversive program have been uncovered.

As regards the business situation the majority of South American products will always be exported to Europe because, for the most part, they raise the same products that the United States does, thereby preventing their sale here. For the same reason an isolated Western Hemisphere is not feasible. The task of making the United States known in South America is still a tremendous one but when South Americans do know us they like the people and the country.

The strategic value of South America to the United States is paramount. It would immeasurably increase our danger if a highly organized hostile force were located there. However Dr. Sharpe said, "The increasing boldness of South American governments in dealing with subversive Nazi activities undoubtedly indicates that the astute politicians there are convinced that Germany's chances of a final victory in Europe are remote." In conclusion the speaker felt that as long as South America is alert to the danger and will work with us, and that affairs in Europe go satisfactorily from our point of view, there will be no danger to us from that sector.

The speaker was introduced by Joseph Limric of the Program Committee and President Charles H. Meeker presided. President Meeker announced that the annual conference of this Rotary District will be held on Tuesday, August 12th, at the Wellesley Country Club. The Needham Club is acting as host for the conference and has arranged an exceptionally fine program for the all-day affair. Many Newton Rotarians are planning to attend.

Woman Beaten By Soldiers On Turnpike

A 30-year-old Worcester woman, Mrs. Anna Strand, was beaten and robbed by two soldiers on the Worcester turnpike near the Newton-Wellesley line last Saturday evening. The woman collapsed after staggering to the front door of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Vignoles at 1235 Boylston st., Newton Upper Falls and related her story. Sergeant Daniel Cleary and Patrolmen Nils Homstrand and John Umina were assigned to investigate the case.

The victim, severely bruised about the arms and legs and her left leg wrenched, pointed out the spot where the robbery occurred near the intersection of Route 128 with the turnpike in Wellesley. Metropolitan and Wellesley police were notified.

Mrs. Strand told the police she had left Duxbury in a car driven by a friend of her husband. The driver became "fresh," she left the car and a little later met the two soldiers and they engaged her in conversation. She said they assaulted her and when she struggled and cried for aid they seized her pocketbook, containing $4 and fled.

Her assailants were described, one as 23 years old, 5 feet seven inches, light complexion with brown hair, and the other 28 years old, 5 feet 8 inches, also light and with brown hair. The victim reached the Vignoles home about 6:40 p. m.

Three Newton Youths To Enter Wor. Tech Inst.

Three Newton youths are among those listed as candidates for admission to Worcester Polytechnic Institute next month. The institute will open on Sept. 22nd. Carl C. Clark of 144 Hancock st., Auburndale; Philip W. Kempf of 52 Kingswood rd., Auburndale, and Keith Uhlenhaut of 6 Ashmont rd., Waban, are the local students planning to attend.

ELSIE STILES MERRILL

Funeral services for Mrs. Elsie Stiles Merrill, wife of Richard Merrill of Medford, were held from the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Stiles of 50 Harvard st., Newtonville, on Friday, August 1st. She was born 30 years ago and before her marriage had resided in Newtonville. Mrs. Merrill, who was in her 31st year, died on July 30th at Rutland after a long illness.

Rev. Otis R. Heath, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist Church of Newton officiated at the services. Tributes to her courage and character in her illness from Rev. P. A. Killian, pastor of the Brighton ave. Baptist Church, of which she was a member, and from Rev. Newton A. Merritt, pastor emeritus of Immanuel Baptist Church, were read. Interment was in the family lot at Highland Cemetery, Newburyport.

Besides her husband and parents, she is survived by four sisters and a brother.

ISABEL S. HATCH

Miss Isabel S. Hatch of 230 Walnut st., Newtonville died on Sunday, August 3. Miss Hatch was born in Spencer, Mass., the daughter of George D. and Sophonia Hatch. She had lived in Newton about 22 years. Funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Gregg Chapel, 296 Walnut st., Newtonville. Rev. Irving R. Murray, pastor of Channing Church, Newton officiated. Burial was in Pine Grove Cemetery, Leicester. Miss Hatch is survived by one sister, Miss Ruth E. Hatch of Newtonville.

ment' in school administration in that it provides both the School Committee and the Board of Aldermen, which appropriates the money necessary, with adequate information upon which to base action; is descriptive of the function which the requested money is to serve; enables the appropriate body to deal with broader and more fundamental policies instead of minute items; increases the amount of supporting evidence; and facilitates careful expenditure and disbursement of funds by the School department.

Defense Training

Superintendent Warren outlines the school department's participation in the national defense training program stating:

During the past year the services and facilities of the Newton Trade School have undergone rapid expansion due to the defense activities of the Federal Government. From the standpoint of this community, a dual purpose is served by the establishment of courses under the National Defense Training Act: (1) the training helps alleviate the shortage of skilled workers for defense industries, and (2) it helps restore men and women to jobs because enrollees are taken directly from the rolls of the WPA and the Massachusetts State Employment Service. The entire cost is borne by the Federal Government. To date more than $61,000 has been allotted to Newton.

The first course in Machine Shop Practice was started on July 15, 1940, and enrolled forty men. Since that time, eleven separate courses have been completed and three more are now under way. These eight-hour a day sessions, running from seven to fifteen weeks, have meant twenty-four hour utilization of the Trade School plant. Courses have been offered in Machine Shop Practice, welding, and, for women, a course in light manufacturing. To date more than five hundred persons have been enrolled. Most of those who have completed the course are now regularly employed at substantial rates of pay.

In addition to the foregoing, three courses in supplementary Shop Mathematics for Machinists are being operated at the Watertown Arsenal in co-operation with the United States Ordnance Department. As a result of these three courses over four hundred machinists are receiving training useful to National Defense.

Services of Commission

The report continues with reference to the services of the National Teacher Education Commission which selected Newton as one of fourteen school systems in the United States and contributing to the Newton program of education and teacher growth. Among the tangible services rendered have been providing Newton with representation at educational conferences; providing funds to assist Newton teachers working on Newton problems in summer study (14 teachers during the summer of 1940 and 21 during the summer of 1941); making available for three periods during the past school year the services of Dr. Carolyn Zachary of Vassar Institute of Education who has met with teaching groups throughout the city; providing the advice and counsel of Dr. Charles E. Prall, Commission co-ordinator, who has periodically aided the Teachers' Council in setting up and conducting Newton teacher committees studying specific problems; and providing a Newton teacher with a three-months fellowship for the fall of 1941 in the appraisal of an educational program.

With reference to the Newton Teachers' Council activities the report tells of the organization of four city-wide voluntary committees of teachers and laymen working on (1) revision of the high school curriculum; (2) a balancing of community, school and home pressures on pupil time and energy; (3) a study of the teacher's responsibility beyond that of subject-matter achievement and (4) the study of the real needs of boys and girls.

Superintendent Warren revealed the conduct of a health survey in the schools by the Health and Public Buildings departments, with extensive attention to the general health and personal hygiene facilities provided in the schools. "While action on certain of the recommendations relating to toilets, handwashing, and drinking facilities is not entirely within the scope of the School department's authority the survey has already proved most valuable in guiding the schools' efforts to maintain such facilities at the proper standard. This survey is but one more evidence of the helpful co-operation which the Health Department has rendered constantly over a period of years in maintaining school buildings as healthful places for children to live in during the school day."

Blackouts

bombing. Such areas will be permanently blacked out until the enemy has been dislodged. The blacking out of homes and residences is the responsibility of the occupant of the premises. Unused windows and doors should be blocked up permanently while exposed windows and doors should be treated to prevent splintering glass, to prevent any light from inside from being visible on the outside. Other light sources such as ornamental lights, porch and entrance lights, outside fires and glow of any kind should be eliminated.

He listed the following general rules as to the movement of individuals during blackouts:

Stay off the streets between sun-down and sun-up.

Wear something white.

Do not hurry. Walk close to buildings rather than near curb.

Cross highways at the crosswalks.

Pay attention to traffic lights.

Don't stand around, avoid crowds.

Do not light matches or use any flame, glow, or light not authorized under blackout regulations.

As for motor vehicles, he said that all cars except those especially licensed for blackout driving by the registrar of motor vehicles must remain off the highways between sun-down and sun-up.

Newton Warden Rules

Chief Warden William V. M. Fawcett of Newton has issued the following instructions on blackouts to the Newton wardens:

1. It is your duty to instruct and help all building occupants on blackout preparations.

2. Deliver handbook on blackout to every house in your area and urge study by house occupants.

3. At a later date after your neighbors have had an opportunity to study their blackout manuals make a survey of each house in co-operation with occupants. Plan exactly the treatment for each window, door, skylight, and material and fixtures necessary for adequate blackout. Make careful notes that will be available for use when blackout order is given. There will be a rush at that time. Have plans made in advance for emergency use.

After Blackout Order

He issued the following instructions for "after blackout order":

1. You will be responsible for any light that shows in your area.

2. Check each house to see if it is adequately prepared.

3. Observe each house at least once each evening for light leaks. If such leakage is found, see that it is corrected at once.

committee, presided and reports were made by members of the executive committee. Pres. Charles B. Floyd of the Newton Board of Aldermen told of measures being taken by the city government and the various developments. C. Raymond Cabot reported the co-operation of the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross. Frank L. Richardson, president of the Newton Hospital Trustees, told of medical measures being taken. His report was supplemented by Dr. Henry Godfrey and Dr. Edward Leonard of the hospital staff. Charles C. Dacey, chairman of the publicity committee reported on the work being done to inform the public of the many activities.

Only One Pedestrian Accident in July

The Newton Traffic Bureau this week announced that Newton was showing progress in its drive, in co-operation with the state, to promote pedestrian safety. Only one person was struck by an automobile in Newton during the month of July, as compared with four persons a year ago.

The Mass. Safety Council notified Mayor Paul M. Goddard and acting Police Chief Nicholas Vedicchio this week that pedestrian fatalities in Massachusetts last month were reduced from 29 in 1940 to 13 in July this year. The council warned that August was usually a hazardous month and urged interest in the safety-drive be sustained. A contest will open Aug. 10th and continue locally in all cities and towns until the record has been established.

into narrow residential streets and would necessitate two sharp turns." The use of Langley rd. would increase traffic congestion at an "already dangerous corner where Pelham st. and Langley rd. meet."

The letter also opposed the proposal to eliminate parking on the east side of Summer st., stating that such a measure would be "useless" unless the street were under "constant police supervision." "It would not be enforceable nor would it solve the problem," the letter continued.

The organization stated that congestion would be relieved and danger to pedestrians would be eliminated if the no parking rules on the east side of Summer st. "from Langley rd. to the alley between the stores numbers 214 and 216" were enforced. The letter also urged that the white line in the center of Summer st. at that point be kept painted and that the word "slow" be painted on the street at Beacon and Summer sts., and Summer and Willow sts.

The traffic committee is expected to report its recommendations to the Board of Aldermen on August 18th following deliberations on the matter at a committee meeting.

Building Permits Increase But Value Is Lower

The number of building permits issued by the Public Buildings department in July was greater in number but showed a drop in total value of those issued in the corresponding month a year ago. A total of 107 permits were issued for projects with a total value of $340,930 in July 1941. In July 1940 there were 101 permits issued with a total value of $440,745. The trend is similar to that for the first seven months of the year.

In 1940 for the first seven months 525 permits were issued with a total value of $1,624,870. This year for the same seven months period 557 permits were issued with a total value of $1,593,780. In 1939 there were 529 permits issued, valued at $1,765,546. Residential building in July of this year was brisk. Forty-two permits were issued for single dwellings and four for two-family houses.

Permits issued in July were classified as follows:

Single Dwellings	42	$253,600
Double Dwellings	4	34,500

Traffic Report Shows Downward Accident Trend

The report of the Police Traffic bureau issued last Saturday reveals an improved accident record in Newton over that of July 1940. Last month there were 15 automobile accidents as compared with 24 accidents in July of 1940. Four drivers were injured in July of this year as against 12 in July 1940. There was only one pedestrian injured this July as against four in July a year ago. Bicycle victims showed a drop from five to four in the two July months. Accidents in which property damage alone resulted were reduced from 19 in July 1940 to 16 for July of this year. There were no fatalities in either July of this year or last.

The traffic bureau's report showed that Newton automobile dealers sold 754 cars in July compared with 976 in June. Private sales or transfers of cars numbered 129 in July and 116 in June. Cars sold under second hand licenses or used cars numbered 27 in July compared with 70 in June. Autos sold by third class dealers, for junk and likewise, were 49 in July and 38 in June. Waivers of the four-day requirement of the sale or transfer of cars numbered 30 in July and 27 in June.

Police halted 1,140 motorists for traffic violation in Newton during the month of July. Of this number 327 were brought before the court. Newton residents numbered 91 and non-residents 237. In this group were 31 Newton residents and 50 non-residents who were "repeaters."

Show Nazi Plane At Norumbega Park

A Messerschmitt 109 fighter plane shot down in a raid over London after downing five Allied planes will be exhibited at Norumbega Park, Auburndale, on Sunday, August 10th, only, from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m.

This captured plane is the only one of its kind in the western hemisphere.

Manager Roy Gill is donating the entire park admission fees of ten cents for adults and five cents for children to Bundles for Britain, to benefit the civilian and medical relief fund. There will be no further charge to inspect the plane.

Throughout the day, Flight Sgt. William Gray, of the Royal Canadian Air Force, will lecture on aerial episodes in the battle of Britain. He has three Nazi planes to his credit.

Victories of the Nazi fighter over one British, two Czech and two French planes are tallied by five trophy stripes on the tail assembly. The ship has a yellow nose to show it flew with a squadron that was the pick of the German air force.

The Messerschmitt was brought to this country by Bundles for Britain under a $50,000 bond. It is powered with a Daimler-Benz motor of 1150 horsepower, capable of a top speed of 354 miles per hour and a cruising range of 621 miles. It is armed with a 25 calibre machine gun in each wing, two more in the motor cowling, and a 23 mm. cannon in the propeller hub.

Candidate For State Legion Post

George Flynn, superintendent of the Newton Upper Falls Post-office and vice-commander of the State Department of the American Legion, is a candidate for the office of State Commander. The election will be held at the state convention of the Legion on August 21-23. Other candidates are James McManus and Richard Cummings, both of whom reside in Boston. Flynn is a resident of Natick.

Final plans for the participation of the Newton Legion Guards to compete in both the forthcoming state and national conventions were completed Tuesday night at a meeting of the executive board of the Newton Post. The necessary additional funds required to defray expenses of the trip to the national convention in Milwaukee were appropriated. The post will also enter a color team in both convention contests.

Delegates to the State convention in Fall River on Aug. 21 to 23 will go unaccompanied.

A report on the Jun'or baseball team was made by Past Commander J. Sherman Irving, director of the team. The boys nine ended in third place in the Legion League and is a leader in the national division of the local Twi league.

Gasoline Conservation

Much has been said regarding the possibility of gasoline shortages, rationing systems, and other methods of conserving the valuable product. It is generally regarded that it is not as much a question of shortage of the product as a lack of facilities of distribution to New England and Atlantic states which represents the difficulty. In other lines, however, actual shortages of products for private consumption have been created because of defense needs. No one dares predict all that consumers will be forced to do without in the not too distant future. The trend is definitely toward a tightening up in many lines. Citizens who are inclined to believe that there is little stock in many of the rumors that seem to be circulated are going to experience no little surprise. Each and everyone of us is going to get along without many things that have supposedly been essential—and we are going to like it—because American ingenuity has always and will always develop substitutes which in time have been improvements and added to the happiness of living. America can and will show that we can "take it" when the need arises.

Draft Extension

There is a decidedly divided opinion on the extension of the draft regulations to require service by our youth in the Army under peace-time conscription. We believe the increasingly stringent situation calls for an extension of service on the part of those who have the physical ability and circumstances of environment and family life which permit of their service without hardship. During the past year most Selective Service Boards and Army induction officers have exercised good judgment in the matter of deferment of service. Those who were inducted under the "one-year" provision or "promise" might well have their individual cases reviewed when it comes to a question of their continuance in service for the extension period. We are all "in it" for the duration—no matter how one looks at it.

COLBY CLERK IN TREASURER'S OFFICE

Arrest Thirteen In West Newton Riot

Wild Melee in West Newton Square Late Saturday Night Quelled By Thirty Police—Five Slightly Hurt

Big Battle Is Climax Of Smaller Skirmishes

A fair sized "riot" in West Newton sq. last Saturday night, attracting hundreds of motorists and bystanders, was quelled by Newton police almost in front of police headquarters, resulting in the arraignment of 13 men in court on Monday morning. A warrant has been issued for a fourteenth arrest but the alleged culprit had suddenly left town and has not been located. The riot, the wildest in the city's history, also resulted in the largest crowd of spectators ever to gather in the local court room.

A soldier, Robert P. Flaherty, 20, of 19 Austin st., Newtonville, accused as one of the ringleaders in the series of riots which took place, pleaded not guilty to charges of inciting a riot and assault and battery upon Patrolman Charles J. Lynch. He was held in $1000 bail and the case continued until August 23rd. His brother, John J. Flaherty, of the same address was held in $500 bail on charges of drunkenness, disturbing the peace and assault and battery on Patrolman Leo S. Gagnon. He pleaded not guilty to his case was likewise continued to August 23rd. He was arrested Sunday morning about 8:30.

The only case disposed of on Monday was that of Edward J. Stascik, 22, a soldier at Fort Wright, N. Y. who was charged with loitering. He pleaded not guilty but was found guilty by Judge Thomas Weston and his case placed on file.

The other defendants, whose cases were put over until August 23rd were:

Edward L. Bradley, 33, of Crafts st., Newtonville, pleaded not guilty to charges of drunkenness and disturbing the peace; James J. Matthews, 20, of Raymond place, Newton, pleaded guilty to drunkenness and not guilty to disturbing the peace; James J. McDonald, 26, of 31 Dunstan st., West Newton, pleaded not guilty to loitering; Edward Hackett, 26, of 941 Washington st., Newtonville, pleaded not guilty to charges of drunkenness and disturbing the peace; Thomas Connelly, 23, of 881 Watertown st., West Newton, pleaded not guilty to loitering and sauntering; Robert Roche, 20, of Fernwood rd., West Newton, entered no plea to a charge of loitering; Francis L. Mayor Appoints Dr. H. W. Godfrey To Health Board

Mayor Paul M. Goddard announced today that he has appointed to the Newton Health Board, Dr. Henry W. Godfrey of Hancock st., Auburndale. The appointment has been submitted to the Board of Aldermen for confirmation. Dr. Godfrey will fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. Harold D. Choje, whose acceptance of a staff position with the Rockefeller Foundation results in his departure for South America the end of this month.

Dr. Godfrey has been a practicing physician in Newton since 1908 and has been a member of the staff and visiting physician of the Newton hospital for nearly thirty years. He is a member of the National Guard Medical Corps and is surgeon for the Boston & Albany R. R. He is a graduate of Phillips Exeter Academy, Harvard and Harvard Medical School.

Physicians Board Approves Annuity

Final Steps In Pension For Family Of Fireman

Final steps in the authorization of the payment of an annuity of $1600 to Mrs. Elizabeth T. Foley were taken Tuesday when a board of physicians certified that her husband, William P. Foley, had died of injuries received in performance of his duties as a Newton fireman.

The board of physicians consisted of Dr. Sidney Derow, city physician; Dr. Edward Sawyer, and Dr. Thomas Morton Gallagher. The payment of the annuity will be retroactive to July 1. The Board of Aldermen at its last meeting voted to grant the annuity, but according to law the action could not be valid until a board of three physicians filed a certificate with the City Clerk Frank M. Grant and Comptroller of Accounts Daniel A. White that the death of the fireman was the result of injuries received in line of duty.

The annuity is figured on the basis of $1000 for the widow and $200 for each child under 18 years of age.

12 Newton Men In Next Draft

The September call for selectees from Service headquarters will take twelve Newton men into the draft on Sept. 6. This will be the 16th call for induction of local youths into the U. S. Army. Local Board 112, comprising Wards 1, 2 and 3 will furnish half of the dozen to be called. Three men each will be called by Boards 112, Wards 4 and 5, and 113, Wards 6 and 7. The selectees as usual will be sent to the Boston induction station on Columbus ave.

Newton Stores To Reduce Deliveries

In Move To Assist In Conserving Gasoline

In a co-operative defense effort to conserve gasoline the Newton Chamber of Commerce this week announced that retail concerns in the city had taken steps to reduce deliveries of merchandise. The retail trade committee of the local organization issued a statement urging residents to assist in reducing the consumption of gasoline used by delivery trucks by purchasing several days' supply of merchandise at one time and also suggesting "doubling up" when going shopping by using one car for several families of friends and neighbors.

Secretary Rupert C. Thompson also urged all automobile owners in the city to save at least one gallon of gasoline a day. He pointed out that with 27,000 registered motor vehicles in the city this saving would mean 169,000 gallons per week. Referring to the reduced number of deliveries by retail stores he said, "It takes just as much gas to deliver a yeast cake as a complete dinner."

It is authoritatively stated that unless a reduction of approximately one-third the consumption is made that New England and Atlantic States will be compelled to undergo a method of rationing.

One Newton store in the move to reduce deliveries announced that next Monday morning deliveries would be made before 1 p. m. on orders placed up to 9 o'clock and afternoon deliveries would be made before 5:30 on all orders up to 2 o'clock. Accompanying the announcement was the statement: "As a result of recommendations from the office of the Federal oil coordinator, we find it necessary to adjust our delivery schedules in the near future. All retail food stores operating a large delivery system like ours have been urged to decrease the number of daily deliveries in order to conserve on gasoline and oil and thus help avert a national shortage in these fuels. In order to do our part in this defense emergency, we are, therefore, putting into effect this revised schedule which has the personal endorsement of the Federal Oil Administrator and which, we feel, will meet with your complete approval. Every effort will be made to keep our trucks on schedule and to assure you of definite punctual deliveries at all times."

New Welfare Board Organizes

Organization of the new Board of Public Welfare will be held early next month according to announcement of Director James P. Reynolds. Members of the board met informally on Monday evening and were sworn in by Mayor Goddard. As all members have not taken the oath official business of the Board will wait until after the organization meeting next month.

The Board is comprised of Benjamin J. Bowen, Charles C. Dasey, Robert E. Dickermen, William R. Mattson and James P. Reynolds, the latter being named agent and the only salaried member. Mr. Bowen, a former alderman and chairman of the Community Chest Budget Committee has been prominently mentioned for the position of chairman of the Board.

Legal Battle Seen on New Billboards

City Solicitor Gives Aldermen Written Opinion

Anticipating a showdown in the conflict between the city and the state over the applications granted by the State Department of Public Works for six billboards in the city, City Solicitor Joseph W. Bartlett has furnished the Board of Aldermen with a legal opinion showing the discrepancies between the state law and the city ordinance controlling billboards.

An outdoor advertising concern, after obtaining state permits for the six billboards, applied to the Public Buildings Department for building permits for the signs. Subsequently the Board of Aldermen turned down the applications and the Building Department heretofore withheld issuance of the permits.

Because the State Department of Public Works has granted permits while the Board of Aldermen has rejected them, it is anticipated that the advertising firm may carry the case to court for a decision on the validity of the city ordinance that gives the Board of Aldermen control of the issuance of permits for billboards.

Permits Asked
In a communication to Public Buildings Commissioner Arthur Campbell, the applicant, John Donnelly and Sons, requested that building permits be issued for the following signs:

A sign 25 by 12 feet on a wall at 337 Watertown st., corner of Chapel st. The State Department of Public Works has issued permits for this sign annually since 1930, but local authorities have thwarted their erection.

A sign 12 by 50 feet on the roof at 349-363 Watertown st., corner of Chapel st. The state has likewise issued permits annually for this sign since 1930 over the objections of the Board of Aldermen.

A sign 12 by 25 feet at 880 Walnut st., near Bacon st., on Route 128. The permits for this sign was issued by the state in 1940.

A sign 12 by 25 feet on the roof at 238-248 Washington st., Newton Corner sq. The permit for this sign was also issued in 1940.

Double Sign
A sign 50 by 12 feet on the roof at 823-833 Washington st. and 258-260 Walnut st., Newtonville sq. The permit for this sign was also issued in 1940.

A sign 25 by 12 feet on a roof at 267-273 Centre st., near Pearl st., Newton Corner. The permit for this sign was likewise issued in 1940.

In his communication to the Board of Aldermen, the city solicitor pointed out that the State Department of Public Works is authorized to issue renewals of permits for existing billboards, but the local authorities have control over new permits.

The question to be decided, therefore, is whether the local ordinance in any way conflicts with the statutes.

Has No Auto Fatalities In 163 Days

Newton Leads Population Class In Safety Contest

With 163 consecutive days to yesterday without a motor fatality in the city Newton is leading all communities in the state in its population class in the number of "deathless days." Announcement was made this week by the Mass Safety Council. Newton, grouped in the class of cities of from 50,000 to 100,000 ranks along with Chelsea in the over 100,000 class and Arlington in the 25,000 to 50,000. Chelsea has a record of 294 consecutive days and Arlington 266 days up to August 9th.

The traffic experts have devised a formula for giving the larger cities a "fair chance" in this type of competition, the bulletin stated. The formula was explained as follows:

Multiply the number of thousands of population by the number of deathless days, which gives the number of man days without a fatality. For example: The city of Boston, some time ago, established a record of 14 days without any person being killed by an automobile. This gave Boston a record of 10,791,424 man days as compared with the following experience of the aforementioned communities.

Chelsea . . . 12,130,146 man days
Newton . . . 10,830,315 man days
Arlington . . . 9,042,938 man days

Five Rescued By Coast Guard Off Nantucket Rocks

Five Newton residents were rescued by a United States Coast Guard cutter on Sunday night after the sailboat in which they were enjoying a moonlight sail went aground on uncharted rocks. The party, which included Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Nichols of Washburn ave., Auburndale; Louis Di Russo, Jr., of 406 Lexington st., Auburndale; Miss Katherine Thomas of Newton Centre and Thomas Connolly of 207 Auburn st., Auburndale, were aboard the sailboat Ranger, owned by Robert Maguire of Taunton.

Heading for Nantucket the boat was caught in a squall and struck the rocks three miles off the Nantucket shore. Maguire provided each of the party with life preservers and instructed them in their use. Mrs. Nichols flashed an S O S signal on the yacht's light and after several hours the Cutter Costaga came out from Nantucket to the rescue. The passengers were transferred to the cutter, and the yacht, with disabled motors and propeller, was taken in tow.

Is Expected to Become Head Of Department On Probable Retirement of Treas. Newhall

CLARENCE C. COLBY

Will Continue As Representative

Confirmation of reports that State Representative Clarence C. Colby would be appointed to a position in the office of the City Treasurer and Collector were substantiated this week when the former alderman went to work as a clerk under Treasurer Francis Newhall. It is understood that Rep. Colby will continue in the office until the end of the year when he will be a candidate for the office of City Treasurer to succeed Mr. Newhall. Mr. Newhall, who has been connected with the treasurer's office for more than forty years, is believed to be contemplating retirement on January first.

Although the present Board of Aldermen has appropriated funds for the payment of the salary of Mr. Colby as a clerk for the remainder of the year no commitment as to the choice of a successor to Mr. Newhall has been made if the latter retires. An entire new Board will take office in January although it is reasonably forecast that almost all of the present members will continue in office.

Colby will retain his seat in the legislature during the current term. Postponement of all legislative business until after the impeachment trial of Councillor Daniel H. Coadley having been made the Newton representative will later combine both duties. Colby is serving his first term as representative from the 4th Middlesex district. The term expires in January 1943 but under the biennial system no session will be held next year except in an emergency. Colby previously served as a member of the Board of Aldermen.

Seeks Funds For Gifts To Newton Men In Service

Seeking funds to defray the costs of gifts to Newton young men and women in the country's service, the Citizens' Committee for Service to Newton Service Men has sent letters to citizens and organizations asking them to contribute to this cause. The committee has been presenting men in service and those being inducted with toilet kits. Nurses and young men in service have been given writing kits.

Roy S. Edwards is chairman of the committee and James B. Melcher of the Newton National Bank is treasurer.

The letter follows: "Your Committee appeals to you to support its efforts to have Newton do its share in helping maintain the morale of those who have gone into service from our city."

"Will you kindly send your check for whatever you feel you can give to James B. Melcher, treasurer? Every bit goes to build for morale!"

Included in the letter were excerpts from letters acknowledging receipt of the gift kits:

"... when you're 1,300 miles from home, and in the service, it is certainly great to know that the 'old home-town'ers haven't forgotten you."

"... needless to say, it is a source of encouragement to know that the folks back home have us in mind."

"... receiving a gift like that makes me feel closer to everyone in Newton than ever before, even though I have lived and worked there for years."

Veduccio Approved As Reserve Officer

Filling a vacancy on the reserve force of the Newton Police Department resulting from the recent promotion of Officer John Umina to the regular force, the name of George Veduccio has been certified by the State Department of Civil Service. Veduccio, the son of Captain Nicholas Veduccio resides at 17 Melbourne ave. The appointment of young Veduccio will await the return of Chief Michael T. Hughes who is on his annual vacation.

Trade School Offers Retail Selling Course

The Newton Trade School announces a retail selling course for girls who may learn about store work in the classroom while holding a store position. Subjects included in the one-year course are the techniques of selling, textiles, merchandise information, color and line, display, fashion, store organization, store English, retail arithmetic, and individual store and class problems.

The class enrollment is limited to twenty students and is offered to students who have graduated from high school. Applicants for the course are selected by personal interview. The school also assists in getting the student the part-time position in chain, variety and department stores in either Newton, Waltham or Boston.

The cost of the course is borne by funds for distributive education under a Federal act and the school provides any equipment needed during the course. Those students who complete the course are awarded a retail selling certificate. Applications are being taken at the Newton Trade School and candidates should register before September 1st.

Fire Record

The fire departments of Newton and Wellesley joined Wednesday to fight a brush fire on Waverley st., Newton Lower Falls. An alarm was sounded from Box 55 at 10:52 a. m., bringing Engines 2, 5 and 6 and Ladder 2 to the scene. The apparatus returned to quarters at 11:33 a. m.

At 11:48 a. m. Wednesday Engine 4 was called to Avery's woods, off Albemarle rd., Newtonville, to fight a blaze. The company returned to quarters at 12:45 a. m.

A brush fire on Parker st., opposite Howe rd., Newton Centre, was extinguished Tuesday night after firemen were called to the scene at 6:30 p. m. The fire occurred on land of Wendell Mick, 370 Dedham st.

A false alarm was sounded at 1:05 p. m. Tuesday from Box 49 at Wolcott st. and Wolcott park, Auburndale.

Two companies of the Newton Fire Department devoted the greater part of last Friday afternoon to the task of fighting an extensive fire in the woods on Needham st., Newton Upper Falls, near the plant of the Masten & Wells Fireworks Company.

The alarm was received at 2:35 p. m. and Engines 3 and 7 responded. It was 6:02 p. m. before the apparatus returned to quarters.

Engine 4 was called to 59 Parsons st., West Newton, at 3:56 p. m. for a blaze caused by a defective oil burner.

At 4:37 p. m. Engine 9 responded to a call to Nobscot rd., Chestnut Hill, to fight a brush fire.

A blaze in a pile of rubbish on a vacant lot at 45 Mechanic st., Newton Upper Falls, was extinguished by the crew of Engine 7 Friday night. The firemen were summoned to the scene at 6:45 p. m.

Auto Crashes Fence at Longwood

Crashing through a rustic fence at the Longwood Cricket Club on Monday afternoon, an automobile, containing an elderly couple, turned two somersaults and landed a short distance from a tennis court. Mr. and Mrs. Mary O'Connor of Leicester rd., Belmont, who were in the car, narrowly escaped death. Mrs. O'Connor, 63, suffered a fractured left knee cap and a cut over the left eye. She was removed to the hospital. Her husband, 73 years old, was severely shaken up. The driver stated to police that while driving along Hammond st. and about to turn into Middlesex rd., a car came out of that street at a high rate of speed. To avoid an accident O'Connor swerved to one side, his car tearing away about 25 feet of a fence and continuing over the embankment into a double somersault.

Return Prisoner To Connecticut

Newton police this week returned Gordon Ayer, formerly of Newton Highlands, arrested recently as a fugitive from justice, to Greenwich, Conn., to face a charge of selling leased property. A four-year search ended a few weeks ago when Ayer was apprehended at a Winthrop Yacht Club after Newton police had maintained a vigil of several days. The vessel upon which he was employed was driven in by a storm. The complaint on which Ayer was arrested was issued in 1937. The prisoner is alleged to have sold an automobile in Greenwich without disclosing to the purchaser that he had bought the car on time and that the notes due were not all paid.

Many Fined for Traffic Violations

Vincent R. Domenichello of Watertown was fined $5 in Newton court on Monday on a charge of failing to stop at a flashing red light. A clerical error resulted in the Watertown man's appearance on Monday as the case had been scheduled for Tuesday. The summons had been dated erroneously, however, giving the Monday date—and the court accommodated him.

Charles E. Beatty, 59, of 12 Winchester rd., Newton, was arraigned in court on Monday on charges of drunkenness and driving while under the influence of liquor. He pleaded not guilty and his case was continued until Friday. He was arrested by Sergeant Richard L. Bannon after being trailed to his home on a chase through Centre and Cabot sts. during which the police allege the car narrowly escaped collisions with other cars.

Fines of $5 each on charges of speeding were imposed on Aram K. Raphaelian, 53 Crosby rd., Chestnut Hill; Leonard Landers of Millis, Lillian Rainsback, 174 Mt. Vernon st., Newtonville; Francis M. Creutz of Quincy; Frederick S. Mann of Needham; Frederick B. Rice of Weston; Francis E. Laline of Brighton and Albert Cohen of Mattapan.

Angelo J. Sergi of Lawrence was fined $5 for speeding and a charge of driving without a license in his possession was filed.

The following were fined $5 each on charges of failing to stop before entering a through way: Edward B. Long of Cohasset; Vincent J. McInnis of Waltham; Carolyn M. Connor of 29 Washington pk., Newtonville; Richard Dorrington, Waltham; Harvey F. Kazier, 15 Whittlesley rd., Newton Centre; Robert S. Fitzgerald, 174 Temple st., West Newton; Henry J. Burke, 822 Boylston st.; Newton Highlands; Joseph Goldman, 9 Cotton st., Newton; Lawrence I. Donovan, 25 Fountain st., West Newton; Emery M. LeBlanc, Waltham; Brenton Wixon, Watertown; Aldo Giachetti, Quincy; Guido J. Andrews, 1124 Chestnut st., Newton Upper Falls; Leo J. Redgate, Waltham.

The court placed on file charges of speeding against Paul W. Webster of Marblehead and John R. Senigo, Waltham.

Last Saturday was also a busy day in the Newton Court when fines of $5 each on charges of speeding were imposed on the following: Harold M. Johnson, Watertown; Alfred Di Sciuillo, 15 Oakmont rd., Newton Centre; Frank DiFlavas of Brockton; Dominic Amara of Boston; William F. Boyer of 12 Burnside rd., Newton Highlands; Charles N. Watson of Allston; Paul E. Newcomb of Dedham st., Newton Centre; Charles E. Bowser of Dorchester, and Mark S. Eaton of Brookline.

The following were fined $5 each for failing to stop before entering a through way: Arthur A. Altavesta of Lowell; Curtis B. Plummer of 39 Churchill st., Newtonville; Thomas J. Penney of Dedham; Herman Koch, Jr., of Brookline; William J. Owens, Jr., of Quincy; Anthony Sakovich of Lawrence; Frederick L. Hall of 226 Park st., Newton; William H. Cooper, II, of 21 Prospect park, Newtonville; Arthur Rogers of 41 Lewis st., Newtonville; Elmer J. Peck of 40 Bradford rd., Newton Highlands; Helen S. Crockett of Charlestown; Margaret F. Page of 47 Underwood ave., West Newton.

The case of Charles W. Meek of Winchester, who was charged with passing a flashing red light, was placed on file.

Also placed on file were charges of speeding against Edward D. Hyman of Brookline and Robert B. Piper of Melrose.

Lawrence Cugini of Brighton was fined $5 for speeding, while a charge of operating without proper lights was placed on file.

"Peeping Tom" Given Six Months Suspended Sentence

Joseph P. O'Brien 21, of Newton st., Brighton, was given a suspended sentence of six months in the House of Correction by Judge Thomas Weston in the Newton Court last Saturday. O'Brien, who had been under observation for the previous ten days at the Psychopathic Hospital and pronounced sane, was arrested two weeks ago after terrorizing residents of the Mt. Ida section in Newton with "peeping tom" activities.

He pleaded guilty on the day of his arrest and was ordered committed to the hospital for observation. He admitted that he had gone out to peep into windows on ten occasions. He was arrested on an "eavesdropping" charge by Sergeant Bannon, and patrolmen Springer and O'Neil on July 30th after investigation of a complaint of a "peeper" on Lewis st. on the night of July 17th. He was recognized from a description given by a person who saw him on Bellevue st.

'El Pole Gives Boy Bad Cut on Head

Leonard Wilson, a 17-year-old Auburndale youth, suffered a severe cut on his head Monday night when he extended his head through a window of a trolley car and came in contact with a pole. He was taken to the Newton Hospital when the car arrived at Lake st. and he sought first aid in a nearby pharmacy. He said the accident occurred somewhere between Kenmore station and Lake st. Several stitches were taken in the wound and he was allowed to go to his home at 110 Hawthorne ave. Accompanied by Paul Putney, 14, of Aspen ave., and Clifford Mosher, 15, of Woodland rd., both of Auburndale, the trio entered the drugstore about 10 o'clock. The proprietor notified the police who took the youth to the hospital in the ambulance.

Woman's First Aid Training Proves Valuable

When little Louise Saunders, 5, of 211 Adams st., Newton, severed an artery in her left leg last week Friday afternoon the first aid training that her mother, Mrs. Louise Saunders, had had came in to good stead. The little girl had cut her leg on a broken bottle and the mother promptly stopped the flow of blood by using a towel as a tourniquet. She then summoned the police and Patrolmen William Condrin and Raymond Taffa took the child to the Newton Hospital where three stitches were taken in the wound. The child's father, James, is a member of the Newton Fire department wires division.

Buster Black, son of Mrs. Caroline Black, 14 Hillcrest circle, Waban, Robert Ames, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Ames, 69 Evelyn rd., Waban, have also won their pro-marksman tests.

Horton Meyers, son of George Meyers of 304 Waban ave., Waban, has just received his fourth bar towards the expert rifleman of the National Rifle Association. Horton's accomplishment is the best record at Camp Zakelo for the 1941 season.

UNION SERVICES

The topic chosen by Rev. Hanna for his sermon at the Union Services which this month are being held at the Central Cong. Church, Newtonville is "Duty and Conscience."

This is the second sermon in a series of 3 on the general topic, "The War and Christian Faith."

Automobile Accidents

Four persons were injured in an automobile accident that took place Saturday night during the riot in West Newton sq. when two cars collided at Washington and Cherry sts., a short distance away. James J. Kelly, 40, of 1071 Beacon st., Newton Centre, was driving east on Washington st. when a car operated by Doris H. Goulding, 33, of 19 Glenwood ave., Wellesley Hills, stopped in front of him to allow several persons believed to have been involved in the rioting to cross the street. The Kelly car struck the rear of the other machine. The injured victims were Irene Christensen of Wellesley Hills, Gladys and Henry Malcolm of 1316 Washington st. and Betty Nolan of Washington st., West Newton.

An automobile, going the wrong way on the one-way bypass of the Worcester turnpike at Quinobequin rd., Newton Upper Falls, Saturday night, struck and injured 13-year-old Louis Nizzari of Wellesley st., Wellesley. The boy was removed to the Newton Hospital by John Gloriosio of Wellesley and treated for severe cuts and bruises. Anthony Wallace of Davenport, Iowa, operator of the car, told police that he became confused in his efforts to get off the turnpike and was unaware that he was on a one-way street when the accident occurred about 10:45 p. m.

A hit-and-run machine damaged the car of Richard L. Cooley of 34 Prescott st., Newtonville, Saturday night while the latter was driving out of the West Newton parking place. He reported to police that a dark sedan struck the fender of his machine and continued north on Cherry st., turning west when it reached Webster st.

POMROY HOUSE

The members of the Pomroy House have been very busy during the last month participating in the varied summer activities.

The boys and girls were transported back and forth daily to Two Centres Camp in Cohituate. The West Newton Community Center and the Pomroy House conduct this camp together. Both organizations are Member Agencies of the Newton Community Chest, 135 children with a total attendance of over 700 for the 35 camp days enjoyed swimming, handicraft, story telling and singing. Miss Gertrude MacCallum, Executive of the West Newton Community Center, Miss Helen I. Standstrom, Executive of the Pomroy House and Miss Alice Birmingham of Newtonville, were the leaders. The older boys from the Pomroy House spent several Sundays there for an outdoor supper and swim.

The Mother's Club of the Pomroy House of which Mrs. Viola White is the President, spent a day at Nantasket. They had dinner at Fishermen's Cove. Mrs. George Auryansen of Newtonville, a Director, invited them to her home in Mt. Vernon, New Hampshire, where a very happy day was enjoyed with lunch, walks and games.

Miss Rhoda White assisted by a group of Junior Leaders has organized activities for children in the neighborhood. Miss Sandstrom has conducted a course in Leadership for these girls assisting Miss White. Those attending the group are Misses Sylvia Frediani, Sylvia Farina, Filomena Tempesta, Catherine Tempesta, Marie Cafarelli, Eula White, Anna Pelligrino, Evelyn Konian, Adeline Vitt. The playground activities at the House will continue until school opens in September.

Rotary Club

"Waterproofing" was the subject of the talk given by Stanley Newman, President of the Stanley Newman Co. of Boston, at the weekly meeting of the Newton Rotary Club held Monday at the Brae Burn Country Club. In the course of his talk Mr. Newman, who is a member of the Newton Club, discussed Masonry Disintegration and Efflorescence, which is the discoloration of buildings due to mineral deposits left by unevaporated water.

All troubles which necessitate waterproofing services are caused by water which gets into the masonry and then cannot be properly evaporated. Among the causes are parapets built above the roof proper, cornices, copings, etc. These types of construction, although ornamental, are not practical because they are "cold masonry," with no heat reaching it from inside the building. They also have three sides exposed to the elements. The cure is either to remove the ornamental construction or to so cover it with copper that no more than one side is exposed to the weather.

Mr. Newman showed some very excellent slides to illustrate his talk and concluded with the observation that a return to simplicity of design would eliminate most of the causes of disintegration and efflorescence and would materially reduce maintenance costs.

The speaker was introduced by Joseph Limric, who is in charge of the programs for August. President Charles H. Meeker presided.

Among the visiting Rotarians were A. L. Cramer of Edinburg, Texas, and Leon Baudler of Sunland, California.

Farlow Park was never so beautiful as it is at present, and the fortunate residents in the vicinity appreciate the outlook from their piazzas. The recent rains have revived the grass, and the patches of brilliant-hued flowers add variety to the park. When the fountain plays, the temperature in the vicinity is lowered several degrees.

The widening of the lower part of Waverley ave. is a little more than half completed, and a great improvement is visible. The only thing that mars the street is one elm that stands almost in the centre of the road. It is such a magnificent tree that it is not strange that the highway committee spared it, although it may prove dangerous to teams. It is said that the land belonging to the syndicate and the house in the "hollow" will be sold at auction when the improvements are finished.

Village Hall Players

In Ninth Attraction
The Village Hall Players are presenting as their ninth attraction of the season the hilarious comedy "This Thing Called Love." Starting on Tuesday night, August 19th, it will continue through Saturday night, August 23rd.

The play is the story of a young girl whose whole family life has been marred by a long series of unhappy marriages. She comes to the conclusion that love has been the cause of this and determines not to marry for love. She meets a young engineer who has just returned from several years in South America. They agree to accept marriage as purely a business proposition, each coming and going as he pleases. For a while this is fine and then complications arise for each finds himself in love with the other, but refuses to admit it. At last the truth comes out and everyone is happy!

Featured in the cast are: Florence Walsh, Alan Downer, Kay Boland and William Manson. The Playhouse is located just off the Worcester Turnpike in Framingham Centre.

A-P Stores Start

48-Hour Week for All Employees

New Store Hours Announced—Open 6 Days

Mr. J. J. Byrnes, New England President of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, announced on Tuesday the inauguration of A & P's new 5-day, 48-hour week for employees in Newton stores.

"Today, we put in effect," said Mr. Byrnes, "what we believe to be the first 5-day week and the shortest general working hours for store employees in any major food retailing organization. Although our stores here will continue to serve customers six days a week, all employees will enjoy two full days a week of leisure. Their pay will remain the same as for the six-day week. This is further assurance that none of the great savings which you can now make through buying at A & P are out of the wages of our employees."

The new program is the latest step in A & P's traditional policy of creating and maintaining for its employees the highest wages, shortest general hours and best working conditions in the industry. Mr. Byrnes pointed out.

The new schedule is in sharp contrast with the latest figures for working hours in the food industry, contained in a survey made a year ago by a group of Washington, D. C., labor unions which revealed that the average working hours for retail employees in individual grocery stores in that city were 63 1-2 hours and for food chain store employees 54 hours.

"Working hours for grocery clerks have always been too long," Mr. Byrnes said. "Unfortunately long hours have been traditionally characteristic of retailing but because of the highly competitive nature of the food business no one food merchant could force a general reduction in hours."

"In spite of this, the A & P has repeatedly broken with established hours in an effort to lead the industry away from the traditional dawn-to-dusk working schedule. We pioneered vacations with pay. Since 1916 we have progressively shortened the working week for our employees. As a result, for a quarter of a century the A & P's employees generally throughout the United States have received the highest wages and have had the shortest working hours of any workers in the food business."

"These improved working conditions have never been achieved at the cost of increased prices to our customers or lower returns to our suppliers. They are the employees' share of the general reduction in operating expenses resulting from the consistently increasing efficiency of our method of distribution."

Mr. Byrnes pointed out that since 1916 the A & P has been able to reduce the working week by 34.2 per cent, or a total of 25 hours. "The reduction of the work week to 65 hours 25 years ago," he said, "was considered sensational in an era when the average American wage earner worked 12 hours a day, six days a week. In 1937 A & P pioneered another five-hour reduction which brought the total work week down to 60 hours. This was again reduced six hours to 54 hours."

Two Newton Men To Start Army Air Training

Two Newton men are included in the class of 47 from New England who will begin army aviation cadet training Aug. 20. It was announced last week by Lieutenant Colonel John L. Rice, Corps Area recruiting officer.

The class includes 21 men from Massachusetts, 10 from Connecticut, six from Rhode Island, four from New Hampshire, four from Maine and two from Vermont.

Men from Newton who will receive their initial training at Parks Air College, East St. Louis, Ill., are Stanton Morgan Amesbury, 19 Berkeley place, Auburn; Dana Knowlton Seller, 13 Morton rd., Newton Centre.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Butcher, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Green, Mr. and Mrs. C. Wear, Howlett, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rand, Mr. and Mrs. George M. Thurmond, all of the Newtons, whose children are at Camp Red Fork or Vistamont in New Hampshire, will be interested to know that Frederick H. Lewis, director of both camps, will teach at Eaglebrook School in Deerfield this fall.

Newton children at Red Forks include Constance and "Laddie" Butcher, Joan Green, Bruce, Shirley and Tommy Thurmond. Barbara Green, Joan Howlett and Gladys Rand are at Camp Vistamont.

Newton Patrolman Shoots Self

Patrolman John P. Murphy, 44, of the Newton Police force, was found dead on Monday afternoon at his home about 4:45 by his brother, having shot himself through the head with his service revolver. Murphy, who had been a member of the police force for 20 years and had been married but a few weeks, was due to go on duty at 5:45. His home was at 1119 Boylston st., Newton Upper Falls. Joseph Murphy, his brother, was on from Detroit, Mich., visiting the officer for a few days.

Mrs. Mary Murphy, widow of the officer, returned home from a shopping tour about 6:30. The couple was married in June and had but recently moved into the Boylston st. home. Patrolman Murphy is also survived by another brother, Rev. Francis Murphy of Roxbury, who performed the marriage ceremony.

The officer had been in court on Monday morning to prosecute a case but the defendant did not appear and was defaulted. A few years ago Murphy was accidentally shot in the shoulder by a citizen in a burglar scare.

A military funeral for the officer was held on Wednesday morning from his late home with a solemn high mass of requiem at Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Church, Upper Falls at 10 o'clock. Rev. Thomas W. Dwyer was celebrant assisted by Rev. Donald Whalen of the Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre as deacon and Rev. William J. O'Connell, pastor of Mary Immaculate Church, sub-deacon. Rev. Francis X. Daniels of Quincy was the master of ceremonies. Pallbearers were members of the Newton police department and included James Rogers, Charles J. Lynch, Guy Litchfield, J. Leo Davis, James Cunningham and John J. Cavanaugh.

Sergeant Michael J. Sullivan was in charge of a detail of 16 police officers as an honorary escort. Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery, Needham with prayers by Bishop Richard B. Cushing of Newton Centre.

Harvard Dean Pays Tribute To Health Work

A high tribute to the policy of the Newton Health Department as set forth in a recent pamphlet issued by the department was paid by Dr. Cecil K. Drinker, dean of the Harvard University School of Public Health, in a communication received last week by Mayor Paul M. Goddard.

"This morning I have received the very interesting and informative pamphlet on the Newton health policy issued from your Department of Public Health," he stated. "At this time when the University is less directly involved with the department financially than has been the case in the past, I feel particularly able to speak of this publication and the achievement it describes and wish to congratulate you and your associates on the possession of a department which is capable of the leadership and progressive work so clearly evidenced in the description of Newton health policy."

"I trust you will be assured of the continued interest of myself and my associates and will accept our congratulations upon this aspect of municipal administration in Newton."

Auto Thief Tries To Run Down Motorcycle

Motorcycle officer Thomas L. McNaney of the Newton police force narrowly escaped being run down twice by an alleged auto thief while pursuing the latter in a wild chase on Waltham st. last Saturday night. Shortly before nine o'clock the Newton officer set out after an automobile, pursuing the machine for about two miles in the direction of Waltham.

He drew abreast of it only to be forced to swing to one side as the driver tried to run him down. The stolen car continued and the officer resumed the chase and again drew up behind it. Suddenly stopping, the driver leaped out of the car and fled. The motorcycle barely missed running into the car and before the officer could recover his bearing the culprit had disappeared in the darkness. The car was found to have been stolen in Salem. The alleged thief was described as being about 25 years old, five feet ten inches tall, wearing a white shirt, dark pants and no hat. Police broadcast the description to surrounding cities and towns.

The officer had been in court on Monday morning to prosecute a case but the defendant did not appear and was defaulted. A few years ago Murphy was accidentally shot in the shoulder by a citizen in a burglar scare.

Mitchell Named Investigator

Norman J. Mitchell has been appointed permanent investigator in the Soldiers' Relief Department by Commissioner Edmund T. Duggan.

He has served in the position under a provisional appointment since March 3. He was first on the list of eligible candidates recently certified by Civil Service. At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Aug. 18, the mayor is expected to recommend an appropriation for the salary of Mr. Mitchell for the rest of the year.

ELIZABETH SLADE KINGMAN

Mrs. Elizabeth Slade Kingman, widow of the late James Kingman, died on Sunday, August 10, at her home, 32 Fisher ave., Newton Highlands. Mrs. Kingman had resided in Newton for about 50 years. She was born in Castle, New York, the daughter of Josiah R. and Martha Scott Slade. She is survived by one son, Spencer Slade Kingman of Pasadena, Calif.; two daughters, Mrs. John Morgan of Madison, N. J., and Mrs. James Rogers of Waban; four grandchildren and a sister, Miss W. S. Slade of Newton Highlands. Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. Albert Dieffenbach officiating. Burial was in Elmwood Cemetery, Elmwood, East Bridgewater, Mass.

WILLIAM L. WELCH

William L. Welch of 349 Linwood ave., Newtonville, died on Monday, Aug. 11, at his home. Mr. Welch, who was 34 years of age, had resided in Newton all his life. He was formerly an electrician in the employ of the Boston & Albany Railroad. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Etta Duval Welch; two sons, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Welch of Newtonville; five sisters and two brothers. Funeral services were held this morning from his late home. A high mass of requiem was celebrated in the Church of Our Lady, Newton, at 9 o'clock. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

—Rioting

Harvey place, Newton, pleaded not guilty to sauntering and loitering but was found guilty after testimony by Patrolman Turner; Christopher Goumas, 21, of Webster st., West Newton, pleaded guilty to loitering; and a 13th defendant, a 16-year-old boy who was arraigned in the juvenile court on a charge of disturbing the peace.

Earlier Arrests

The riots had their inception in the arrests of two men earlier in the evening about 7:30 by Patrolman Leo Gagnon. The officer took the pair into custody for drunkenness at Waltham and Washington sts. Their friends objected so strenuously that Gagnon had to call for reinforcements to prevent the prisoners from being rescued. Later the prisoners were released without arraignment because of their past good record. Their arrest was enough, however, to touch off the spark that led to later developments.

Two subsequent skirmishes occurred at Washington and Elm sts. resulting in more arrests. During the evening Sergeant Thomas Leehan talked for nearly half an hour to the mob which gathered on the park at Washington and Putnam sts. in an effort to pacify it. His efforts were in vain. Before the biggest riot broke out cries of "we're going to kill Gagnon" were heard and when the violence broke out anew he was one of the first victims.

The big battle occurred about 11:30 p. m. with about 30 policemen and 100 civilians as participants almost opposite the police headquarters and at times appeared as if the crowd would storm the police station. Hundreds of motorists stopped near the scene and created a traffic jam.

Many "innocent bystanders" were roughly handled as the police were forced to swing their clubs to subdue their assailants. The latter were free with kicks and punches, particularly when the officers were down on the ground. One revolver shot was fired by Patrolman John G. Murray who fired in warning to halt Robert Roche when the latter was running away on Elm st.

Policemen Injured

Five policemen were injured sufficiently to report their ailments. Sergeant Thomas F. Leehan was knocked down and kicked, receiving injuries to his head and back. He was treated by Dr. Thomas Gallagher and forced to go off duty. Patrolman John J. McArdle received injuries to his right knee, right arm and back. He was treated by Dr. Hyman Shrier and relieved of duty. Patrolman Charles E. Goodale was kicked in the ribs and his right leg injured. Patrolman Charles W. Lynch was kicked, punched in the right jaw. His left knee was injured, lips cut and pants torn. Motorcycle Officer John P. Fitzsimmons was kicked in the small of the back and received injuries to his left hand, knee and forehead.

Arrest Police Officer

Officer Yanco, one of the younger members of the force, had a unique experience. Off duty and in civilian clothes he went to the assistance of his fellow officers.

Twice he was mistaken for a rioter. Taken into police headquarters as a "prisoner" he identified himself and was released. Returning to render more assistance he was seized again and taken into the station. After again convincing his captors as to his identity he gave up his efforts to assist.

When the battle began to assume serious proportions Lieutenant Edward A. Moan in charge of headquarters sent out a radio call bringing cruising cars from various parts of the city. Acting Chief Nicholas Veducchio was notified at his home and came to headquarters to take charge. Dr. Gallagher rendered first aid to those who showed effects of the police st. cks. To forestall any further outbreaks during the night several additional men were kept on duty at headquarters.

Another of the ringleaders was sought by police early in the week on a warrant issued on Monday. Attempting to serve the warrant police learned he had left home suddenly. When found he will face charges of disturbing the police and inciting a riot. He is alleged to be one of the leaders of the gathering on the park.

Acting Chief Veducchio issued an order on Monday that all officers who witnessed any violations of the law during the riots swear out complaints against offenders who had not been apprehended. It is believed that some of those who took part in the fray escaped.

Tri-City Tennis Tourney To Open On August 25th

The second annual tri-city singles tennis tourney, sponsored by the Newton Y. M. C. A. will start on Monday, Aug. 25, at 10 a. m. at the "Y" courts.

A large number of entries are expected to include the leading schoolboy racket wielders of Newton, Waltham and Watertown. Entries, which close Monday, August 18, are limited to boys who have not reached 18 years of age by Jan. 1, 1941.

Jack Lynch of Newton, Massachusetts High School champ, and last year's winner already has filed his entry and will probably be seeded No. 1. Don Skalle, Waltham High star and North Shore champ, also is expected to enter and renew his friendly rivalry with the Newton ace.

All Rogan, chairman of the committee on arrangements, has provided prizes for the winner and the runner-up. Assisting Mr. Rogan on the committee are Richard B. Simmons, physical director at the "Y," and Arthur M. Jacobs of Waltham.

Each player is to furnish a set of balls; one to be used and the other to go to the winner to be used later. An entry fee of $25 to guarantee appearance will be refunded when the match is over. Rules of the United States Lawn Tennis Association will govern.

Registration may be made at Rogan's Sports' Store, 325 Washington st., Newton.

Your original investment in Defense Savings Bonds, Series E, will increase 33 1-3 per cent in 10 years.

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor Newton Graphic: Unless we get a motive greater than saving our skins we will fail to generate enough steam to do even that. We need the motive of victory for the sake of a democratic union which will make war as unthinkable between member nations as it is between Massachusetts and New York. A peace based on the Bill of Rights and anchored federally in Union, and this only, can form the growing core of a world government.

Everybody now knows the world must have government. And those who have studied the problem agree that a federal form of government is best suited to the need. The start should be now when some sort of unity is essential to defense and our mood is cooperative. To America and the democratic peoples of the British Commonwealth might be added such others as the Argentine, Iceland and the Dutch Government. But the Constitution of such a Union should be designed to include all countries mutually willing to join on the same democratic basis we impose on ourselves, with all colonies administered by the Union and aided in their preparation for self-government and future admission to the Union.

If even a small nucleus can unite it can only shorten the struggle and may prove a deciding factor in democratic victory. The humblest citizen can help bring about a lasting peace by spreading the gospel of Union for the sake of a world government by law.

Auto Crashes Into House Near Turnpike

Losing control of the automobile she was driving late last week Wednesday night while emerging from a side street onto the Worcester turnpike at Thompsonville, Margaret McManus, 25, of 72 Circuit ave., Newton Upper Falls, and two others riding with her escaped injury but damaged the car which knocked down a gasoline pump, crashed into a house, and came to a stop against the building. Miss McManus was operating under the license of Theodore Gurnaris of Needham, owner of the car, who was riding with her. Virginia Burke of 4 Meredith ave., Upper Falls, was also a passenger.

The car was being driven out of Florence st. onto the turnpike about 11:30 p. m. when another car came along the turnpike going toward Boston at a high rate of speed. To avoid a collision the driver said she stepped on the accelerator and the car shot across the highway, over the curb into the yard of the gasoline station at 325 Boylston st., knocked down the pump and continued on through the driveway of the station and across John st. The building of the Home Specialties Company was the next obstacle in the path of the runaway car and it was too much of a hurdle. The machine crashed into the side of the building, damaging it. The automobile was damaged on both front fenders, the left front wheel and the right hand door.

City Takes Title To 502 Parcels

Tax titles to 502 parcels of Newton property were taken by the city it was announced by City Treasurer and Collector Francis Newhall last Saturday. The parcels are those on which the 1940 taxes remain unpaid. The total due is $64,359.19 compared with more than $77,000 of unpaid taxes on parcels taken a year ago.

The city recently advertised 770 parcels would be taken unless taxes and interest were paid on August 4th. Between the time of advertisement and the date limit 268 of the parcels had been cleared. The owners of the 502 parcels taken by the city have two years in which to redeem them.

Unpaid Auto Taxes

The treasurer's office is preparing to report to the Mass. Registry of Motor Vehicles the names of auto owners who have failed to pay their expiring taxes. The registrar will instruct police to take away the registration plates of those who are delinquent. The treasurer's office is required by law to report those who are in arrears.

The difference between the gross and net expenditures, as indicated, is due to the practice of allowing pupils to buy from the School Department at cost, books, car tickets and certain supplies. The cash so received by the School Department is paid into the city treasury. It is obvious that the net expenditures, not the gross, represent the actual cost to the city of any item. Per capita costs are based on net cost to the city.

Annual Report Of Newton Schools

Teaching Crippled Children

Since last September the School department assumed the cost of instructing the crippled children confined to the New England Peabody Home at Oak Hill. How this came about is told in the paragraph from the report:

Since 1922 the New England Peabody Home for Crippled Children has conducted a hospital-home in Oak Hill. The Home currently enrolls approximately ninety children. Heretofore, the cost of educating these children has been borne by the Home through private donations made to it. In 1938 at the request of the Home, the supervisory staff of the Newton schools began serving in an advisory capacity for the educational program. In September, 1940, the trustees of the Peabody Home made a formal request to the School Committee that all instructional costs be assumed by the city. In conformance with the written opinion of the City Solicitor, the School Committee has voted to assume the responsibility and expense of providing instruction at the Home beginning September, 1941. It is a fact that these children are badly handicapped and are living in Newton for the sole purpose of receiving treatment that will enable them to return to normal childhood in some American community; it is further the legal fact that the School Department is responsible for their education while they are residents of the city.

The organization of a retail selling course for girls, with an enrollment of twenty-three graduates under the direction of the Trade School, was undertaken in September, 1940. The girls were employed on a part-time basis in retail establishments in the vicinity. Seventeen of the pupils completed the course and are regularly employed full time. "From the standpoint of the School Department the course justified itself in terms of the values received by the limited group of girls who were able to take it, and by the fact that the cost of instruction, except for $500, is furnished by the State." The continuance of the course depends on the number of girls who will apply for this type of instruction the coming year.

The action of the School Committee of May 26, 1941, making available a full-time clerical worker to assist the part-time Director of Placement in the Newton High School, is also a distinct advance in provision for the job-seeking graduate of the school.

Retail Selling Course

Other features of the report relate to the education of children in the national defense program; the undertaking of a study of the reading program; sixth grade achievement tests; elementary school curriculum revision; and the expansion of the services of the library of teaching aids.

Junior High Pupil Groups

A modification of the former homogeneous groupings of junior high school pupils will be instituted in the seventh grade this year. The intelligence rating, the sixth grade teacher's recommendation, the reading and mathematics ratings in achievement tests will continue to be significant aids in the placement of pupils in junior high school divisions.

There will not be as many levels of learning as there are separate class divisions in the grade. Instead all pupils will be grouped into two or three larger blocks, in accordance with sixth grade information, from which the class divisions will be selected heterogeneously, for example, three divisions from the highest block, three from the middle and three from the lowest. This plan retains the advantage of not having the slowest learning pupil compete with the fastest learning pupils but adds the advantage of having pupils of more widely varying abilities and interests working together.

With reference to the needs of graduates of Newton High School the report has the following to say:

The ability of Newton High School graduates to win college scholarships in competition with students from other schools throughout the country is always a source of satisfaction. In 1939 this total scholarship money won by competitive examination or local grant amounted to $17,935; in 1940, it was $18,745. So far in 1941, $6,645 has been awarded by local funds and scholarships and $13,450 in open competitive examination, making a total this year of $20,095. The record of student admission to colleges of their choice is also highly gratifying, but these two evidences of the success of the senior high school program do not tell the whole story. Nearly 50 per cent of the students graduating each year do not go on to a higher school or college. For them high school is the terminal of their formal school education.

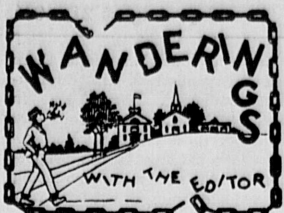

The study of the curriculum for the non-college preparatory student now under way in the Newton High School is indicative of the awareness of the high school faculty of the need for careful planning for this large group of students (see page 10, Study 1—Newton Teachers' Council Activities). It seems certain that as an outcome of this study there will be a number of radical changes in organization and curriculum by the fall of 1942.

The action of the School Committee of May 26, 1941, making available a full-time clerical worker to assist the part-time Director of Placement in the Newton High School, is also a distinct advance in provision for the job-seeking graduate of the school.

Other features of the report relate to the education of children in the national defense program; the undertaking of a study of the reading program; sixth grade achievement tests; elementary school curriculum revision; and the expansion of the services of the library of teaching aids.

School Bus Plan

Residents in the vicinity of the Newton High School and motorists who of necessity use Walnut street near the school buildings will be gratified by the plans being proposed to relieve the morning and mid-afternoon traffic congestion caused by the long line of buses used by student passengers. For some years traffic congestion around the high school has become increasingly worse causing delay to commuters striving to reach the railroad station for their morning train, and others whose business takes them in the vicinity during school hours. By making use of Elm road for a half-hour period prior to school and during the closing period the situation should be greatly relieved. Inasmuch as the amended regulations provide only for the use of Elm road by buses for the purpose of "leaving and calling for school pupils" there will be no decrease in the safety precautions for the two thousand and more pupils of the schools.

Another Incident

The rejection of the petition for the re-zoning of the so-called "ice-house" lot at Crystal Lake is another incident in the attempt to improve surrounding conditions. Over a period of years the situation has become more and more involved through the introduction of various elements which have gone to make up the controversy. Now the slate is swept clean. In time it may become possible to find a proper solution to the problem with fairness to all parties concerned. Certainly the nuisance and "eye-sore" now in existence there, indicates that there is a desirability for improvement. Perhaps a new start can now be made.

Court to Say Whether Death Due to Injuries

Whether or not the death of Mrs. Rosanna Landry of 18 School st. on August 11 was due to injuries received in an automobile accident in which she was involved in May is to be determined at an inquest to be held in the Newton District Court.

If the decision of the court should be that the injuries were fatal, the long period of successive days in Newton without an auto death will be ended.

After an autopsy, Medical Examiner Thomas Morton Gallagher filled a new certificate giving the diagnosis, which had been deferred. Mrs. Landry suffered a compound fracture of the left leg when she was struck by the auto, but the autopsy revealed that she had been suffering from an ailment.

Major Lee Resigns Place on Board

Aldermen To Fill Vacancy Caused By Ward One Member's Entrance Into Active Service With Army

Board Confirms Appointment Of Dr. Godfrey To Health Bd.

The resignation of Major Richard H. Lee, alderman-at-large from Ward 1, who was recently called into active army service, was accepted "with regret" Monday evening by the Board of Aldermen.

Major Lee said in his letter of resignation that he had enjoyed his service on the board and regretted to sever his connection with it, but considered it "an honor to have some small part in the country's defense."

Vice-president Clifford H. Walker, who offered the motion that Lee's resignation be accepted, remarked that the board would "miss his able services" but added that he was "glad the country would have the benefit of his service."

An order was adopted calling for the election of a successor. The vacancy will be filled by vote of the board.

The appointment of Dr. Henry W. Godfrey as a member of the Board of Health to succeed Dr. Harold D. Chope, who resigned, was unanimously confirmed by the board.

The reappointments of Frank L. Richardson and Ernest H. Harvey as members of the Retirement Boards were also confirmed.

Alderman Lee's letter of resignation directed to Pres. Floyd of the Board was as follows:

"By order of the President of the United States I have been called to active duty with the army. Accordingly I tender my resignation as an alderman.

I leave the board with regret. Even though I have not always been able to agree with my colleagues I have learned to admire their diligence and respect the sincerity of their points of view. They have earned the respect which is everywhere accorded to them.

As I withdraw from the committee rooms and the aldermanic chamber I am particularly conscious of the intangible rewards that come with service on the board. I may be particularly sensitive to them because I came to this city not many years ago as a young man from Maine without position or friends, and with a family to support. Newton was good to me and accepted me, and my recent selection as an alderman has sometimes seemed to me to represent the end of a struggle and the attainment of a secure position in the community, and I would be tempted to linger in it if I had the opportunity.

A great American has pointed out that security is usually illusion and repose is not the destiny of man. I expect that it may

Land Owners Oppose Road Widening

Claim Charlesbank Road Widening "Ruinous" to Sale Value

Two property owners whose land would be taken for the project opposed the proposed widening of Charlesbank rd., from St. James st. to the Metropolitan parkway to relieve traffic congestion, at a hearing held by the Board of Aldermen on Monday night.

The project is a result of several petitions signed by many residents of the district requesting the widening. The plans would call for the taking of ten feet on the east side of the street to make it a 40-foot roadway.

Ossian D. Brett of 164 Washington st., owner of three houses on Charlesbank rd., declared at the hearing that the widening would "ruin" his property as it would bring the street "right up to my steps."

"It would ruin the sale value of the property," he told the board. "I can't see what lasting benefit would come of it." His suggested solution of the problem was to make Charlesbank rd. a one-way street or to build a bridge to carry the traffic over the railroad tracks. He said he also owns five houses on St. James st.

The other resident who opposed the widening was Mrs. Delia M. Earls of 78 Charlesbank rd. Her daughter, who spoke in her behalf, said that Mrs. Earls objected to the project "if it would increase the traffic." She said her mother found it "impossible to rest" because of the present volume of traffic.

The proposed construction and acceptance of Lindbergh ave., West Newton, from Waltham st. to Princess rd., also brought forth opposition at the hearing held on Monday night. Although the project is the result of a petition by some of the property owners in the district, it was opposed by residents on the Waltham street end of Lindbergh ave.

Objecting only because the construction would cause a "hardship" for him "to pay the betterments," Albert M. Kreider of 24 Lindbergh ave., offered to give the names of some property owners who signed the petition but had since decided to oppose it.

Mrs. Ebba C. Cullen of 10 Lindbergh ave. said she saw no reason for the construction of the road near her home because it was "in good condition." In sympathy with her opinions were Arthur W. Vaughan of 16 Lindbergh (Continued on Page 6)

Order Barn On Waverley Ave. Razed

Aldermen Condemn Structure As Dangerous

Heeding the pleas of residents of the section, the Board of Aldermen ordered the owners of the barn at 183 Waverley ave. to "board it up" or raze it within 30 days, after a public hearing on the matter Monday evening.

The structure was described as a fire hazard by the fire chief, and an eyesore by the adjoining property owners. The board ordered that the owners start the work of "boarding up" or destroying the building within seven days.

Frederick G. Howe of 167 Waverley ave. said that the barn was 10 feet from his home and "inches" from his property line. He told the board that it was a dangerous structure, having been the scene of two fires which required the attention of firemen. He also complained of the odor from the barn and said that the side walls were gone and that it was being used to "park promiscuously."

Mrs. E. C. Collins, 117 Nonantum st., said that, since she had moved into the neighborhood, there had been "at least one fire," and Elliot G. Vivian, owner of property at 186 Park st., denounced the structure as an "eyesore and fire menace."

The barn is located on property for which an unsuccessful attempt was made recently for a permit to establish a private school for boys. The property was subsequently sold at public auction.

Acting on an order issued by the Board of Aldermen several weeks ago stating that the porch at the rear of his home at 2163 Commonwealth ave., Auburndale, was dangerous, and ordering its repair or demolition, Cyrus Sargeant, owner of the property, notified the board Monday evening (Continued on Page 6)

More Women Than Men In Newton

According to statistics compiled by the Newton Board of Registrars of Voters there are more than 5,000 more women over 20 years of age in the city than men. In issuing the 1941 book of "Poll Tax and Women Residents Lists" the board stated that there are 22,617 men listed and 27,825 women. The book contains the names of all men and women over 20 years of age living in the city on January first, 1941.

The Board expressed its appreciation for the services of police and others who aided in the compilation of the lists. Harold F. Young, chairman; William J. Doherty, Thomas F. Donnelly and City Clerk Frank M. Grant comprise the board. Their statement in part follows:

"The following members of the Newton Police Department were appointed assistant assessors and assistant registrars of voters and secured the information for the book by a house-to-house canvass, the work requiring about six weeks' time: John A. Bibbo, David J. Cummings, Cornelius J. Dwyer, John B. Foley, James E. Halloran, George F. Hennrikus, Thomas M. Kiley, Matthew J. Phillips, Philip Purcell, Albert A. Smith.

"Girls assigned to this office by the National Youth Administration assisted in the compilation of the records for the book.

"The Registrars of Voters wish to record their appreciation of the valuable assistance rendered by both of these agencies."

Mayor Goddard To Run Again

Mayor Names Haughey As Gas Conservator Here

Street Commissioner John D. Haughey was named gasoline conservator for the city of Newton by Mayor Paul M. Goddard this week in development of plans to assist in the defense efforts to conserve motor fuel. Commissioner Haughey will name other members of the local committee shortly. Every city and town in the state and every large business concern has been requested to co-operate with the Massachusetts Public Safety Committee at the request of Executive Director J. Wells Farley.

As gasoline conservator in Newton Commissioner Haughey will have charge of the efforts to save gasoline in the operation of the city's motor vehicles and of the drive to enlist the co-operation of private motor owned vehicles.

To Permit Buses To Use Elm Road

In an effort to relieve traffic congestion on Walnut st. near the high school in the morning at school time and in the afternoon when school is over it is planned to allow buses of the M. & B. St. Railway to use Elm rd. as a terminal in the future. The buses will enter the road between the school buildings to discharge and take on student passengers.

Elm road has been closed to traffic between 8 a. m. and 2.30 p. m. as a safety measure for some years. The new regulation is in the form of an amendment permitting buses to enter "for the purpose of leaving and calling for school children." The plan is expected to eliminate the holding up of Walnut st. traffic while the long line of buses is parked before and after school.

Severely Injured In Two-Story Fall

Thomas V. Fay, 32, of 44 Pearl st., Newton, employed as a janitor at the Hyde School, Newton Highlands, is on the danger list at the Newton Hospital as the result of a fall yesterday morning. While washing a window on the Bowdoin st. side of the building he fell from the second story to the cement walk below. He was taken to the hospital in the police ambulance where he was found to have broken both arms, his right knee, and a possible fractured skull.

Aldermen Base Action on Plea Of "Confiscation" Despite a Favoring Planning Bd. Report

Mayor Goddard Formally Announces His Candidacy

In a formal statement made public today Mayor Paul M. Goddard announced his candidacy for re-election at the city election on Nov. 4. The Mayor, who is completing his first term as chief executive has, as yet, no opposition. In answer to queries as to whether or not he would be a candidate, ex-Mayor Edwin O. Childs remarked that he had "not given it a thought." Mayor Goddard began his political career as a member of the Board of Aldermen, serving several terms, and subsequently being elected to the House of Representatives. Two years ago he was a candidate for Mayor, defeating Mayor Childs by a close margin.

His statement follows: "With our municipal election not much more than two months away I wish to formally announce that I shall again be a candidate for Mayor.

"I am deeply indebted to the citizens of this City and to members of the City Government for the sincere cooperation and constructive assistance which has been freely given during the past two years. With this assistance I have endeavored to administer the affairs of the City economically and in a fair and impartial manner. I have tried to concern myself with human values and the rights of individual citizens, which should always be of prime importance to a democratic government. "Progress has been made during the past two years, and can be carried forward in the future. If elected Mayor for another term I shall continue to serve to the best of my ability."

PAUL M. GODDARD, Mayor.

Arrest Alleged Ringleader of W. Newton Riot

Police Train Roche Wareham Beach

John J. Roche, 21, of 430 Cherry st., West Newton, one of the alleged ringleaders in the riot in West Newton sq. on Aug. 8, was held in $800 bail in Newton District Court last Saturday after he pleaded not guilty to charges of inciting a riot and disturbing the peace.

He was held for a hearing next Saturday, when the cases of 11 others arrested in the riot are also scheduled to be tried. He was the 16th man to be arrested. Two were released without arraignment and the cases of two others have been tried. One of the cases which has been tried was that of a 16-year-old boy who was given a suspended sentence to the Shirley Industrial School on Friday. Judge Weston remarked that were it not for the fact that the defendant was a juvenile, a more severe sentence would be imposed.

Roche was arrested at Swift Beach, Wareham, on Friday, where he was found by Sergeant Richard L. Bannon and Joseph B. Lyons to be recuperating from a severe cut on the head, said to have been received during the riot. According to the police, he had been treated at the Waltham Hospital after escaping from the scene of the fray. Seven stitches were taken in the wound in his head. He said he told the hospital officials that his injury was inflicted by a beer bottle during a fight. The hospital neglected to notify the police, however, but Inspector Lyons learned of the fact when he called the institution Sunday evening to make a checkup.

How Roche suffered his injury during the riot could not be determined, but some of the policemen engaged in the fray used their clubs when they found that they were far outnumbered by (Continued on Page 6)

Claim Many Signers Not "Neighbors"

Although the members of the Planning Board favored the proposed rezoning of land near Crystal Lake, for which a petition signed by 78 residents was filed, the Board of Aldermen Monday evening refused to change the land from manufacturing and business district to a single residence zone.

The Planning Board voted 5 to 2 for the change, and submitted the following unanimous resolution:

"Resolved, that the Planning Board is of the opinion that the land now in the business zone on the northwest side of Centre st. from Norwood ave. to Crescent ave. should be rezoned and placed in the Single Residence B district, and they recommend that the zoning ordinance be so changed that a hearing be held in September on the proposed change."

Stating that many of the signers "do not live in the neighborhood," George E. Rawson, chairman of the claims and rules committee, told the board that in 1935 a similar petition was rejected, although at that time the petition called for placing the land in a private residence zone. "That petition was not as restrictive, but the committee at that time recommended leave to withdraw on the ground that for the neighbors to get together and zone the other fellow's land and nothing else was confiscation," he said.

That one of the signers of the petition had been persuaded to sign "under misrepresentation," was told to the board by Alderman Joseph B. Jamieson. He also said that at a hearing on the petition, a representative of an improvement association who favored the petition admitted that he "didn't know what zone the surrounding property was in."

Jamieson also revealed that opponents of the petition had submitted evidence showing that if houses were built on the land at the shore of the lake, a road would have to be constructed to provide access to them, thereby doubling the cost of the development.

He quoted Albert Temperley, owner of adjacent property, as saying that he favored the change, but that his conscience moved him to question his right "to deprive the owners of the value of the land," since the petitioners proposed to put the land "in the highest zone, thereby taking value from the owners of the property."

Vice-president Clifford H. Walker opposed the petition, stating: "When it is necessary to take property to accomplish a public purpose, it should be taken by eminent domain and proper compensation should be awarded the owner." He said that it would be "a rank injustice and utterly unwarranted" to change the zone as provided in the petition.

Alderman Carroll J. Hoffman agreed that it would be "discriminatory legislation" and that "single residence goes too far."

It was suggested by Alderman John Temperley that action be deferred so that a conference with the Planning Board might be held on the matter. Alderman Maxwell P. Gaddis favored a hearing on the Planning Board's resolution.

On the grounds that delay "would do no good," Alderman Jamieson opposed deferred action. "We must start from the bottom and go all over it again," he stated concerning solution of the zoning problem at the location.

Regulations calling for a one-hour parking limit near 387-389-395 Washington st., Ward 1, and angle parking on Washington st. from Parsons st. to Cross st., Ward 3, which were recommended by Chief of Police Michael T. Hughes, were rejected by the board.

A plea from Ernest E. Fewkes for a permit to change a single dwelling at 120 Hyde st., Newton Highlands, to a two-family house in a single residence district was granted by the board, following a public hearing held on the matter by the claims and rules committee. Chairman Rawson said that there would be no external (Continued on page 6)

Newton Centre Woman Speaks At Defense Tea

Mrs. Mabelle M. Groves of Parker st. was the guest speaker at a Defense Tea held on Friday at the home of Dr. Mary Sturgis at Marblehead and New York City. She was assisted by Mrs. Sarah S. P. Stevens of Marblehead and Newton Upper Falls, the president of Newton Woman's Christian Temperance Union. Mrs. Groves told of a recent tour of some of the camps, especially Fort Lewis, the third largest army camp in the United States where 60,000 soldiers are in training, where fine chapels, a large hospital take care of the moral and physical needs of the soldiers but where eleven beer halls are also operating within the Fort, and she asked the question why with all our government's efforts for efficiency and accuracy a narcotic, a drug and a poison should be allowed within the boundaries of the camp, undoing many things the government's efficiency experts could include in their training program. She said these are the days when our government is ever alert hunting down enemies and quoted Lloyd George as saying in World War number 1, "We are fighting great enemies but the greatest of these is Drink." She urged that all support be given the Sheppard bill, S860 and many of the neighbors and summer residents of Marblehead signed the Resolutions in favor of this bill to be sent to Washington, a bill which would banish all alcoholic beverages from all the cantonments or camps and also prohibit houses of prostitution and vice from the vicinity.

Newton Health Report Praised

The general make-up and the information contained in the recent annual report of the Newton Health Department was the subject of an editorial published in the current issue of the New England Journal of Medicine highly praising the report.

The article states "The Newton report for 1940 is altogether admirable. It contains many items of interest to the citizen, in addition to the usual statistical information. There is, for example, a tribute to the late Dr. Edward Mellus, who was a member of the department at the time of his death. There are accounts of the Newton Community Council, the Newton Hospital, the Newton Medical Club, the Newton Dental Society, the Newton District Nursing Association, the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, the Red Cross and other such organizations. All these things tend to knit together the interest of a community and to hasten the day when fewer surveys and more frequent coordinated activities on the part of groups of participating agencies will appear. Public health activities need not be streamlined, but there are many cities and towns in which there are both omissions and duplications of effort. The degree in which public-health officials are aware of these omissions and duplications determines the proportion in which they are increasing the value of the services they render to the people."

Registration of New School Pupils

Notice has been issued by the school authorities for the registration before the opening day on September 8 of all pupils who will enter the Newton High School from private schools or schools outside of Newton.

Placement tests will be given at 8:30 a. m. on Friday, Sept. 5, for candidates who wish to enter Grade X from private schools. Examinations for college preparatory pupils will be given in English, Mathematics, French, and Latin. Pupils who wish to enter the business course will be examined in English and Arithmetic.

Registration for these tests should be made in Room 314 at the Newton High School on Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday (Sept. 2, 3, 4). Pupils should bring their ninth grade school records with them. If pupils desire a conference with Miss Riley before they register, they may make appointments by telephoning Lasell 6267.

All pupils from public schools outside of Newton should register for admission to Grades X, XI and XII in Room 314 during the week preceding the opening date, Sept. 8. Appointments may be made for conferences by telephoning Lasell 6267.

Veduccio Is Named To Reserve Police Force

George H. Veduccio, of Melbourn ave., Newtonville, son of Police Captain Nicholas Veduccio, was appointed a member of the reserve force of the Police Department on Saturday by Chief Michael T. Hughes.

Young Veduccio was appointed a temporary patrolman at the beginning of the summer and has been covering routes of regular patrolmen on vacations.

After returning Saturday from his vacation at York, Me., Chief Hughes departed for Buffalo, where he attended the convention of the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

Kiwanis Club

E. J. Pease, vice president of the Newton Kiwanis Club, discussed the situation in regard to the conservation of petroleum products at the meeting of the local Kiwanis Club last Tuesday. Mr. Pease emphasized the importance of conserving every drop of gasoline possible, in order to avoid real want and possible suffering later on. Mr. Pease said that the State of Massachusetts had already made a lot of progress in reducing gasoline consumption, and in fact led all of the eastern states in this respect, but he emphasized that even larger savings were necessary.

Field Day at Carr Playground

Many children who have been working like proverbial beavers to make their one big summer event a success participated in the annual field day of the Carr Playground in Newtonville on last Thursday.

The main feature of the affair was a Floradora dance, coached by Miss Marjorie DeSantis, and including the following dancers: Marjorie DeSantis, Barbara Foley, Mary Hurley, Victoria Barbo, Cynthia Vincola, Marie St. George, Lucy Barbo and Ann Shuberg. Another feature was a costume parade, in which Richard Crosby won first prize in his portrayal of Miss Carr of 1945. Estelle Lupo was awarded second prize. Other participants were Daniel Barbo, dressed as a gypsy; Barbara Main, Dutchman; Charlotte Barbo, cowboy; Francis Farrell, mouse; Paul McIntosh, Indian; William Foley, pirate; Leighton Bicknell, aviator, and Theresa Fallon, Uncle Sam.

A play entitled, "A Bit of Blue Ribbon," was presented by Victor's Barbo, Lucy Barbo and Cynthia Vincola.

Three boys, and two girls, Newell Bicknell, Stanley Beam, Richard Crosby, Ann St. George and Victoria Barbo, were awarded prizes for outstanding sportsmanship and assistance on the playground.

Miss Barbara Burke, playground instructor, was in charge of the event, assisted by Miss DeSantis, John Lawless, and Newell Bicknell, president of the Carr Playground Council. Leighton Reimer was in charge of music. Mrs. Joseph Conroy and Mrs. Leslie St. George were the judges of the costumes.

Prize winners in other contests were as follows:

Playgrounds Join For Big Field Day

Four Newton playgrounds joined forces Friday afternoon to hold their annual field day on the Boyd playground.

Other playgrounds participating in the affair were the Stearns, Victory and Hawthorne Playgrounds. The prizes awarded to the winners were donated by the Newton Lodge of Elks, and presented by Mrs. Louis Marshall, chairman of the Newton Recreation Commission. F. Ewing Wilson, recreation commissioner, and Mrs. Ragna Hovgaard, district supervisor, were in charge of arrangements. The judges were Mrs. Joseph Boughan, Miss Gladys Forbush and George Lynch. Others in charge were Julia Farrington, Helena Klein and George King, from Boyd playground; Irma Nightingale, Ralph Hamilton and Mrs. Pauline Tescher, from Stearns; Lillian Nardone, James Gallagher and John Lawless, from Victory, and Lillian Swartz, Mary Feeney and Anthony Lombardi, representing the Hawthorne Playground.

The Boyd and Victory teams captured all the titles in the sports calling for teamwork, as follows: girls' baseball, Victory; Junior boys' baseball, Boyd; midge boys' baseball, Boyd; fistball, Boyd; dodgeball, Boyd and Victory; slagball, Boyd and Victory.

The event was featured by group dancing and costume and carriage parades. First place in the carriage parade was won by Mary Murphy of Stearns, whose carriage was decorated to resemble a flower. Bernadette Regan of Boyd was given second prize.

Awards in the costume parade were made as follows: Most patriotic, James English of Boyd, soldier; funniest, Henry McDonald of Victory, blind woman; Lionel Boudray and Bert Ryan of Stearns as colored man and wife; most original, Marjorie Boudreau of Stearns, Hawaiian; horrible, James Murphy of Boyd as veteran, first; John McDonald of Victory, as old man, second; most practical, May Boudreau of Stearns, Red Cross Nurse; most attractive, Dorothy Boughan of Boyd as glamour girl, Jeanne Calder of Victory as major-ette.

Alice Bernard and Richard Delaney, both of Boyd won the freckle contest for children under 12 years of age.

Donate Many Articles To Local Red Cross

More than 100 knitted and sewed articles, the product of work on the part of many Newton playground girls, have been donated to the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross by Mrs. Ragna Hovgaard, director of the Junior Red Cross project at Newton Playgrounds.

Seventeen girls at the Boyd Playground in Newton completed 60 articles and the Waban group turned in 50 articles of clothing. A small group working at the Stearns playground made 10 jackets under the direction of Mrs. Pauline Teschner.

The following articles were made by Junior Red Cross workers at the Boyd playground under the direction of Mrs. Warren Provost, chairman: Mrs. George Rogers and Miss Helen Klein: 17 knitted bonnets, 11 long robes, four short jackets, 17 bonnets and 11 pairs of booties.

The children of the Waban playgrounds, under the direction of Mrs. Edwin B. Roberts and Mrs. James Butler, made three afghans, 11 sweaters, nine jackets, 10 bonnets and 17 pairs of booties.

Transporting Defense Workers

Modern defense industry breaks down unless the workers can be carried swiftly and safely back and forth from home to plant or office. If you are working on defense in Greater Boston, you can count on the "EL" for fast, reliable transportation—at the lowest cost per mile.

Maintaining Good Transportation for All

Even when the main job is defense, community life goes on. —Thousands have important non-defense duties. Women shop. Workers seek recreation. Children go to school. The "EL" will provide thrifty, dependable transportation for these activities.

THE 'EL' IS READY— FOR THE 2 BIG JOBS

With an efficient transportation system, the Boston Elevated Railway is prepared to meet increased demands for service.

The average number of weekday passengers in 1940 was 882,382. Yet, on September 23, 1940, the system carried 1,403,518 passengers.

Today we are ready to furnish more cars, more trips, more frequent service—as required by public needs.

The "EL" can provide transportation for at least 25% more riders than used the system last year.

Conserving Resources

Because the "EL" carries many passengers in one vehicle, it uses less power and material per passenger mile than other forms of city travel. In regard to efficiency and economy, modern mass transportation has the same advantages as modern mass production.

One "EL" bus carries as many persons as usually ride in twenty automobiles. About 400 automobiles are used to transport the average number of passengers in a single rapid transit train during rush hours.

Thus, use of the "EL" conserves vital national resources. It also speeds traffic in congested city areas. The larger the proportion of persons who ride the "EL", the fewer the total number of vehicles on the streets.

The Best Way to Save Gasoline

To still "go where you always go" and save gas all the way, we suggest that you ride the "EL" for trips throughout Greater Boston. For it is in heavy traffic—with frequent starts and stops—that your gasoline delivers the fewest miles per gallon.

In many cases, the "EL" is faster and more convenient than any other city transportation. In all cases, it is safe and economical.

GAY—SQUIER

Miss Barbara Squier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Edwin Squier of 119 Parker st., Newton Centre, was married to L. Stearns Gay, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon S. Gay of Cavendish, Vermont, at four o'clock on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 16, in the Church of Christ, Hanover, N. H. Rev. W. Gordon Poole of Glen Falls, New York, performed the ceremony, which was followed by a reception at the Hanover Inn.

The bride wore her mother's wedding gown of white satin trimmed with duchess and Bohemian lace. Her long veil was caught to a coronet of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of white orchids, swansonia, stephanotis and sweet peas. Mrs. Theodore A. Smith of Germantown, Pa., was the matron of honor. She wore a bouffant gown of dusty pink marquisette with a panel of soft gray. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Charles R. Corwin, 2nd, of Winchester, and Mrs. Foster L. Greene of Cavendish, Vermont, wore gowns of gray marquisette with dusty pink panels and carried bouquets of shaded pink snapdragons and pink and lavender larkspur, with matching flower tiaras on their hair.

Sherwood B. Seeley of New York was the best man. The ushers were Stewart J. Frem of Worcester, Stewart D. Baird of Waban, Foster L. Greene and Wyman Tupper of Cavendish, Vermont.

On their return from a wedding trip to Canada and the Adirondacks, Mr. and Mrs. Gay will reside in Cavendish, Vermont, where they will be at home after Sept. 15.

The bride was graduated from Colby Junior College and the Katharine Gibbs School. The groom attended Colgate University and the Rhode Island School of Design, and was graduated from the Lowell Textile Institute.

MARSHALL—MacMILLAN

Mrs. C. W. Sutherland of Auburndale announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Hope MacMillan to Wallace P. Marshall of Newark, New Jersey, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Marshall of Newtonville, on August 16 in Corpus Christi Church, Auburndale, at a nuptial mass celebrated by the Rev. A. Carroll, S. J., of Boston College.

The bride was attended by Miss Mary Cunningham. Mr. Maurice B. Marshall, Jr., was his brother's best man.

The bridegroom was graduated from Boston College in 1938.

On their return from a honeymoon at West Falmouth on the Cape, Mr. Marshall and his bride will be at home after September 1st at 95 Stanley ave., Nutley, N. J.

WRIGHT—WALBRIDGE

Miss Marian Walbridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carey A. Walbridge of Peterboro, New Hampshire, was married to George Ward Wright, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George W. Wright of Newtonville, on Saturday afternoon, August 16, in the garden of her parents' home. A reception followed at the Peterborough Country Club.

The bride wore a gown of white silk marquisette with a long train. Her veil of fingertip length was caught to a matching tulle head-dress and she carried white sweet peas and baby's breath with a white orchid. Miss Muriel Smith of Danvers was the maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Cox of Boston, Miss Nancy Nichols and Miss Madeline Cummings of Peterborough, and Miss Peggy Lou Sheppard of Pittsborough, Pa. They all wore gowns of dotted swiss similar to the bride's and carried asters shading from deep lavender to pink fastened with vines of ivy.

Richard Miner of Newtonville was the best man. The ushers were Robert Miner of Newtonville,

Recent Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. Melville D. Liming of Newton Centre announce the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth (Betsy) to Ensign Robert E. Rew, Jr., U. S. N. R., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Rew of Spring Valley, New York.

Miss Liming attended Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, Wellesley College and graduated this year from the Bouve-Boston School.

Ensign Rew is a graduate of Lawrenceville School, Yale College and Harvard Law School, class of 1940. As Ensign Rew is at present on active naval duty, plans for the wedding are indefinite, but it will take place probably in the late fall or early winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter F. Donovan of 806 Watertown st., West Newton, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Janice Childs Donovan, to Frank Getchell Neal, Jr., of Cambridge, and Wells, Me. Miss Donovan attended Lasell Junior College. Mr. Neal prepared at Browne and Nichols and was graduated from Harvard in 1941. He will enter Harvard Law School this fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Groper of 301 Waverley ave., Newton, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Millicent Camille Groper, to Bertram A. Druker, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Druker of Boston. Miss Groper attended the Rockwood Park School and Boston University. The groom prepared at the Cambridge School, Kendal Green, and was graduated from Franklin and Marshall College.

Mr. Harold Page Smith of 89 Larchmont rd., Waban, has announced the engagement of his daughter, Miss Josephine Smith, to Kingsley F. Norris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kingsley C. Norris of Olean, New York. Miss Smith attended the Katharine Gibbs School. Mr. Norris was graduated from Deerfield Academy and from Amherst College in 1931. He is a member of Psi Upsilon fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Atwood Kelley of Auburndale announce the engagement of their daughter Miss Muriel Fellows Kelley to Mr. Wilbur Harper Paulsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. Paulsen of Quincy. Mr. Paulsen attended Massachusetts Institute of Technology and was graduated from Lowell Institute.

GLORIOSO—SCHOFIELD

Miss Florina Mae Schofield, daughter of Mr. William Schofield of 17 Linden st., Newton Upper Falls, and John A. Glorioso, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Glorioso of 65 Worcester st., Wellesley Hills, were married on Saturday, August 16, at 2:30 p. m. in the chapel of the First Methodist Church, Newton Upper Falls, in the presence of immediate relatives and friends with Dr. Hobart F. Goewey, pastor, officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride wore a gown of white satin with a tulle veil and carried a white prayer book and white roses. She was attended by her sister Miss Virginia Schofield who wore a gown of pink brocade satin with an Alice Blue poke bonnet and carried a bouquet of white roses. The groom was attended by his brother, Joseph Glorioso of Wellesley Hills.

Following a wedding trip to Maine Mr. and Mrs. Glorioso will reside in Boston.

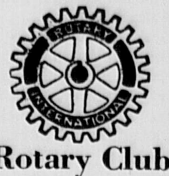

Cash-Seeking Thief Steals Boy's Bank

Leaving articles of much more value intact, a burglar departed from the home of Dr. Robert M. Zollinger of 15 Bracebridge rd., Newton Centre, Friday with a glass bank containing about $10. The bank was stolen from the room of its owner, seven-year-old Robert Zollinger, Jr. The fact that this bank was the entire extent of the loot indicates that the thief sought only cash.

The burglar gained entrance to the house by breaking the glass in a rear window. The theft was discovered by a member of the family and occurred while they were at a beach resort. Dr. Zollinger is a member of the staff of the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital.

PETER PUBLIC—Fun in a Barber Shop

Rotary Club

The Reverend Samuel M. Lindsay, D.D., pastor of the Brookline Baptist Church, was the speaker at the weekly meeting of the Newton Rotary Club held Monday at the Brae Burn Country Club. He spoke on "Russia" and gave some information that he had obtained first-hand on visits to the country in 1931 and 1936.

From a geographical standpoint Russia occupies one sixth of the earth's surface and has a population of one hundred eighty million. It has rich mineral wealth, fertile soil, great rivers and forests and a climate that varies from arctic to semi-tropic. The only limitation of the country geographically is the fact that it has practically no sea coast and few deep harbors. The Russian people are linguistic geniuses, most of them speaking several languages, and this attribute is not confined to any one class but is general throughout the population.

Dr. Lindsay said that on his first visit in 1931 he found everything in the country standardized. All classes, government officials, students, workers, prisoners, etc., ate the same food and received the same wages. Although conditions had improved somewhat in 1936 Russia is still a gigantic poorhouse and prison, its people being the poorest fed and housed in all Europe.

As between Communism and Fascism Dr. Lindsay believes they are essentially the same thing. Communism is the Russian interpretation, and Fascism the German and Italian, of the doctrines of Karl Marx. In actual practice the theories have not worked and their trial in Russia has reduced the Russians to a nation of paupers. The only reason the people have stood these conditions is because of their belief that "tomorrow" things will be different.

In conclusion Dr. Lindsay said the Russian army has been preparing for war since 1920 and that several billions have been spent on armaments. This army has proved itself to be the only one in Europe which could stand against Germany. All the others have either fallen or withdrawn in far less time. They now show signs of crumbling but even if the Germans progress further into the country they would be unable to completely conquer it due to the large population and immense size. However, Dr. Lindsay feels that if the Germans obtain control of the Ukraine and Caucasus regions, with their vast supplies of oil and wheat, the present European war may well continue for ten years.

The speaker was introduced by Joseph Limric of the program committee and President Charles H. Meeker presided. Vice-President Mathew Ruane gave a short report on the District conference held at Wellesley last week. Among the visiting Rotarians were Arthur Dow of Hingham and G. P. Crandall of Westfield, N. Y.

Fined $210 on Driving Charges

A total of $210 in fines was imposed on Stuart Shepard, 41, of 89 Rawson rd., Brookline, in the Newton District Court on Thursday on charges growing out of his arrest on the Worcester turnpike on August 7.

He was fined $150 on a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor, $10 for drunkenness, and $50 for driving after his license had been revoked. The defendant appealed.

Shepard was arrested near the junction of Boylston and Parker sts. by Patrolmen Wilfred Lupien and Guy B. Litchfield after his car had struck the curbing on the reservation. He pleaded not guilty, but was convicted after a lengthy hearing.

Connecticut Woman's Car Stolen While Visiting

An automobile belonging to Mrs. Marion J. Rosenberg, 149 Broadway, Norwich, Conn., was stolen last Friday morning from its parking space in front of the home of Mrs. Juliet Praise, 255 Tremont st., whom she was visiting. The car was later found abandoned in Cambridge.

Lost Boy Finds Police Pennies Entertaining

When James Perry, 3 years old, of Dunstan st., West Newton, returned home Friday after being gone for nearly three hours, he was richer by as many pennies as his two small fists could hold. During his absence from his home, he was being entertained by the Police Department, and the only way this could be accomplished, evidently, was by giving him pennies to play with. In response to numerous queries as to his name, the boy just replied "Jimmy." He was picked up in West Newton sq. and turned over to the police by a citizen who feared that he might be struck by an automobile.

Couple Reconciled In Newton Court

A dramatic reconciliation was effected in Newton District Court on Saturday between a husband who was brought back to Newton from Portland, Me., to face a charge of non-support, and his wife who filed the complaint.

The defendant, Darrell Gilson, 24, was placed on probation by Judge Thomas Weston after he agreed to pay $10 a week for the support of his family. The two young people, who left the courtroom a happily married couple, have a child nine months old. While Gilson was in Maine, his wife and child had been living with relatives at 849 Beacon st., Newton Centre. He was arrested and brought back by Lieut. Daniel E. Crowley and Inspector Philip Purcell.

Newton Defense Students Lose Gas

Some Newton citizens, it seems, in addition to giving their efforts for defense, must also shoulder the hardships imposed upon others because of the campaign for preparedness in case of emergency.

While students at the Newton Trade School are training to be defense workers, thieves are siphoning gasoline from the tanks in their cars, it was reported to the police by Arthur S. Swanson, supervising engineer of the School Department. Police blamed motorists stranded without gas in the vicinity of the parking area, who have found it impossible to obtain gasoline from stations, which close at 7 p. m.

Another such instance was reported when Everett Bird of 5 Chester st., told the police that gasoline was siphoned from his car while it was parked in his garage.

Brought From R.I. On Larceny Charge

Brought back from Providence recently to face a charge of larceny, Robert G. Lloyd, 23, of 8 Beacon ave., Providence, R. I., was given a suspended sentence of three months in the House of Correction in the Newton District Court Thursday, only to be rearrested on a similar charge by the Wellesley police.

On a complaint charging him with the theft of a .25 calibre automatic pistol from a rooming house in Newton Lower Falls, Lloyd was returned to Newton by Lieut. Daniel E. Crowley and Sergeant Richard L. Bannon. He was also wanted by Sergeant Bannon for failing to show up at an intersection and was fined $5 on that charge. He is wanted by the Wellesley police for the theft of a brooch at a rooming house in that town.

Lloyd, a gun fancier, said that he had added the pistol to his collection at his home in Monson, Me. It has been recovered by the police and returned to the owner.

Upper Falls Garden Club Holds Meeting and Party

The members and friends of the Newton Upper Falls Garden Club attended a card party in the Garden of the home of Mrs. John Donlon on last Thursday afternoon.

Dessert was served at 1:30 p. m. by the hostess with Mrs. Harold T. Sprague, co-hostess.

Bridge, whist and Chinese checkers were enjoyed during the afternoon. Gifts of dainty enameled trays were awarded for bridge to Miss A. Gertrude Osborne, Mrs. A. W. Flint and Mrs. Nora Marden; for whist to Mrs. John Temperley, for Chinese checkers to Miss Elinor Newey.

The next monthly meeting of the club will be held at the home of Miss A. Gertrude Osborne in her Hillside Garden, 117 High st. on Thursday, September 4.

The Club is planning a Flower Show which will be held in the basement of the R. W. Emerson School on Thursday, September 18, during the afternoon and evening.

Continuous Enrollment for CCC at Welfare Dept.

Director of Public Welfare James P. Reynolds has announced that continuous enrollment for the CCC camps will be held at the office of the Public Welfare Department in the future. Those eligible to be assigned to the camps are young men between 17 and 23 years, inclusive.

Frost may be looked for near the end of September, say the observers of signs and seasons. The katydid has appeared in the land, and the old sign places the date of this noisy insect's appearance just forty-two days before frost.

Last Sabbath the rare and clear atmosphere attracted many people to the summit of the hill surrounding our reservoir. The view was superb, Mounts Wachusett and Monadnock being clearly seen. The spot is often spoken of as a magnificent location for a summer hotel.

Last Saturday evening a night blooming cereus in the garden of Mr. J. W. French of Washington st., was in blossom. The family were away but Mr. French had sent invitations to the immediate neighbors and a large number saw the beautiful flowers during the evening.

The summer travelers are beginning to arrive home and the cool weather of the past week has shortened many vacations on the shore and mountains.

The Eliot Memorial is a favorite place for pedestrians, but strangers are continually asking, "Where is the memorial?" They say they can find the foundation if they look carefully enough but they fail to see any memorial.

It remains for a citizen of Newton to vouch for the appearance of a veritable sea-serpent. Schoolmaster Putnam of West Newton describes his appearance minutely and the marines can believe it now. Barnum's $20,000 offer still stands good.

A good deal of complaint is being made that the board of health do not investigate and clean out the hog-pens on California st. The stench has been unbearable for the past week.

The Aetna Mill Company have a gang of men at work clearing out the bed of the river, from the dam down below their cottages, so the people on California st. will not be annoyed or made sick by any smell from the river. Now let the board of health take the hint and clear out the hogs before cholera or some other contagious disease breaks out.

Dr. Sylvester has become the owner of a tricycle, and uses it in visiting his patients. It is expected that he will be able to recommend it on hygienic principles to his patients.

Postmaster Morgan is on duty again, having spent the past ten days inhaling the sea breeze on the southern shore of Cape Cod and resting away from official cares.

The wedding gifts of the Prince of Wales to Mrs. Julian Story (nee Emma Eames) were a diamond brooch and his photograph, accompanied by a letter of congratulation.

It has been the custom of some of the operatives at the Aetna mill to stay out the day after pay day and get drunk. Last Monday morning ten of them were paid off and told that they were no longer needed.

Newton Centre items—Fall of baby on Chestnut Hill (Editor's note—a longer item tells of the finding of a five-weeks old male infant near the railroad track between Chestnut Hill and Reservoir stations).

Mrs. Wardwell is in town again.

"Say," said a small boy, "did yer know Henry Hesse had got home."

The old depot building (Newton Centre) has been removed and a large force of men are at work removing all traces of its recent departure.

There is great rejoicing over the fact that the school house clock struck the hours yesterday from 11 a. m. onward, and there are hopes that this new feature will become permanent.

The late Mr. J. B. B. had a life insurance of several thousand dollars, for the benefit of his wife.

There has been a new barber in town (Upper Falls) this week.

The "posse" of citizens who "scoured berry hill" Monday in search of that phantom hair kidnapper have not materialized in Upper Falls yet. And those "golden tresses." The stories in the Boston penny morning paper looked ridiculous to our citizens and created great amusement. (Editor's note—the reference was to excitement created by a 17-year-old girl berrypicker who claimed her long black braid was cut off by a tramp—from details of her story it was believed that the girl herself cut it off and feigned unconsciousness for an hour or more.)

Boston & Albany announces new plan for greater protection at grade crossings. Additional safeguards and more warning signs near and approaching such crossings. Railroad to furnish signs without cost to city or town which will set them up.

Thomas W. White of Upper Falls accepts position of first deputy under Supervisor of Administration. White was a member of the Commission of Economy and Efficiency which was abolished by the Legislature in setting up the office of Supervisor of Administration. Salary of deputy set at $4500. Mr. White was a member of Board of Aldermen from 1904 to 1909 and of the House of Representatives from 1910 to 1914.

Howard M. Biscoe is a member of the committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce which is urging the adoption of the Daylight saving plan.

Charles Burton Ames of West Newton sails for France on Sept. 2nd where he will drive an ambulance for the "American Ambulance Field Service in France" until the war is finished. A Newton high school and Amherst college graduate.

Editorial—The city government would strike a popular vein if it could see its way clear to make an appropriation for removal of lawn clippings from the smaller estates in the city. Householders who have less than a quarter of an acre of land are in a serious dilemma in disposing of the weekly accumulation of grass from their lawns. It is rare that there is any dumping place within easy reach and it is quite expensive to hire a team for its removal to more distant points. It would seem comparatively simple to allow the ash or waste teams to include this class of refuse and thus convenience many people.

Youth Injured In Crash of Stolen Truck

A youth was injured late Monday night when a market truck alleged to have been stolen in Newton Centre crashed into a tree opposite 170 Jackson st.

Timothy A. McCarthy, 18, of 32 Chesley rd., was found lying on the ground at the scene. He was removed to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance by Patrolmen John McMullen and Thomas F. Leehan, Jr., and was found to have suffered severe injuries to his face, apparently received when his head hit the windshield.

The truck was operated at the time of the accident, by Edward T. Sullivan, 16, of 24 Garland rd., according to the police. He told the police that the accident occurred when he was blinded by the glare of the headlights of another machine.

The truck, owned by the Newton Centre Market, Centre st., was stolen from its parking place at the rear of the establishment about 10:30 p. m.

Dog Killed By Hit And Run Auto Driver

A dog owned by George L. Gogan, 47 Terrace ave., Newton Highlands, was killed by a hit-and-run auto last Saturday night. The animal was found dead by police at the rear of 9 Meredith ave., after he had limped from the scene of the accident on the turnpike at Boylston st. and Circuit ave., Newton Upper Falls. The identity of the owner was established through the license tag.

prove good for me to have to move on to a less easy way of life, and I know that it will not injure the law. In fact the most obvious weakness in this body comes from the tendency of a few to linger on for many terms, unwilling to give way to new blood.

It would be misleading for me to dwell overmuch upon my reluctance to leave civil life. I am proud to serve in the military forces under the fearless decisive leadership of our able Commander-in-Chief. There are two erroneous statements often made by people who should know better. One is that we must have disagreement at home in order to keep democracy alive, and the other is that our democracy cannot survive a war. Unless free people can unite in self-discipline they cannot hope to stand against the regimented might of the dictators.

I have no fears but that the people of this country can and will get back all the rights which they may be called upon to forego temporarily during emergency or war. This country was born in a war and has survived five others with no diminution of its democratic spirit. It is as worth fighting for now as at any time in the past and it is an honor to have some small part in its defense.

Respectfully submitted,
RICHARD H. LEE.

ave. and Harry L. Haines of 15 Lindbergh ave.

Those who desired the betterment of the road were Orville S. Parker of No. 67, and Helen P. Morton of No. 61 who said that the street near her home was in such need of repair that milk trucks awakened residents in the early morning. Parker stated that there were enough signatures on the petition to justify the project.

Joseph Spillane, whose home is at Lindbergh ave. and Waltham st. said that he was willing to bear his share of the expense "if it would help the others," despite the better condition of his end of the street. C. David Gordon of 35 Lindbergh ave. also expressed himself in favor of the project.

The proposed construction and acceptance of Murphy court, Ward 2, from Hawthorn st. to Adams st. including cement curbing, was opposed by three property owners. No opposition was offered to a similar project on Grayson lane, Newton Lower Falls, from Concord st., to the end.

The following proposed street widenings were also unopposed: Walnut st., Newton, west side from Austin st. to the railroad bridge; Crescent ave., Newton Centre, at Pelham st. and at Pleasant st.; Waverley ave., Newton Centre, from Montrose st. southerly.

Camp Day News

Minstrel Show Saturday Night

The annual Camp Day minstrel show will be held on Saturday night, the traditional last Saturday night of the camping season. Arthur Barnard of Manassett, New York, director of the show, has planned an entertainment which will feature many of the current popular songs. He has been assisted by Robert Worrick of the University of Maine and Wellesley.

The blackface endmen have been chosen for their singing ability as well as knowledge of comedy. Sheldon Jenkins of Newton will have a strong role in the show with his trumpet solo, vocal solo and his acts as an endman. Other endmen are Max Kraus of Harvard, Bill Bucklin of Rhode Island State College, Dwight Moody of the University of Maine and Richard and Dick Worrick of Wellesley.

Robert Desautels, a member of the Harvard University Glee Club, will offer "Deep Purple" as his solo, and his baritone voice is one of the pleasing musical treats of the entire season at the camp. Arthur Barnard will not only sing a solo but will accompany the chorus in "When Day Is Done," and play the piano for a portion of that number. He has also written a new camp song which will be heard for the first time by the public on Saturday night.

Gordon Hobson of Newton Centre will again dance a specialty which was one of the hits of an earlier show this season. A burlesque on a popular song will have as chief characters: Richard Wright of Newton Highlands, Jack Masters of Newton and Dwight Moody. Sam Lindsay of Walpole has a novelty number to be played on his now camp-famous "sweet potato."

Warren Fleischer of Harvard will play the piano for most of the numbers in the show and Thomas F. O'Donnell will be the Interlocutor.

Treasure Hunt Completed

Starting on Monday and running through Wednesday the annual Treasure Hunt of the Camp Day season was completed this week. Clues devised by members of the committee were placed in various regions surrounding the camp as well as within the camp grounds. In the Midget division the boys had completed twenty-one clues in the first day which is more than have been set out in the entire period in past years.

The award of prizes will be made to the winners on Banquet Night next Monday. This year Mr. Johnson has selected something new and will not divulge the exact nature of the article until the first boy opens his prize that night.

Members of the committee responsible for the Hunt are: Senior Division, Gene Phenner, Dick Karb, Max Kraus and Eliot Hall; Juniors, Warren Fleischer, William Bucklin, Dick Wright and Sheldon Jenkins; Midgets, Carl Eschebach, Ray Hunting, Keith Kingsbury and Ed Proctor.

Final Track Meet

The first of the final events of the athletic season of Camp Day was decided on last Saturday when the final track meet was held under the direction of Carter Munroe, chairman of the Track Committee. The Hansen-led Yankees fell victim to the Red Sox whose high scorers were Bob LeVine and Ross Humphrey. that he had taken steps to repair it.

The board granted the petition of Cyril Forbush for a permit to build an overhead trellis over his tree nurseries on Washington st., opposite Beacon st., on condition that the wood used for the structure be cedar. The permission was granted by the board despite the objections of vice-president Clifford H. Walker and Alderman Henderson Inches. Walker's objection was that the trellis might become unsightly in time. Alderman Inches opposed the board's action on the grounds that the petitioner "broke his agreement not to sell at the location." Others opposed to the petition were Aldermen Carroll J. Hoffman and John Temperley.

Alderman Carroll J. Hoffman inquired whether the higher wages paid WPA workers at Fort Devens was due to the fact that the city paid the transportation. Chairman Carl F. Schipper, Jr., replied that the pay was higher at Fort Devens than in the city because "the hours are longer." He added that if the city did not pay the transportation, the 28 men would be dropped from the WPA and most of them would revert to the Welfare Department, resulting in a much greater cost to the city.

The Metropolitan region of the Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety, comprising 42 cities and towns, has been organized for defense purposes with a staff in charge of various divisions. Four controllers have been appointed to complete the co-ordination of local Public Safety committees. The control centres will be in Boston, in Malden for the north area, in Newton for the western area, and in Quincy for the southern area.

Arthur Rogov of Newton, general manager of the Sears, Roebuck Company for Metropolitan Boston will direct the Newton Control Center. He will be assisted by Walter H. Boireau of Belmont and Arthur Cronin of Newton.

The Y. M. C. A. building will be closed all day on Labor Day.

During the month of September the following conferences and functions will be held at Camp Frank A. Day: September 1st, Congregational Church of Holden; September 7th, the young people of the Eliot Congregational of Newton; September 10th, the Y. M. C. A. Board of Directors will hold their first fall meeting; September 11th, 12th, the meetings of the two state Association of Secretaries; also on the 12th, 13th and 14th, the two state H. Y. Congress; September 18, 19, 20, 21, will be taken by the Clark Union Freshmen in their Orientation program; on the weekend of the 27th, the two state Young Men's Congress will be held. This will bring to a close the actual use of the camp until 1942.

The membership in both the Men's and Boy's division is above that of last year. With the fall months approaching, a sharp increase in membership is anticipated.

Every Tuesday night, the Y building is used by the Watertown Arsenal Glee Club for their practice period. The group is composed of between thirty and forty singers.

Camp Day

Next Wednesday, the 27th, Camp Frank A. Day will officially draw to a close its 1941 season. On Monday evening the final banquet will be held followed by a program. The camp enjoyed a very successful season under the direction of Mr. C. E. Johnson, camp director.

Boys' Division

On September 3rd, the members of the Boys' Division are taking a trip through Hood's Dairy. If enough boys sign up for the trip a bus will be chartered.

The Alley Y Club, meeting every Monday evening, continues to grow in membership under the supervision of Mr. Morton Harrington.

This past Wednesday about twenty boys visited the studios of WBZ, where in addition to touring the studio, they saw a program being broadcast. Bob Blakeney and Dick Hall were in charge of the group.

The game tournament held this past week had the following winners: Cue Rogue, Richard Gallant; Ping Pong, Russ Crosby; Checkers, Kenneth Dunn.

Newton Man Named To Control Center Here

The Metropolitan region of the Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety, comprising 42 cities and towns, has been organized for defense purposes with a staff in charge of various divisions. Four controllers have been appointed to complete the co-ordination of local Public Safety committees. The control centres will be in Boston, in Malden for the north area, in Newton for the western area, and in Quincy for the southern area.

Arthur Rogov of Newton, general manager of the Sears, Roebuck Company for Metropolitan Boston will direct the Newton Control Center. He will be assisted by Walter H. Boireau of Belmont and Arthur Cronin of Newton.

Recreation Dept.

Charles Damon was the winner of the pop drinking contest which featured the annual field day of the Newton Centre Playground on Monday. He was the youngest of six contestants, and drank his way to victory through a rubber nipple on a pop bottle.

Another feature on the program was a tap and acrobatic dance composed and executed by Elaine Burke, Dan Carroll and Norman Young were first and second place winners, respectively in the 30-yard dash, and Arthur Bedford and Edward Greenberg were the victors in the 50-yard event for older boys. The team captained by Jerome Gross was first place winner in the relay contest.

Frances Leahy was awarded first prize in the handicraft department for her work on a clothes pin bag. Eleanor De Stefano's table runner captured second place, and the doll's head made by Carol Anderson won third prize. Tony Lombardi won first prize for metal work, Gene Gross was awarded second prize and Richard Lesser, third.

John E. Leary, supervisor of the playground district was in charge, assisted by Miss Barbara Dittmars, Miss Kathleen Sullivan and Richard Lowry.

Dances and vocal solos were rendered by the children of the Newton Highlands Playground Monday afternoon at the annual field day, which was attended by many parents and children.

Recreation Commissioner F. Ewing Wilson and John E. Leary were among the audience who witnessed the program. Miss Margaret Fitzgerald and William P. Sullivan were in charge.

Bill Conkley was awarded first prize for boys' handicraft and Jean Black won first place in the girls' division. Eddie Blake and Jimmy Thompson were also winners in the boys' department, and Helen Keyho was second and Patsy Kinsman won third place for girls' handicraft.

Dancing and musical numbers were presented as follows:

"Back in the Saddle," by Keyho, Lowry and Ferlazzo; "Take Me Out to the Ball Game," dance by Joan Lombardi; "The Nightingale Sang in Berkeley Square," Helen Keyho; "Goodbye Little Darling," S. Ferlazzo; "Let's Get Away From It All," Mary Donahue and Helen Keyho.

DRILL TEAM STATE CHAMPIONS AGAIN

Many Awards at Camp Day Banquet

Monday Night Affair Is Last Event Of Successful Season of Popular "Y" Camp Which Closed Yesterday

Outstanding Camper Awards Are Most Coveted Honors

Camp Frank A. Day officially closed its twenty-sixth season on last Monday night when the two hundred and ten members and twenty guests gathered in the Assembly Hall for the final banquet. The camp did not close its gates until Wednesday noon, but the final banquet traditionally is the last camp activity, with all season honors and athletic ribbons bestowed on that night.

Director C. Evan Johnson in his first year as Director, and his twelfth season as a member of the Camp Day Staff, awarded honors to the boys. He complimented the tent groups for their gaily decorated tables and the splendid appearance of the campers. Mr. Kenneth Dale, General Secretary of the Newton Y. M. C. A., spoke of the successful season completed, and added words of commendation for the fine work of Director Johnson.

The highlight of the season was the award of individual cups to the best all-around camper in each division of the camp, a choice which is eagerly awaited by the boys of the camp. Chosen unanimously by the members of the Counsel Staff, and limited to boys who have been members of the camp for the entire season, the award is based on character, athletic participation, educational work and personality. The first knowledge the boy has of the winners is on banquet night when each winner is called forward to receive the beautiful trophies.

Ranger Awards

Director Johnson announced that for the first time awards were to be made for all-round ability, leadership, and character in the Ranger division of older boys which has been maintained this season for the second year. The Staff Council had deadlocked on its decision as to the award and therefore the honors were given to two youths, Ted Guild and Jack Callahan. They were presented with Leadership Medals, the highest honor presented by the camp and an award which had not been made for the past six or seven years.

The choice in the Senior Camp this year was Ricky Morse of Chestnut Hill. He has been the representative of Tent One in the Senior Cabinet Council, and one of the two recipients of the Honor Emblem this season. Participation in athletics was cut short two weeks ago by a fractured ankle, but he had high scorer in the Canoe Regattas of the early season, played on all athletic teams, and led the winning league team in batting.

Jeffery Haseltine of Belmont was the Junior who received the trophy for that division. Although not the outstanding athlete of that division he was prominent in waterfront activities, and did participate in sports. He won the Expert Canoeist Emblem, Red Cross Junior Life Saving award, and Expert Sailor's Emblem, and was a leader in Craft work. Possessed of a quiet personality he has contributed in a high order to camp life.

Lewis Martiniello of Brighton, the Midget Camp winner was not present to receive his trophy, but a tremendous ovation was given when his name was mentioned. He was not an exceptional athlete, but his self-effacement and maturity of actions prompted the decision of the staff. In tent matters Lewis was the leader, and was of considerable aid to the counselors assigned to his tent.

The Treasure Hunt winners in each division were given attractive tie clasps with the camp seal superimposed on each. The Hunt was held on Monday through Friday of last week and the clues took the boys far afield from the camp grounds. Teams were limited to but two boys, and in case an extra boy was added to the team there would be but two prizes awarded to that team. Arthur Vitzie of Norwood and Lawrence Feldman of Brookline; William Kepner and Jeffery Haseltine; Marvin Axelrod and Charles Mandelstam were the winners in the Midget, Junior and Senior Camps respectively.

The clasps were awarded to the tennis champions of the Senior and Junior Camps also. Held on last Saturday morning the matches were watched by a large gallery. Robert LeVine defeated Bob Connolly of Belmont in two straight sets after having advanced to the final by defeating Billy Hansen. Richard Drisko in three set match edged out Billy Kepner for the Junior championship. The losers in the finals received tennis balls as their prize.

Each season tent inspection determines daily the quality of a tent and the boys of the winning tent are given Camp Day pennants. In the Midget camp this season the tent of Carl Eschelbach and Companion Counselor Colby Ellis and composed of Bob Hatch, Jay Morris, Gordon Edgar, John Govan, Pete Shoup, Alton Lipkinan, Ed White was the honor tent.

Carter Munnie and the members of Tent 12 won the Junior award, and besides Munnie consisted of Doug Burns, Steve Feinberg, Roger Burnham, David Corliss, William Nichols, John Nash and Dwight Carter. The Senior honor or banners were given to Tent 5 only after a close contest with Tent 6. The leader of the winning tent was Dick Karb and the members of his tent were Dick Gleason, Newton Burnett, Jack Clark, Paul Bellefontaine, Gordon Hall and Dick Hartman.

Athletic League competition was won in the Senior camp by the Yankees, coached by Dick Karb, Gene Phenner and John Mathews. The Dodgers, coached by Bill Bucklin and "Duke" Sawyer, won the Junior Camp championship. Boys who received the awards for athletic merit were not confined to these teams, but were given to members of all teams that showed interest by participation.

In the Senior division boys so rewarded were Robert and Gilbert Tibolt, Ross Humphrey, Marvin Axelrod, Robert LeVine, Robert Connolly, Donald Cashin, William Hanson, Ricky Morse, Trafford Malton, George Grant, Charles Mandelstam, Jack Clark, Dick Gleason and Paul Bellefontaine. Junior boys so rewarded were Pete Cummings, Leonard Rudy, Jeffery Haseltine, Billy Kepner, Dick Balsor, Dick Drisko, John Beeten, Peter Spowart, Godfrey Chafer and Sanford Simpson of the Dodgers. Rolfe Hayes, Richard Whitcomb, Doug Burns, Steve Feinberg, Bobby Cashin, Jack Ierardi, Jack Turner, Bob Barnard, Jay Harvey, John Powers, Larry Lynn.

Two-Alarm Fire Destroys Big Dairy Barn

Four Firemen Hurt In $15,000 Newton Centre Blaze

A spectacular two-alarm fire on Monday afternoon destroyed a large dairy barn and damaged a dwelling on the farm of Frank A. and Daniel W. Hurley, milk dealers, on Hurley place off the Worcester Turnpike at Newton Centre. The estimated damage was placed at $15,000. Four firemen were injured when a ladder upon which they had been working for two hours fell. The ladder had been resting against the ruins and when they shifted the ruins collapsed.

Laddermen Louis R. Antonellis, Patrick J. Zeola, and Edward R. Reilly, who were near the top of the 25-foot ladder fell to the ground. Captain Francis Linnehan who was at the foot of the ladder, was injured attempting to prevent the ladder from slipping. The injured men were taken to the Newton Hospital where Antonellis and Zeola were found to be suffering from back injuries. Reilly was injured about the face and Captain Linnehan had an injured foot.

Thirty cows, three horses, and ten pigs were saved from the burning structure before the blaze enveloped the barn. It was the third big fire at the dairy plant in the past twenty-five years. Five years ago lightning struck the building and the fire destroyed the dairy barn after which the structure was rebuilt. In 1916 in an equally intensive blaze 75 cattle perished.

A duplex house about 100 feet from the burning barn caught fire from flying sparks. Mrs. Dorothy Estey, who resides in one part of the house carried out her son, Kenneth, 15 months old and another child James Balaguer, aged four. The burning buildings sent huge volumes of smoke over the area and traffic on the nearby turnpike was impeded for a long time. Police succeeded, however, in keeping the traffic moving.

Among the first to reach the fire was Arnold C. Barker, president of the Newton Safety Council and chief of the Auxiliary Fire Department about 3.30 as he was driving along the turnpike. Donning his fireman's helmet and directing traffic he joined the first fire company to reach the scene in laying hose from hydrants on the turnpike. It was raining when the fire started, from an unknown cause, and the downpour became heavier as the fire progressed. For hours the firemen poured water into the smoldering hay and a detail remained at work all night.

Thomas Fallon of Olde Field rd., an investigator in the Newton Welfare department, discovered the fire and sent in the first telephone call to the fire department (Continued on page 6)

Draftees Selected For Sept. Induction

Local Selective Service Board 113 has notified three selectees to report for induction on Sept. 6th. Lorenzo Mario Tiberio, of 33 Floral st., Newton Highlands, is the only one of the trio that is a volunteer and in the 21-year-old group that registered in July. The other two are Philip Kendall Gilbert of 114 Glenville ave., Allston, and Leonard J. Priore of 20 Hale st., Newton Upper Falls. Gilbert resided in Newton at the time of the draft last October.

Board 114 has notified Joseph Leonard Johnson, Jr., of Depot st., South Duxbury; John Thomas Dunn of 8 Belmont st., Newton and Henry Joseph Sheehan of 21 Fairview st., Newton, to report on the same day. Johnson is a volunteer and in the 21-year-old group.

The six selectees of Board 112 are: Edward Steele, Jr., 23 Bemis st., Robert Posner, 108 Adena rd.; George Monks, 21 Emerson st.; Dominic Arcese, 25 Court st.; Arthur Boyer, 1723 Washington st.; and Norman Cronin, 33 Henshaw st.

School Golfer Wins State Caddy Title

George Curley Celebrates 17th Birthday With 147

George Curley, ace golfer on the Newton high school team, turned in a score of 147 over 36 holes to capture the state caddy championship on Monday of this week at the Furnace Brook Golf Club. The Newton youth, a representative of the Brae Burn Country Club, was celebrating his 17th birthday and was playing on the same course that his father Jack Curley, served as pro for several years until 1932. The elder Curley won the New England Professional title in 1928.

Young Curley is also the youngest winner in the history of the Waltham News-Tribune's annual tri-community junior tourney which he won in 1939 at the age of 14.

In the State caddy tournament the Newton youth got off to a slow start and took 77 strokes over the first 18 holes in the morning round. He set a terrific pace in the afternoon turning in a card of 70. He was one of the first to finish and waited at the clubhouse under considerable tension as his mark was threatened. Jack Harvey and Tom Lynch, Arlington youths, turned in scores of 148 to press Curley and victory for them went glimmering on the last hole. Harvey needed a par four on the final hole but his first shot went out of bounds.

High School Grid Players To Get Suits Wednesday

Faculty manager Ralph M. Sanborn of the Newton High School has announced that candidates for the 1941 football team will be examined and given suits and equipment beginning on Wednesday, Sept. 3rd. As in former years an opening squad of some fifty or sixty boys has been instructed to report and will be given first consideration. This squad will include the veterans from last year's eleven together with candidates of outstanding promise who have shown their ability on the intermediate and junior varsity squads.

Coach Owen McDowell, in his third year at the helm of the Newton grid squad, is looking forward to the coming season with optimism. Until the initial practice it is not definitely known just what veterans are returning. With the beginning of school on Sept. 8th the football squad will be largely increased with several hundred boys being equipped to participate in the several squads Newton provides in the gridiron sport.

City Is First In Auto Safety

Rated in first place in highway safety in Class 2, Newton is praised for the second successive month in the current bulletin of the Mass. Safety Council. "By constant vigilance and persistent work, Newton has attained a month's low in its collision total," the bulletin states. During July there were 27 collisions with injuries to 51 persons. In June there were 34 collisions and in March 50. Newton is given a rating of 38.6 per 100,000 population with Brockton in second place with 56.

Annapolis Appointment Announcement Made by Eliot

Congressman Thomas H. Eliot of Cambridge has announced that the competitive examination for candidates for nomination to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis from the Ninth Massachusetts Congressional District will be held on October 4.

In making this announcement, Congressman Eliot asked that all eligible young men who intend to compete, notify him in writing at his Washington office before September 11.

All Twelve West Newton Rioters Guilty

Four Ringleaders Given Jail Sentences—Others Are Fined

Twelve defendants in the West Newton riot case were found guilty in Newton court at the conclusion of the trial on Tuesday morning before Judge Thomas Weston. Four, accused as being ringleaders of the fray, were sentenced to jail terms ranging up to a year and a half.

Private Robert P. Flaherty, 20, of Fort Wright, N. Y., was sentenced to a year in the House of Correction on a charge of inciting a riot and six months for assault and battery on Patrolman Charles W. Lynch. He appealed and was held in $1,000 bail. John J. Roche, 21, of 430 Cherry st., West Newton, was sentenced to a year for inciting a riot and was fined $25 for disturbing the peace. He also appealed and was held in $1,000 bail. John J. Flaherty, brother of Robert, of 19 Austin st., Newtonville, was sentenced to six months in the House of Correction for assault and battery on Patrolman Leo S. Gagnon. He was fined $25 for disturbing the peace and $10 for drunkenness. He appealed and was held in $500 bail. Edward Hackett, 26, of 941 Washington st., Newtonville, was given a sentence of three months for assault and battery on Patrolman Nils Holmstrand and was fined $25 for disturbing the peace and $10 for drunkenness. He appealed and was held in $500 bail.

The other eight defendants, Edward L. Bradley, 33, of 211 Crafts st., Newtonville; James J. Matthews; James J. McDonald, 26, of 31 Dunstan st., West Newton; Thomas Connolly, 23, of 831 Watertown st., West Newton; Robert Roche, 20, 10 Fernwood rd., West Newton; Francis L. McDonald, 45, of 39 Auburndale ave., West Newton; Philip Scordamalaya, 31, of 21 Harvey Place, West Newton; and Christopher Goumas, 21, of 144 Webster st., West Newton, were fined various amounts up to $25 on various charges which included loitering, disturbing the peace and drunkenness. Bradley, Matthews, and Scordamalaya were given until Sept. 9th to pay their fines. The others appealed and were held in $100 bail.

All of the defendants, testifying in their own defense, denied their guilt, many of them placing themselves in the light of innocent bystanders, asserting that curiosity brought them to the scene of the fracas on the night of Aug. 9th.

John Flaherty told the court that he resisted arrest earlier in the evening because he received no reply when he asked why he was being arrested. He denied striking any police officer as "twisters" were on both hands and added that when he reached police headquarters he was slapped in the face and thrown against the wall. His brother, Robert, said he entered the scene when he heard that his brother had been "beaten up by the cops" and that he had a broken arm. He related that after Sgt. Leehan had informed him his brother was all right that he "started through the crowd and was hit on the head. Dr. Gallagher later stitched my head up." He also denied urging the crowd to storm the jail and insisted that it was only after that he had been clubbed that he was told he was under arrest.

John J. Roche stated that he accompanied Private Flaherty to find out about the brother and the crowd followed. "I suddenly got hit on the head" he said, "and someone picked me up and took me home." He later went to the Waltham Hospital, received treatment and the following day went to Wareham where he was arrested the next Friday by Newton police.

Dr. T. M. Gallagher testified that he treated Private Flaherty for a wound on the side of the head which he said was the result of a fall to the street. He admitted that it was "remotely possible" that the wound had been inflicted by a club before the defendant was arrested.

Newton Legion Guards Retain Honor at Fall River Convention For Third Year Out of Four

Floyd Becomes Acting Mayor

Charles B. Floyd (president of the Newton Board of Aldermen, began a week's vacation ermen, became acting mayor today as Mayor Paul M. Goddard plans to return to his duties at City Hall next Tuesday.

After next Saturday, Newton City Hall will again be open on Saturday mornings. The building was closed on Saturdays during July and August by order of the mayor.

Seek To Regain National Title

Scoring a rating of 97 per cent in competition for the State championship at the annual convention of Massachusetts Legion Posts at Fall River last Saturday the Newton Legion Guards drill team captured its third state title. Retiring from the national competition at last year's Boston convention when the local post was a host unit and thus ineligible the Newton drill team made an auspicious start to regain its national laurels at Milwaukee next month.

The Newton Guards, captained by Joseph J. Ward, 1941 State championship is its third in the past four years. The local unit won its first state honor in 1938 at Worcester, lost to Lynn in 1939 but came back last year at Salisbury and repeated again at Fall River.

In national competition the Guards brought national honors to the city at New York in 1938, repeating at Los Angeles in 1939 and again in 1940 at Chicago.

At Fall River the second best rating to the 97 compiled by the local unit was that of the Cambridge Post, with 89.65.

The Legion Guards recently carried on a successful drive to raise funds to defray the expenses of the forthcoming Milwaukee trip. A series of exhibitions in the various sections of Newton brought more than $800 towards the cost.

Other officers of the team under Captain Ward are Wayne Walcott, first lieutenant; E. J. Carver, second lieutenant; Carl P. Peterson, adjutant and first sergeant; Francis J. Frazier, treasurer; Leo H. Mayer, business and publicity manager; Frederick J. Young, armorer. Included on the roster are J. Campbell, Henry Chandonait, G. Henry Dath, Francis R. Gaw, Warren J. Girroir, Frank Grace, George F. Hennrikus, H. Hurley, Oswald J. McCourt, J. L. McDonald, J. P. McHugh, William J. Maloney, C. P. Manning, B. J. Morrisroe, Austin Morgan, George Parsons, J. J. Pendergast, F. C. Perkins, F. Seiferth, Raymond Taffe, H. Thomas, J. S. Vachon, E. H. White and J. Woodward.

Past Commander J. Sherman Irving of Newton Post was elected senior vice-commander of Middlesex County District 5.

Edward F. Dalton, a member of the executive committee of Newton Post and chairman of the department's legislative committee, was a speaker at the convention. He told of the filing of 3,600 bills and resolves before the last session of the Legislature.

Newton Schools To Open Sept. 8th

The Newton Schools will start their 1941-1942 school year on the Monday following Labor Day, September 8th. Parents new to Newton who have children who are to enter kindergarten or the first six grades should contact the school in the neighborhood Friday, September 5th, or Saturday, September 6th. The entrance age for kindergarten is 4 years 9 months by October 1st, and for first grade, 5 years 9 months by October 1st.

Placement tests for Junior high school pupils who have not previously attended Newton Public Schools will be given Friday, September 5th, in each of the Junior high schools in the city. Parents new to Newton may contact the Junior high school September 2nd, 3rd and 4th.

For boys and girls who wish to enter Grade 10 from private schools, placement tests will be given at 8:30 a. m. on Friday, September 5th, at the High School. Examinations for college preparatory pupils will be given in English, Mathematics, French and Latin. Pupils who wish to enter the business course will be examined in English and Arithmetic. Registration for these tests should be made on Thursday, September 4th, in Room 314 at the High School. Pupils should bring their ninth grade school records with them. Playground Season Ends

The 1941 playground season officially ended last week with the culmination of the summer's activities in the annual field days held at the various play areas of the city. The Recreation Department has curtailed its force by dropping most of the summer workers. The Recreation Commission had hoped to be able to extend the season another week but lack of funds forced the originally scheduled closing last Saturday.

Recreation Commissioner F. Ewing Wilson announced that a skeleton crew would be maintained at each playground and the play areas will be open during the regular hours until the beginning of school on Sept. 8th. Thereafter the playgrounds will be under part time supervision until cold weather.

OPERATES ON DEFENSE

Beginning Tuesday, September 2, when day school reopens, Bryant & Stratton will offer two new Streamlined Defense Courses to train students for business, the defense industries, and Civil or Military Service in the shortest time—about thirty weeks for beginners (just a little over half a year). Advanced students should complete the requirements in shorter time.

These new courses, one Short-hand, the other Business, will enable young people to capitalize on the present demand for men and women with office training. The service wants men with this training. The defense industries want both men and women, and business wants new help for expanded business or to replace people who have gone into the service of the lucrative, but perhaps temporary, government or defense positions.

Not only is this type of training in great demand at the present time, but it will give the student a "trade" to fall back on after the present war activity is

Field Days At Several Playgrounds

Boyd

Activities at the Boyd Playground, Newton, were wound up for the season last Thursday night when the cast of the minstrel show held a dance in the auditorium of the Lincoln-Elliott School.

Decorations in red, white and blue were made by Theresa Pitts, Irene Coakley, Nicholas Bibbo, Jr., and Anne English. In charge of the event were Miss Julia Farrington, Miss Helena Klein, Mrs. Margaret Hills, George King and Mrs. Ragna Hovgaard.

The program included a Cinderella dance, a Conga chain, and a girls' choice. Refreshments were punch, ice cream, cookies and cake.

Upper Falls

More than 1,000 adults and children were present at the annual field day of the Newton Upper Falls Playground last Wednesday evening.

The program opened with "Salute to Flag," led by Robert Harrigan, and the singing of "God Bless America."

Prizes were awarded by John E. Leary, playground district supervisor. Among those attending were Mrs. Louis H. Marshall, chairman of the Recreation Commission, and Commissioner F. Ewing Wilson. Playground directors in charge were Caleb Scully, Margaret Cotter, Albia Savignano and William Powers. Louis Tarabelli, mayor of the playground Boys' Town, received a letter from Mayor Paul M. Goddard, regretting his inability to be present. "Taps" at the conclusion of the program was played by Francis Manning.

Peter Szylkonia was awarded first prize for the boys' handwork and Carl Tarabelli took the second award.

Winners of other events followed:

30-yard dash, boys under 14—Won by Walter Babbins; Robert Hurley, second.

B & A Reduces Train Service

The announced action of the Boston & Albany Railroad in suspending eight trains on the main line, five of which make stops at the four Newton stations, has brought forth strong protests. Attempting to halt the contemplated action the Brotherhood of Railroad Engineers has entered a complaint before the Public Utilities Commission which will hold a hearing on the matter.

The trains which it is proposed to eliminate now stop at Newton, Newtonville, West Newton, and Auburndale stations. Included in the order were No. 33 outbound 4:55 p. m., Sundays only, to Springfield; No. 125, outbound 10:45 p. m., local to Framingham; No. 98, local out of Worcester at 2:50 p. m.; No. 104, local out of Framingham at 5:27 p. m.; No. 114, local out of Worcester at 9:15 p. m. A new train to leave Framingham at 10:05 p. m. and stopping at all Newton stations was to be added to the schedule.

The Brotherhood charged that the service curtailment was not in the interest of national defense but an excuse by the railroad to cut trains for financial reason. A spokesman of the railroad had stated that the road was acting on the request of the OPM at Washington that railroads make an effort to release equipment and to conserve power for national defense work.

Numerous Fines In Auto Complaints

A fine of $25 imposed in the Newton District Court Friday on Charles W. Devlin of Arlington on his second conviction of speeding within a year was suspended by Judge James A. Delay after the defendant informed the court that he had been unemployed. He was, however, required to pay a fine of $5 imposed on a charge of driving without a license.

Philip Eno of Natick was fined $5 for speeding despite his plea that his car was equipped with a governor. Motorcycle Officer John J. McGrath testified that Eno drove at a rate of 40 miles an hour, but the governor held the speed down to 35 M.P.H.

Robert V. Richardson of Roxbury was fined $10 for speeding. Fines of $5 each on speeding charges were imposed on the following: Jonathan C. Ingersoll of Boston, Richard Magnanti of Medford and Robert A. Hedberg of Framingham.

Harris C. Greene of 11 Berkshire rd., Waltham, was fined $5 for failing to stop before entering a through way, while a charge of driving without a license was filed. Ralph E. Kirby of 41 Washington st., Newton, was fined $5 for failing to stop before entering a through way.

The court placed on file charges of failing to stop against the following: Henning E. Nelson of 51A Bennington st., Newton; Joseph F. Kanes of Dorchester; Mildred L. Brand of 175 Ward st., Newton Centre, and George W. Smith, Jr., of 11 Cuba st., Watertown.

Newton Girl In Leading Role at Rockport Theatre

Miss Dynes of 30 Pembroke rd., Newton, well known to Boston and Newton audiences, has one of the leading roles in "Ten Nights in a Bar-Room," presented by the Forbes Theatre in Rockport where she has been appearing in various presentations this season. The success of the Forbes Theatre this season is attributed to Miss Dynes' ability as an actress, which she developed through her work with the Newton Centre Village Players.

Set Hearing Date For One Way Traffic Plan

A battle over traffic regulations near Newton Centre square is scheduled for September 15th, the date of a public hearing assigned by the Board of Aldermen for consideration of a petition seeking to make Summer st., between Beacon and Willow sts., a one-way thoroughfare. The Newton Centre Improvement Association and the Newton Centre Merchants Association are on opposite sides of the question.

The petition is sought by the Improvement Association, but leaves the question as to the direction of the one-way traffic regulation to the Board. It is sought as a means of eliminating a hazardous and congested traffic situation in that business area. The location of the postoffice on Summer st., near the corner of Beacon and Langley rds., draws a large volume of traffic to the section.

The Merchants Association has entered a strong protest against the restriction. Strangely the Board received the protest prior to the petition, the Merchants having learned of the Improvement Association's forthcoming move and prepared to checkmate it.

Police Insist Youth Is Innocent

Two Newton police inspectors journeyed to Manchester, N. H., last week and returned with Lucian H. Dumas, 20, of Centre st., Newton, and Roland H. Cloutier, 19, of Galen st., Watertown, in their custody. The pair were arrested on charges of larceny, and when both pleaded guilty the Newton officers insisted that Dumas was not guilty.

Cloutier told police that he bought a car for $30 some time ago and left it on a New Hampshire farm. Fearing that the car might be stripped or junked he hit upon a plan of taking Maine registration plates belonging to his roommate, Claude Violette, who had formerly owned a car in Maine, but had retained the plates when he disposed of the car.

The plan struck a snag when Manchester police came upon the pair attaching the plates and held them for the Newton officers. Lt. Daniel E. Crowley and Inspector Joseph B. Lyons were sent to bring the youths back.

Lt. Crowley told the court that the police were convinced that Dumas was under the impression Cloutier had permission from Violette to use the plates. Judge James E. Delay thereupon found Dumas not guilty despite his plea and Cloutier was placed on probation until January.

Slow and Swerving Car Attracts Police Attention

Attracted by the slowness of speed by which an automobile crawled through Newton Centre sq. and the fact that it swerved from side to side last Thursday night, Newton police arrested the driver, William P. Hunt of Cambridge on charges of driving under the influence of liquor. The incident occurred in the morning hours and in court the next morning Hunt, an investment broker, was arraigned and his case continued until Sept. 4th. He was held in $300 bail.

Recent Weddings

MORIN—GREELEY

Miss Marion Cleveland Greeley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Greeley of 33 Ashton ave., Newton Centre, and Mr. George Van Norden Morin, son of Mr. and Mrs. George K. Morin of New York, were married in the First Church in Newton, Newton Centre, at 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 23. The Reverend Morron Russell Boynton, D.D., minister of the church and the Rev. Edward T. Sullivan, D.D., rector of Trinity Church in Newton Centre, officiated. Music on the harp and the soft candlelight added to the impressiveness of the scene.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ivory satin gown. Her long veil was trimmed with Irish lace, an heirloom. She carried a shower bouquet of orchids, gardenias and stephanotis. The maid of honor was Miss Ann Witherby of Boston, a cousin of the bride. She wore pink chiffon and carried a bouquet of dark blue delphinium and rubrum lilies. The bridesmaids were Miss Mary-Glenn Burrell of Westfield, N. J., Miss Elinor McIntire of New Gloucester, Me., Miss Dorothy Monsees of Cleveland, O., and Miss Marian Titus of Swampscott. They wore gowns of aqua chiffon and carried bouquets of light delphinium and rubrum lilies.

The best man was Mr. William M. Lee of Kew Gardens, L. I., and the ushers were Mr. William H. Greeley and Mr. John H. Greeley of Newton Centre, brothers of the bride. Mr. John M. Field of Cambridge and Mr. Richard Johnson of Swampscott.

Following the ceremony a reception was held under a marquee in the garden at the home of the bride's parents, where Mr. and Mrs. Morin were assisted in receiving by their parents.

Mrs. Morin is a graduate of Mount Holyoke College, class of 1936, and Mr. Morin of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, class of 1935. Of returning from their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Morin will make their home in Boston.

SUMMERS—SMITH

Miss Sally Bush Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph LeRoy Smith of 97 Garland rd., Newton Centre, was married to Robert Anderson Summers, son of Mrs. Herbert Garfield Summers of Boston on Friday afternoon, August 22, at 3 o'clock in Trinity Church, Newton Centre. Rev. Edward T. Sullivan, D.D., performed the ceremony. The church was decorated with white gladioli and tall candelabra. A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of blush pink satin trimmed at the waist with seed pearls. Her long veil of matching tulle was caught to a coronet of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis. Mrs. William Babb, sister of the bride, of Germantown, Pa., and Mrs. Ralph Smith, sister-in-law of the bride, of Falls Church, Va., were maids of honor and Miss Betty Flandreau of New Rochelle, New York, was maid of honor. They wore gowns of tea rose silk net and carried pink roses, blue larkspur and baby's breath. The bridesmaid, Miss Barbara Hambar of New Rochelle, N. Y., wore American Beauty silk net and carried dark blue larkspur, pink roses and baby's breath.

Hammond Douglass of Worcester was the best man. The ushers were Richard Summers and Henry Summers, brothers of the groom, and Ralph G. Smith, brother of the bride, of Church Falls, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Summers will make their home in North Scituate.

The bride was graduated from the Katharine Gibbs School. The groom attended the New Hampton Preparatory School and was graduated from Cornell University where he was a member of Beta Delta Chi fraternity.

SUTCLIFFE—SHEA

Stately white candles and beautiful white gladioli banked the altar of Saint John's Episcopal Church in Newtonville, for the candlelight wedding service on Saturday afternoon, August the twenty-third, of Marion Shea, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Shea of 82 Randlett Park, West Newton, and James M. Sutcliffe, son of Mrs. Margaret Sutcliffe of 112 Charlesband rd., Newton. Rev. Edward Pearson officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Stuart W. Knox, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Mrs. Palmer H. Riehl, sister of the bride and Miss Charlotte Chelmer were bridesmaids, and Miss Norma Shea, youngest sister of the bride, was ring bearer.

The bride's gown was of lace net over satin with fitted bodice. Her fingertip veil of Queen Anne lace was held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white rosebuds. The matron of honor's gown had a fitted bodice and a bouffant skirt of blue net over blue satin. She carried a bouquet of delphiniums and pink rosebuds. The two bridesmaids wore matching gowns of yellow net over satin, fashioned on Grecian lines with embroidered girdles and heart-shaped necklines. They carried bouquets of pale yellow roses.

The bride's mother wore a blue net afternoon dress with matching Milan straw hat, and a corsage of rosebuds. The groom's mother chose a similar gown and wore a corsage of gardenias.

The young ring bearer wore a princess gown of blue net and a tiara of rosebuds.

A reception followed at the home of the bride.

The bride, a graduate of Boston University, was until her marriage employed by John Hancock Life Ins. Co. of Boston.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Bridgeton Academy and Dartmouth College, is associated with Sutcliffe Motors of Brighton.

He is at present stationed at Camp Devens.

Residents Want Street Built

Residents of Central terrace, Auburndale, have petitioned for the acceptance of that street under the betterment laws. George A. Follett and other property owners on the street are signers of the petition. The Board of Aldermen will assign a public hearing on the matter.

Other public works petitions filed are by John J. McNeil and others for a sewer in Roosevelt rd., Ward 5 from Parker st. to the end; Gerald Murphy and others for a drain and sewer in Theodore rd., Ward 5, from Roosevelt rd. to the Murphy property line; Robert M. Fyfe, for a drain and sewer on Wyman st., Ward 5, from the present sewer extended westerly.

Cyclist Injured In Crash With Dog

Ellsworth E. Atkins, 36, Boston, an employee of a local automobile concern, was severely injured last week Wednesday when the motorcycle which he was operating on Watertown st., near Nevada st., Newtonville, struck a large dog. The motorcyclist was hurled into the air over the handlebars, landing on his head. The dog ran away, apparently unhurt.

Atkins was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance suffering from a severe scalp wound and back injuries.

Atkins made an effort to avoid the animal which ran into his path but was unsuccessful. He was treated at the scene of the accident by Dr. Hyman Shrier before being taken to the hospital.

Newton Boys Take Football Course at Camp Zakelo

At Camp Zakelo, Harrison, Me., Director Zarakov, former Exeter and Harvard star football player, is giving a course in football strategy and fundamentals. Touch football is being played and the Newton contingent at the camp is winning many games, and running away with the new plays and the diagnosis of the "how to do it plays." Among those from Newton participating in the football sessions are Phil Berquist, Bob Ames, Ned Stuart, Allan Burke, Jack Oakey, Buster and Buddy Black, Frank Hapenny, George Pattison, Ken Weeks, David Ellisworth, Robin and Brian Sleep, Tom Derr, Billy Hudson, Jack and Bob Brownell, Don and Horton Meyers.

Two Owners Ordered To Restrain Biting Dogs

James T. Hennessey of 10 Shoreley st., Auburndale, was notified by Newton police last week to restrain his dog on complaint of Edward Bryson of Newell rd. that he had been bitten by the animal.

Robert Cuniff of 393 Brookline st., was notified to restrain his dog after Albert Morse of 20 Old Farm rd. complained that his dog had been bitten by Cuniff's dog.

Painters' Helper Hurt In Fall From Ladder

Harry Lowther, 16, a painter's helper, of 70 Jefferson st., Newton, received injuries to his back and arms last Thursday night when he fell from a ladder at the rear of a block on Washington st., Newton Corner. He was taken to the hospital shortly before 8 o'clock in the police ambulance by Patrolmen James Rogers and Joseph Kerrivan.

Driver Plays Tag With Policeman

A Revere optometrist, Dr. David G. Alpert, played a game of "tag" with Motorcyle officer John F. Fitzsimmons on Newton streets recently and found it an expensive game when Judge James A. Delay imposed a $25 fine in Newton court last week. Alpert was arraigned on a charge of failing to stop on signal of a police officer and a charge of speeding. The latter charge was filed. Officer Fitzsimmons testified that the defendant stopped several times after he blew his whistle but each time started up again just as he walked toward him. The officer finally mounted his motorcycle and gave chase along Commonwealth ave. and Chestnut sts., West Newton, until he overtook it. The officer stated that the defendant told him he "got excited and thought he could get away."

Noisy Burglar In Newton Home

A burglar in the upstairs apartment of Murray P. Depper of 18 St. James st., Newton, got away with his noise-making one recent Sunday night, it was revealed last week, when the Depper family returned from a vacation at Sebago Lake. The family downstairs heard noises above and thought it strange. The burglary was discovered when Mrs. Katherine E. Keating, a friend of the Depper family, entered the apartment a day or so later to water the plants. She found the kitchen door had been jimmied open and the chair which had been placed under the knob had been pushed away. Inspector Philip Purcell was assigned to investigate the case. Patrolman John J. Murray learned that a blond youth about 18 years old had been seen coming out of the driveway beside the house on the Sunday night the noises were heard.

Annual Flower Show Of Lower Falls Garden Club

"Harvest Harmony" will be the theme of the annual flower show which will be held in the new Parish Hall of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Newton Lower Falls, on Sept. 10.

The show will be open to the public from 1:00 to 9:00 P. M. and tea will be served. Mrs. Everett M. Brooks is the general chairman and is assisted by Mrs. Norman Wright, Mrs. Karl Lange, Mrs. Frederic Gilroy, Mrs. Melbourne Hemeon, Jr., and Mrs. Howard Lewis.

Mrs. Melville Ames will have charge of the tea room.

Warren Jr. High

Placement examinations will be given at the Warren Junior High School to pupils new to our Newton Public Schools, who are to enter junior high school grades (Grades 7-9), on Friday, September 5, 1941, beginning at 9 o'clock. Students are asked to report at 8:45 o'clock.

Make-up examinations for students getting incomplete recordings will also be given on Friday, September 5, beginning at 9:00 o'clock. The schedule for make-up examinations is as follows:

9:00—English.
10:10—Mathematics.
11:20—Social Studies.
1:30—Lat'n, French, Junior Business Training, Typewriting.
2:40—Science.

The new school year starts on Monday, September 8. In order that children may be ready to start on the first day without delay, it is advisable that they take these placement examinations.

New pupils should bring transfer and report cards with them when registering.

Day Jr. High

The F. A. Day Junior High School will give placement tests at the school on Friday, September 5, 1941, at 9:00 a. m. This is for all new pupils not yet registered, but does not apply to the seventh graders coming from our elementary schools.

It would be helpful to all concerned if arrangements concerning these tests could be made before the above date. The school office will be open beginning Tuesday, September 2, from 8:30 to 12:00 a. m.

Pupils should bring transfer and report cards with them. Parents are urged to accompany children if possible.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

55 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, Aug. 28, 1886

The steamroller is now at work on Waverley ave. near Washington st., and that portion of the avenue is evidently to be made as smooth as the street department can make it.

1,117 dog licenses have been issued at the city hall so far. License fees are still coming in at the rate of three or four a day.

A Boston paper states that Newton has more churches in proportion to its population than any other city in the commonwealth. They are all of them well supported also.

This part of Newton (Newton Corner) is rapidly losing its suburban character. As land becomes more valuable, owners divide their lots and build between houses that twenty-five years ago were thought to be crowded. In passing through Vernon st., the stakes will be seen for a house on the west side of Dr. L. R. Stone's residence; two houses are in process of erection on a lot on Richardson st., and one was built last season on that street. A few years ago it would have been considered impracticable to build in either of the places named. The time is probably not far distant when every 100-foot lot will be divided and a new house sandwiched in.

Auburndale people are rejoicing over the commencement of the tunnel and the great convenience it will prove when completed.

Mrs. J. Q. Adams on Grove st. has in front of his tasteful cottage a remarkable display of General Grant geraniums, planted in the form of a cross. There are a hundred and ten flourishing plants, on which can often be counted three or four hundred brilliant scarlet blossoms.

Mr. Bartholemew Wood, Homer st., has been growing some fine Gravenstein apples in his garden, some of them having a girth of ten and a half inches.

A barge line between the Upper Falls and Highlands depot has commenced running by Charles B. Edes. Single fare twenty cents, or twenty-ride ticket for one dollar.

The committee on the foot bridge (Newton Lower Falls) have reported plans and it was voted to give them full power to go ahead and construct the bridge. Work will begin as soon as arrangements can be made.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, Aug. 28, 1891. The residents of the western slope of Mount Ida were treated to one of the grandest of sights last Tuesday evening. The sunset was gorgeous.

The phenomenal growth of sweet peas this year is recognized by one of our amateur gardeners, who kept splicing his poles and now has to use a stepladder to pick the blossoms.

It takes a very skillful person now to drive about Newton streets. If you wish to go from Eldridge st. to Bennington st. for instance, and have a horse that is afraid of the steam engine on Church st., it is only necessary to go round by Newton Centre and you will have a lovely ride instead of the few rods it would be necessary to go were it not for the sewer.

P. A. Murray is to send one of his handsome surreys, similar to the one made for Mr. Bush, to the New England Fair at Worcester. If good workmanship and beauty are considered, Mr. Murray will be sure of a prize.

Arthur Porter departed this week for Philadelphia and will be one of the contestants in the 25-mile road race. He is in good form and has been riding very fast this season. He hopes that the other competitors will be "out of sight" at the finish.

Mr. Alexander Griswold was presented with a handsome meerschaum pipe this week, the gift of Mr. George Cook.

A poor aged horse, supposed to be 45 years old, which had been dragging around an aged couple, possible witnesses of the revolutionary struggle, last Saturday, meandered rather unsteadily up to the trough in the (Newtonville) square, took a feeble drink, and then sank down exhausted. It was about an hour before the animal felt equal to the task of resuming the journey.

Officer Fletcher on Wednesday morning asked two young men a few questions and not liking their answers he telephoned to an officer at Needham, and soon learned that a heavy ulster coat (and the young man had one) had just been stolen there. The county is now boarding them at Dedham.

Miss Mamie Brice of this village (Upper Falls) is receiving many congratulations of late on an improvement for holding an infant in a high chair, and preventing it being pushed over by the occupant. She has secured a pattern and the invention is something that will become a necessity in a majority of families.

The improvements on Mr. Beriah Billings' residence, High st., have been completed and a new coat of paint finishes the work.

Newton assessors list 1974 automobiles with total value of $1,518,550. 818 cars assessed for $450 or less; 554 cars between $500 and $950; 602 cars over $1,000 (average of this latter group is $1562 per car). Average value of all cars is $769.

Nomination papers for September primary were filed by many candidates and registrars of voters certify names.

Charles Lawrence, long a resident of Newton, dies from injuries suffered from being hit by automobile near his summer residence at Brant Rock.

Dr. George Francis Curtis, chairman of the Board of Health, issues statement regarding infantile paralysis stating that because of only four cases since July 1st that the Board did not recommend the postponement of the opening of the public schools.

A number of Newton young men are actively engaged in the Field Service of the American Ambulance Hospital at Neuilly, France. Among them are Eustace L. Adams of Newtonville, David B. Douglas of West Newton, Walter Lovell of Newtonville, Philip R. Morris of Chestnut Hill and J. R. Osgood Perkins of West Newton. Mr. Lovell has a position as assistant section director.

Several Thefts Are Reported To Police

Cigars and cigarettes, valued at $3 were stolen from the home of Charles Chapin, 33 Waban Hill rd., last Thursday. The thief or thieves left behind a flashlight, together with two spare batteries. The burglars entered the house through an unlocked cellar window and confined their activities to the cellar as the door to the upstairs was locked. The flashlight was found in the recreation room by Mrs. Chapin. An unsuccessful effort had been made to open another cellar window equipped with a safety lock. The burglary took place sometime Wednesday before evening when occupants of the house returned. Inspector Philip Purcell and Patrolman Joseph H. Charlton were assigned to investigate the case.

John Flaherty of Watertown reported to Newton police last Friday that his automobile window had been forced open and $7 in pennies stolen from the machine while parked near Norumbega Park, Auburndale.

K. D. McCutcheon of 29 Highland ave., Newtonville, reported to police that a yellow jacket had been stolen from his car while parked on Washington st., West Newton, near Elm st.

A pair of khaki pants was stolen from John A. McDonald of Waltham while the latter was working at 845 Beacon st., Newton Centre last week. McDonald had laid the pants aside when he changed into his working clothes. His license, registration, union card, social security card and some small change were in the trousers pockets.

Austin Shea of Philbrick rd., Newton Centre, told police that an electric ventilator, valued at $12, was stolen from the house at 572 Dedham st., Newton Centre, which he owns.

—Two Alarm Fire

at 3.42. Engines 3 and 9 and Ladder 2 were detailed to the scene. At 3.41 an alarm was sounded from Box 928 and Engine 7 responded. Deputy Chief Henry T. Seacer ordered a second alarm at 3.48 and the firemen at the scene were re-enforced by Engines 1, 4 and 6 and Ladder 1.

Because of the necessity of raking over most of the 100 tons of hay stored in the barn, which continued to smoulder, the work of the detail of firemen on duty was not completed until 1:21 p. m. on Tuesday.

Chief Clarence W. Randlett who returned from his vacation the day previous directed the firefighters.

First to reach the fire were two men who alighted from their oil truck on the turnpike and rushing to the burning structure led out the livestock. They were joined in the rescue work by Joseph Hurley and his sons, John, 16, Robert, 13 and Richard 11 who had been working in a nearby field. The Hurleys had devoted many days to harvesting the big hay crop that was destroyed by the fire. The cause of the fire was not determined and an investigation is being conducted. The owners told officials that on frequent occasions that they had had to warn trespassing children away.

Firemen spent an hour and a half last Thursday afternoon extinguishing a fire in the dump on Elliot st., Newton Highlands. Engine 7 responded to an alarm at 2.40 p. m., returning to quarters at 4.15.

—Injured

Markos car were injured with two remaining at the hospital. Mrs. Masury struck her head and was slightly injured.

The Markos car was the most severely damaged with the motor knocked off its base and shoved almost into the interior of the car. The entire left side was badly smashed and the front seat pushed forward and buckled under the dashboard. The Swane car was also badly damaged with the chassis askew, the whole car sprung and the front crushed in. The Masury car was seriously damaged, but the least of the three.

Opposes Changing
Course of Brook
To Drain Land

A proposal to relocate Saw Mill Brook in order to drain a large swamp section at Oak Hill has struck a snag in the opposition of a property owner, James H. Goddard of 116 Vine st., whose land borders the brook. The Newton engineering department has prepared plans for straightening the course of the brook as well as deepening it. The project would drain the nearby swamp covering about 30 acres in Newton and a large area in Brookline and Roxbury.

Goddard's opposition is based largely on the contention that the brook enhances the appearance of his property. In a letter to the city, protesting the relocation of the brook, he suggests that the present course of the stream be deepened. Copies of his letter of protest were sent to Arnold Hartmann, trustee of the Bald Pate Hill Realty Trust, one of the owners of the land that would be improved; Mayor Paul M. Goddard, the Board of Aldermen, the Oak Hill Improvement Association, City Engineer Ernest H. Harvey, and his attorney, Robert T. Bushnell.

He stated his objection as a taxpayer to the $15,000 expenditure and quoted Shedd and Constance Vandenberg, abutters, as also objecting to any betterments which might be assessed against them. He also expressed the fear that during the course of the work the sewer connection to his property might be damaged. He added that if the city is desirous of spending money for improving the section that water service should be provided for the three houses in the Vine st. district which must now obtain their water supply from artesian wells. Because of the resulting "damage" to his property he refused to sign the legal releases sought of the property owners of the area.

—Rioters Guilty

fendant fell to the street. Hackett complained that the assault and battery charge against him was brought two weeks after his arrest for drunkenness and disturbing the peace.

The trial opened on Saturday morning and at noon was suspended to Tuesday. The hearing opened about 9:30 before a crowd of spectators that overflowed into the corridors. Patrolmen Leo S. Gagnon, James L. Cunningham, Charles W. Lynch and Sergeant Thomas Leehan described the rioting and fray to the court. They were cross-examined by counsel for some of the defendants.

Patrolman Gagnon, who was pictured as the intended victim of the wrath of the crowd estimated at from 150 to 200 in number, was the first witness. He told how he approached four men near the West Newton theatre and tried to arrest one of them for drunkenness. As he seized his prisoner another of the group, John J. Flaherty, struck him on the right arm. Letting go of his prisoner he started after Flaherty who fled into a nearby beer parlor. Gagnon entered and was met by a menacing group. He then arrested Edward L. Bradley.

Gagnon and Patrolman Cunningham related how they found John Flaherty a half hour later on Washington st. and the latter put up a "terrific battle." Cunningham said that Flaherty kicked and fought while a large crowd gathered, some of them warning, "don't pull your clubs or we'll all get into it." Patrolman Lynch stated that he put the "iron claw" on Flaherty's left hand. "There was also a claw on his right hand but he complained that it hurt and it was removed."

Patrolmen Lynch and Cunningham stated that Sergeant Leehan warned Private Flaherty at 11:30 to go home and when he started in the opposite direction he was arrested. This incident set off the big riot which occurred opposite the police station.

Lynch then told the court how he was hit a dozen times, kicked, and his pants torn. He stated that Private Flaherty hit him in the side of the face and that both he and Sergeant Leehan were knocked to the ground. "I took my club out" but when the sergeant said not to use sticks "I put it back."

Sergeant Leehan related how he tried to pacify the crowd at the part at Putnam st. but in vain. He testified that John Roche and Robert Flaherty were the spokesmen with Flaherty saying "we'll get Gagnon before the night is over" and Roche saying, "why not now." He said that when the riot started there about 1000 people in the square and traffic was tied up.

Francis L. McDonald was the only defendant to testify on Saturday. He stated that he works nights and alighted from a bus at West Newton sq. about 12:50 a. m., meeting an officer who told him there was trouble in the square. Continuing on his way home he met Patrolman George McNeil who ordered him to move on. He walked on a ways, took out his pipe and finding he had no matches returned to obtain some when Officer McNeil arrested him. He concluded stating that he was a married man with three children and was entitled to be protected, not arrested.

When Judge Weston announced a continuation of the cases to Tuesday counsel for Private Flaherty requested that court reconvene on Monday as the soldier was on special leave from Fort Wright. Judge Weston replied that the soldier would have no more to answer for than he had already and that he could tell his superiors the court ordered him to be in Newton on Tuesday.

West Newton Residents

"Adopt" British War Victim

Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Carter of 11 Forest ave., West Newton, have "adopted" Leslie Armstrong, 11-year-old British boy through the Foster Parents' Plan for War Children. Announcement was made through Mrs. Edna Blue, executive chairman of the American headquarters of the Plan in New York City. The Plan is operating 25 children's sanctuaries in England at the present time.

The British boy's home was destroyed during a heavy air raid. On the fateful evening, although there was a shelter in the back yard, his parents took refuge in a public shelter. The family shelter was blown to bits with Leslie's aunt, uncle and cousin being killed. The boy's father does war work on the Liverpool docks and despite the loss of their home the Armstrongs are cheerful and happy, accepting their losses bravely. Leslie plans to become a soldier and win the war.

—Camp Banquet

Camp Day dramatic season was held on last Saturday night. Under the direction of Albert Barnard the entire production of songs, gags, and features contributed to the best Saturday night of the season. Mr. Kenneth Dale, General Secretary, was the guest interlocutor, and Thomas F. O'Donnell was the interlocutor sharing roles with Mr. Dale.

Highlights of the show were the riotously radio push-button skit along the line of Fred Waring's idea. Carter Munsie, Albert Barnard and Bob Worrick were the announcers in the skit; the singing of Bob Desautels and the antics as well as jokes of the End Men. The latter were Bob and Dick Worrick, Bill Bucklin, Dr. John Finn, Sheldon Jenkins and Max Kraus.

Soloists in addition to Desautels were Sam Lindsay, Albert Barnard, Dick Worrick and Max Kraus. Sheldon Jenkins received tremendous applause for his trumpet rendition of "Stardust." A new camp song, written by Barnard, closed the evening's show.

Final Swim Meet

Interest was at a new high Saturday afternoon as the final swim meet of the season opened at the camp waterfront. If the Red Sox of the Senior League succeeded in defeating the Yankees, the former team would have been the all-around champion team of the league. However, the Red Sox, led by Ross Humphries, fell victim to the Yankees whose George Grant was individual high scorer of the meet.

In the Junior League the Reds won by a fraction of a point over the high-flying Dodgers by placing three men in the dives, the final event of the meet. Bobby Cashion of the Reds was individual high-scorer by registering a first in the dives, a second in the distance swim, and a third in the underwater swim. Randy Hayes led the Midget Camp by capturing a first in the 25-yard dash and a second in the distance swim.

Junior League

25-yard dash—1, Powers; 2, Nichols; 3, Turner.
Distance swim—1, Spowart; 2, Cashion; 3, Feinberg.

Distance swim—1, Kepner; 2, Hayes; 3, Lipkin.
Dives—1, Calder; 2, Lipkin, White tied.

Canoe Regatta

Dick Smith of Summit, New Jersey led the Red Sox to a close victory over the Yankees in the final Canoe Regatta, and captured high scoring honors in the Senior League. Doug Burns, John Beeten and Billy Kepner tied for individual honors in the Junior League, but the former's team was the first place winner in the team competition. Al Lipkin took two firsts in the Midget Division for individual honors.
